Deuteronomy

The Covenant Setting

1:1 This is what Moses said to the assembly of Israel in the Transjordanian wastelands, the arid country opposite Suph, between Paran and Tophel, Laban, Hazeroth, and Di Zabaḥ. Now it is ordinarily an eleven-day journey from Horeb to Kadesh Barnea by way of Mount Seir. However, it was not until the first day of the eleventh month of the fortieth year that Moses addressed the Israelites just as the Lord had instructed him to do. This took place after the defeat of King Sihon of the Amorites, whose capital was in Heshbon, and King Og of Bashan, whose capital was in Ashtaroth, specifically in Edrei. So it was in the Transjordan, in Moab, that Moses began to deliver these words:

Events at Horeb

1:6 The Lord our God spoke to us at Horeb and said, “You have stayed in the area of this mountain long enough. 1:7 Get up now, resume your journey, heading for the Amorite hill country, to all its areas including the arid country, the highlands, the Shephelah, the Negev, and the coastal plain—all of Canaan and Lebanon as far as the Great River, that is, the Euphrates. 1:8 Look! I have already given the land to you. Go, occupy the territory that I, the Lord, promised to give to your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and to their descendants.” I also said to you at that time, “I am no longer able to sustain you by myself. 1:10 The Lord your God has increased your population to the point that you are now as...
Disobedience at Kadesh Barnea

1:26 You were not willing to go up, however, but instead rebelled against the Lord your God. 1:27 You complained among yourselves privately and said, “Because the Lord hates us he brought us from Egypt to deliver us over to the Amorites so they could destroy us! 1:28 What is going to happen to us? Our brothers have drained away our courage by describing people who are more numerous and taller than we are, and great cities whose defenses appear to be as high as heaven itself! Moreover, they said they saw the Amorites, who are giant people (Num 13:33; Deut 2:10, 12; 9:2) descended from a certain Anak whose own forefather Arba founded the city of Kiriat Arba, i.e., Hebron (Josh 21:11).

Instructions at Kadesh Barnea

1:18 So I instructed you at that time regarding everything you should do. 1:19 Then we left Horeb and passed through all that immense, forbidding wilderness that you saw on the way to the Amorite hill country as the Lord our God had commanded us to do, finally arriving at Kadesh Barnea. 1:20 Then I said to you, “You have come to the Amorite hill country which the Lord our God is about to give us. 1:21 Look, he has placed the land in front of you! Go up, take possession of it, just as the Lord, the God of your ancestors, said to do. Do not be afraid or discouraged!” 1:22 So all of you approached me and said, “Let’s send some men ahead of us to scout out the land and bring us back word as to how we should attack it and what the cities are like there.” 1:23 I thought this was a good idea, so I sent twelve men from among you, one from each tribe. 1:24 They left and went up to the hill country, coming to the Eshcol Valley, which they scouted out. 1:25 Then they took some of the produce of the land and carried it back down to us. They also brought a report to us, saying, “The land that the Lord our God is about to give us is good.”

1. The Hebrew participle has an imminent future sense here, although many English versions treat it as a present tense (“is giving us,” NAB, NIV, NRSV) or a predictive future (“will give us,” NCV).
2. The Hebrew participle “the mouth of the Lord your God.” The pronoun (“he”) has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons, to avoid repetition.
3. “the mouth of the Lord your God.” To include “the mouth” would make for odd English style. The mouth stands by metonymy for the Lord’s command, which in turn represents the Lord himself.

This he did everywhere you went until you came to this very place.” 1:32 However, through all this you did not have confidence in the LORD your God, 1:33 the one who was constantly going before you to find places for you to set up camp. He appeared by fire at night and cloud by day, to show you the way you ought to go.

Judgment at Kadesh Barnea

1:34 When the LORD heard you, he became angry and made this vow:5 1:35 “Not a single person6 of this evil generation will see the good land that I promised to give to your ancestors! 1:36 The exception is Caleb son of Jephunneh;7 he will see it and I will give him and his descendants the territory on which he has walked, because he has wholeheartedly followed me.” 1:37 As for me, the LORD was also angry with me on your account. He said, “You also will not be able to go there. 1:38 However, Joshua son of Nun, your assistant,9 will go. Encourage him, because he will enable Israel to inherit the land.10 1:39 Also, your infants, who you thought would die on the way,12 and your children, who as yet do not know good from bad,12 will go there; I will give them the land and they will possess it. 1:40 But as for you,13 turn back and head for the desert by the way to the Red Sea.”14

Unsuccessful Conquest of Canaan

1:41 Then you responded to me and admitted, “We have sinned against the LORD. We will now go up and fight as the LORD our God has told us to do.” So you each put on your battle gear and prepared to go up to the hill country. 1:42 But the LORD told me: “Tell them this: ‘Do not go up and fight, because I will not be with you and you will be defeated by your enemies.’” 1:43 I spoke to you, but you did not listen. Instead you rebelled against the LORD16 and recklessly went up to the hill country. 1:44 The Amorite inhabitants of that area16 confronted you and chased you like a swarm of bees, striking you down from Seir as far as Hormah.18 1:45 Then you came back and wept before the LORD, but he19 paid no attention to you whatsoever. 1:46 Therefore, you remained at Kadesh for a long time — indeed, for the full time.21

The Journey from Kadesh Barnea to Moab

2:1 Then we turned and set out toward the desert land on the way to the Red Sea22 just as the LORD told me to do, detouring around Mount Seir for a long time. 2:2 At this point the LORD said to me, 2:3 “You have circled around this mountain long enough; now turn north. 2:4 Instruct23 these people as follows: ‘You are about to cross the border of your relatives24 the descendants of Esau,25 who inhabit Seir. They will

1 tn Heb “do not tremble and do not be afraid.” Two synonymous commands are combined for emphasis.

2 tn The Hebrew participle indicates imminent future action here, though some English versions treat it as a predictive future (“will go ahead of you,” NCV; cf. also TEV, CEV).

3 tn Heb “according to all which he did for you in Egypt before your eyes.”

4 tn Heb “the Lord your God.” The pronoun (“him”) has been employed in the translation for stylistic reasons.

5 tn Heb “and swore,” i.e., made an oath or vow.

6 tn Heb “not a man among these men.”

7 sn Caleb and Joshua, brought back from Israel a minor report from Canaan urging a conquest of the land, for he was confident of the LORD’s power (Num 13:6, 8, 16, 30; 14:30, 38).

8 tn Heb “the Lord.” The pronoun (“me”) has been employed in the translation, since it sounds strange to an English reader for the Lord to speak about himself in third person.

9 tn Heb “the one who stands before you”; NAB “your aide”; TEV “your helper.”

10 tn Heb “it”; the referent (the land) has been specified in the translation for clarity.

11 tn Heb “would be a prey.”

12 sn Do not know good from bad. This is a figure of speech called a merism (suggesting a whole by referring to its extreme opposites). Other examples are the tree of “the knowledge of good and evil” (Gen 2:5), the boy who knows enough “to reject the wrong and choose the right” (Isa 7:16; 8:4); and those who “cannot tell their right hand from their left” (Jonah 4:11). A young child is characterized by lack of knowledge.

13 tn The Hebrew pronoun is plural, as are the following verbs, indicating that Moses and the people are addressed (note v. 41).

14 tn Heb “the Reed Sea.” “Reed” is a better translation of the Hebrew נֵפָר (ne’er), traditionally rendered “red.” The name “Red Sea” is based on the LXX which referred to it as ἁρδοκής θαλάσσης (arthokhos thalassēs, “red sea”). Nevertheless, because the body of water in question is known in modern times as the Red Sea, this term was used in the translation. The part of the Red Sea in view here is not the one crossed in the exodus but its eastern arm, now known as the Gulf of Elat or Gulf of Aqaba.

15 tn Heb “the mouth of the LORD.” See note at 1:26.

16 tn Heb “in that hill country,” repeating the end of v. 43.

17 tn Heb “came out to meet.”

18 sn Hormah is probably Khirbet el-Meshash, 5.5 mi (9 km) west of Arad and 7.5 mi (12 km) SE of Beer Sheba. Its name is a derivative of the verb קָרָע (k’rā‘), “to ban; to exterminate.” See Num 21:3.

19 tn Heb “the Lord.” The pronoun (“he”) has been employed in the translation here for stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy.

20 tn Heb “did not hear your voice and did not turn an ear toward you.”

21 tn Heb “like the days which you lived.” This refers to the rest of the forty-year period in the desert before Israel arrived in Moab.

22 tn Heb “Reed Sea.” See note on the term “Red Sea” in Deut 1:40.

23 tn Heb “command” (so KJV, NASB); NRSV “charge the people as follows.”

24 tn Heb “brothers”; NAB “your kinsmen.”

25 sn The descendants of Esau (Heb “sons of Esau”; the phrase also occurs in 2:8, 12, 22, 29). These are the inhabitants of the land otherwise known as Edom, south and east of the Dead Sea. Jacob’s brother Esau had settled there after be afraid of you, so watch yourselves carefully. 2:5 Do not be hostile toward them, because I am not giving you any of their land, not even a footprint, for I have given Mount Seir\(^4\) as an inheritance for Esau. 2:6 You may purchase\(^2\) food to eat and water to drink from them. 2:7 All along the way I, the LORD your God,\(^3\) have blessed your every effort.\(^4\) I have\(^5\) been attentive to\(^6\) your travels through this great wasteland. These forty years I have\(^7\) been with you; you have lacked for nothing.\(^8\)

2:8 So we turned away from our relatives\(^8\) the descendants of Esau, the inhabitants of Seir, turning from the desert route,\(^9\) from Elat\(^10\) and Ezion Geber,\(^11\) and traveling the way of the Moab wastelands. 2:9 Then the LORD said to me, “Do not harass Moab and provoke them to war, for I will not give you any of their land as your territory. This is because I have given Ar\(^22\) to the descendants of Lot\(^23\) as their possession. 2:10 (The Emites\(^14\) used to live there, a people as his bitter strife with Jacob (Gen 36:1-8). “Edom” means “red,” probably because of the red sandstone of the region, but also by popular etymology because Esau, at birth, was red. (Gen 25:25).

\(^1\) sn Mount Seir is synonymous with Edom.

\(^2\) tn Heb includes “with silver.”

\(^3\) tn The Hebrew text does not have the first person pronoun; it has been supplied for purposes of English style (the Lord is speaking here).

\(^4\) tn Heb “all the work of your hands.”

\(^5\) tn Heb “he has.” This has been converted to first person in the translation in keeping with English style.

\(^6\) tn Heb “known” (so ASV, NASB); NAB “been concerned about.”

\(^7\) tn Heb “the LORD your God has.” This has been replaced in the translation by the first person pronoun (“I”) in keeping with English style.

\(^8\) or “brothers”; NRSV “our kin.”

\(^9\) tn Heb “the way of the Arabah” (so ASV); NASB, NIV “the Arabah road.”

\(^10\) sn Elat was a port city at the head of the eastern arm of the Red Sea, that is, the Gulf of Aqaba (or Gulf of Elat). Solomon (1 Kgs 9:28), Uzziah (2 Kgs 14:22), and Ahaz (2 Kgs 16:5-6) used it as a port but eventually it became the main part of Edom. It may be what is known today as Tell el-Kheleifeh. Modern Elat is located further west along the northern coast. See G. Pratto, “Nelson Glueck’s 1938-1940 Excavations at Tell el-Kheleifeh: A Reappraisal,” BASOR 259 (1985): 1-32.

\(^11\) sn Ezion Geber. A place near the Gulf of Aqaba, Ezion-geber must be distinguished from Elat (cf. 1 Kgs 9:26-28; 2 Chr 8:17-18). It was, however, also a port city (1 Kgs 22:48-49). It may be the same as the modern site Gezirat al-Fauran, 15 mi (24 km) south-southwest from Tell el-Kheleifeh.

\(^12\) sn Ar was a Moabite city on the Arnon River east of the Dead Sea. It is mentioned elsewhere in the “Book of the Wars of Yahweh” (Num 21:15; cf. 21:28; Isa 15:1). Here it is synonymous with the whole land of Moab.

\(^13\) sn The descendants of Lot. Following the destruction of the cities of the plain, Sodom and Gomorrah, as God’s judgment, Lot fathered two sons by his two daughters, namely, Moab and Ammon (Gen 19:30-38). Thus, these descendants of Lot in and around Ar were the Moabites.

\(^14\) sn Emrites. These giant people, like the Anakites (Deut 1:28), were also known as Rephaites (v. 11). They appear elsewhere in the narrative of the invasion of the kings of the east where they are said to have lived around Shaveh Kiria-thaim, perhaps 9 to 11 mi (15 to 18 km) east of the north end of the Dead Sea (Gen 14:5).

\(^15\) sn Rephaites. The earliest reference to this infamous giant race is, again, in the story of the invasion of the eastern kings (Gen 14:5). They lived around Ashteroth Karnaim, probably modern Tell Ashurah (cf. Deut 1:4), in the Bashan plateau east of the Sea of Galilee. Og, king of Bashan, was a Rephaite (Deut 3:11; Josh 12:4; 13:12). Other texts speak of them or their kinfolk in both Transjordan (Deut 2:20; 3:13) and Canaan (Josh 11:21-22; 14:12, 15; 15:13-14; Judg 1:20; 1 Sam 17:4; 1 Chr 20:4-8). They also appear in extra-biblical literature, especially in connection with the city state of Ugarit. See C. L’Heureux, “Ugaritic and Biblical Rephaim,” HTR 67 (1974): 265-74.

\(^16\) sn Horites. Most likely these are the same as the well-known people of ancient Near Eastern texts described as Hurrians. They were geographically widespread and probably non-Semitic. Genesis speaks of them as the indigenous peoples of Edom that Esau expelled (Gen 36:19). Esau expelled (Gen 36:19; 31-43) and also as among those who confronted the kings of the east (Gen 14:6).

\(^17\) in Modern English versions, beginning with the ASV (1901), regard vv. 10-12 as parenthetical to the narrative.

\(^18\) sn Wadi Zered. Now known as Wadi el-Hesa, this valley marked the boundary between Moab to the north and Edom to the south.

\(^19\) tn Heb “we crossed the Wadi Zered.” This has been translated as “we did so” for stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy.

\(^20\) tn Heb “from the middle of.” Although many recent English versions leave this expression untranslated, the point seems to be that these soldiers did not die in battle but “within the camp.”

\(^21\) tn Heb “and it was when they were eliminated, all the men of war, aside from the midst of the people.”

\(^22\) sn Ar. See note on this word in Deut 2:9.

\(^23\) sn Lot’s descendants. See note on this phrase in Deut 2:9.
2:20 (That also is considered to be a land of the Rephaim). The Rephaim lived there originally; the Ammonites call them Zamzummites. They are a people as powerful, numerous, and tall as the Anakites. But the Lord destroyed the Rephaim in advance of the Ammonites, so they dispossessed them and settled down in their place. This is exactly what he did for the descendants of Esau who lived in Seir when he destroyed the Horites before them so that they could dispossess them and settle in their area to this very day. As for the Avvites who lived in settlements as far west as Gaza, Captoritites who came from Crete destroyed them and settled down in their place.)

2:24 “Get up, make your way across Wadi Arnon. Look! I have already delivered over to you Sihon the Amorite, king of Heshbon, and his land. Go ahead! Take it! Engage him in war! This very day I will begin to fill all the people of the earth with dread and to terrify them when they hear about you. They will shiver and shake in anticipation of your approach.”

Defeat of Sihon, King of Heshbon

2:26 Then I sent messengers from the Kedemoth Desert to King Sihon of Heshbon with an offer of peace: “Let me pass through your land; I will keep strictly to the roadway. I will not turn aside to the right or the left. Sell me food for cash so that I can eat and sell me water to drink. Just allow me to go through on foot, just as the descendants of Esau who live at Seir and the Moabites who live in Ar did for me, until I cross the Jordan to the land the Lord our God is giving us.” But King Sihon of Heshbon was unwilling to allow us to pass near him because the Lord our God had made him obstinate and stubborn so that he might deliver him over to you this very day. The Lord said to me, “Look! I have already begun to give over Sihon and his land to you. Start right now to take his land as your possession.” When Sihon and all his troops emerged to encounter us in battle at Jahaz, the Lord our God delivered him over to us and we struck him down, along with his sons and everyone else. At that time we seized all his cities and put every one of them under divine judgment, including even the women and children; we left no survivors. We kept only the livestock and plunder from the cities for ourselves. From Aror, which is at the edge of Wadi Arnon (it is the city in the wadi), all the way to Gilead there was not a town able to resist us—the Lord our God gave them all to us. However, you did not approach the land of the Ammonites, the Wadi Jabbok, the cities of the hill country, or any place else forbidden by the Lord our God.

1 sn Rephaim. See note on this word in Deut 2:11.
2 sn Zamzummites. Just as the Moabites called Rephaim by the name Emites, the Ammonites called them Zamzummites (or Zazites; Gen 14:5).
3 tn Heb “them”; the referent (the Rephaim) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
4 tn Heb “them”; the referent (the Ammonites) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
5 sn Avvites. Otherwise unknown, these people were probably also Anakite (or Rephaite) giants who lived in the lower Mediterranean coastal plain until they were expelled by the Captoritites.
6 sn Captoritites. These peoples are familiar from both the OT (Gen 10:14; 1 Chr 1:12; Jer 47:4; Amos 9:7) and ancient Near Eastern texts (Miriam Lichtheim, Ancient Egyptian Literature, 2:37-38; ANET 138). They originated in Crete (OT “Caphtor”) and are identified as the ancestors of the Philistines (Gen 10:14; Jer 47:4).
7 tn Heb “Caphtor”; the modern name of the island of Crete is used in the translation for clarity (cf. NOV, TEV, NLT).
8 sn Heshbon is the name of a prominent site (now Tell Hashbon, about 7.5 mi [12 km] south southwest of Amman, Jordan). Sihon made it his capital after having driven Moab from the area and forced them south to the Arnon (Num 21:26-30); Heshbon is also mentioned in Deut 1:4.
9 tn Heb “under heaven” (so NIV, NRSV).
10 tn Heb “from before you.”
11 sn Kedemoth. This is probably Aidyan, about 8 mi (13 km) north of the Arnon and between Dibon and Mountaanah.
12 tn Heb “in the way in the way” (יִבְנֵי תֶּרֶס, bađerekh bađerekh). The repetition lays great stress on the idea of resolute determination to stick to the path.
13 tn Heb “silver.”
14 tn Heb “and water for silver give to me so that I may drink.”
15 to The translation follows the LXX in reading the first person pronoun, the MT, followed by many English versions, has a second person masculine singular pronoun, “you.”
16 sn Heb “hardened his spirit” (so KJV, NASB, NRSV); NIV “made his spirit stubborn.”
17 tn Heb “made his heart obstinate” (so KJV, NASB); NRSV “made his heart defiant.”
18 tn Heb “into your hand.”
19 tn Heb “people”.
21 tc The translation follows the Qere or marginal reading; the Ketib (consonantal text) has the singular, “his son.”
22 tn Heb “all his people.”
23 tn Heb “every city of men.” This apparently identifies the cities as inhabited.
24 sn Heb “under the ban” (ךְ֥נָה, nukhran). The verb employed is נַחֲרֵם (nokhram, usually in the Hiphil) and the associated noun is נַחֲרֶה (nokhreḥem). See J. Naudé, NIDOTTE, 2:276-77, and, for a more thorough discussion, Susan Niditch, War in the Hebrew Bible, 28:77.
25 sn Divine judgment refers to God’s designation of certain persons, places, and things as objects of his special wrath and judgment because, in his omniscience, he knows them to be impure and hopelessly unrepentant.
26 tn Aror. Now known as ‘Arir, northern part of the Arnon River, Aror marked the southern limit of Moab and, later, of the allotment of the tribe of Reuben (Josh 13:9, 16).
27 tn Heb “the city in the wadi.” This enigmatic reference may refer to Ar or, more likely, to Aror itself. Epexegetically the text might read, “From Aror... that is, the city in the wadi.” See D. L. Christensen, Deuteronomy 1–11 (WBC), 49.
27 sn Wadi Jabbok. Now known as the Zerqa River, this is a major tributary of the Jordan that normally served as a boundary between Ammon and Gad (Deut 3:16).
Defeat of King Og of Bashan

3:1 Next we set out on the route to Bashan, but King Og of Bashan and his whole army came out to meet us in battle at Edrei. 3:2 The LORD, however, said to me, “Don’t be afraid of him because I have already given him, his whole army, and his land to you. You will do him exactly what you did to King Sihon of the Amorites who lived in Heshbon.” 3:3 So the LORD our God did indeed give over to us King Og of Bashan and his whole army and we struck them down until not a single survivor was left.

3:4 We captured all his cities at that time — there was not a town we did not take from them — sixty cities, all the region of Argob, the dominion of Og in Bashan. 3:5 All of these cities were fortified by high walls, gates, and locking bars; in addition there were a great many open villages. 3:6 We put all of these under divine judgment just as we had done to King Sihon of Heshbon — every occupied city, including women and children. 3:7 But all the livestock and plunder from the cities we kept for ourselves.

3:8 So at that time we took the land of the two Amorite kings in the Transjordan from Wadi Arnon to Mount Hermon (the Sidonians call Hermon Sirion and the Amorites call it Senir).

3:10 all the cities of the plateau, all of Gilead and Bashan as far as Salecah and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan. 3:11 Only King Og of Bashan was left of the remaining Rephaites. (It is noteworthy that his sarcophagus was made of iron. Does it not, indeed, still remain in Rabath? BR 6 (1990): 16:21, 44; cf. also NEB “his sarcophagus of basalt”; TEV, CEV “his coffin.”)

Distribution of the Transjordanian Allotments

3:12 This is the land we brought under our control at that time: The territory extending from Aroer29 on the Wadi Arnon and half the Gilead hill country with its cities I gave to the Reubenites and Gadites.

3:13 The rest of Gilead and all of Bashan, the kingdom of Og, I gave to half the tribe of Manasseh. (All the region of Argob, that is, all Bashan, is called the land of Rephaim.

3:14 Jair, son of Manasseh, took all the Argob region as far as the border with the Geshurites and Maacathites (namely Bashan) and called it by his name, Havvoth Jair, 5 which it retains to this very day.) 3:15 I gave Gilead to Machir. 2 3:16 To the Reubenites and Gadites I allocated the territory extending from Gilead as far as Wadi Arnon (the exact middle of the wadi was a boundary) all the way to the Wadi Jabbok, the Ammonite border. 3:17 The Arabah and the Jordan River 3 were also a border, from the sea of Kinneereth 4 to the sea of the Arabah (that is, the Salt Sea), 5 beneath the watershed 6 of Pisgah 7 to the east.

Instructions to the Transjordanian Tribes

3:18 At that time I instructed you as follows: “The Lord your God has given you this land for your possession. You warriors are to cross over before your fellow Israelites 8 equipped for battle. 3:19 But your wives, children, and livestock (of which I know you have many) may remain in the cities I have given you. 3:20 You must fight 9 until the Lord gives your countrymen victory 10 as he did you and they take possession of the land that the Lord your God is giving them on the other side of the Jordan River. Then each of you may return to his own territory that I have given you.” 3:21 I also commanded Joshua at the same time, “You have seen everything the Lord your God did to these two kings; he 11 will do the same to all the kingdoms where you are going. 3:22 Do not be afraid of them, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go.”

Denial to Moses of the Promised Land

3:23 Moreover, at that time I pleaded with the Lord, 3:24 “O, Lord God, 13 you have begun to show me 14 your greatness and strength. 15 (What god in heaven or earth can rival your works and mighty deeds?) 3:25 Let me please cross over to see the good land on the other side of the Jordan River – this good hill country and the Lebanon!” 3:26 But the Lord was angry at me because of you and would not listen to me. Instead, he 16 said to me, “Enough of that! 18 Do not speak to me any more about this matter. 3:27 Go up to the top of Pisgah and take a good look to the west, north, south, and east, 19 for you will not be allowed to cross the Jordan. 3:28 Commission 20 Joshua, and encourage and strengthen him, because he will lead these people over and will enable them to inherit the land you will see.” 3:29 So we settled down in the valley opposite Beth Peor. 21

The Privileges of the Covenant

4:1 Now, Israel, pay attention to the statutes and ordinances 22 I am about to teach you, so that you might live and go on to enter and take possession of the land that the Lord, the God of your ancestors, 23 is giving you. 4:2 Do not add a thing to what I command you nor subtract from it, so that you may keep the commandments of the Lord your God that I am delivering to you. 4:3 You have witnessed what the Lord did at Baal Peor, 25 how he 26 eradicated from your

1 sn Havvoth Jair. The Hebrew name means “villages of Jair,” the latter being named after a son (i.e., descendant) of Manasseh who took the area by conquest.
2 sn Machir was the name of another descendant of Manasseh (cf. Num 32:41; 1 Chr 7:14-19). Eastern Manasseh was thus divided between the Jairites and the Machirites.
3 tn The word “River” is not in the Hebrew text, but has been supplied in the translation for clarity (also in vv. 20, 25).
4 tn Heb “from Kinneereth.” The words “the sea of” have been supplied in the translation as a clarification.
5 sn Kinneereth. This is another name for the Sea of Galilee, so called because its shape is that of a harp (the Hebrew term for “harp” is רֶכֶב, kinnor).
6 sn The Salt Sea is another name for the Dead Sea (cf. Gen 14:3; Josh 3:16).
7 sn The meaning of the Hebrew term יִשְׁמַרָה (‘ashdot) is unclear. It is usually translated either “slopes” (ASV, NAB, NIV) or “watershed” (NEB).
8 sn Pisgah. This appears to refer to a small range of mountains, the most prominent peak of which is Mount Nebo (Num 21:20; 23:14; Deut 3:27; cf. 34:1).
9 tn Heb “your brothers, the sons of Israel.”
10 tn The words “you must fight” are not present in the Hebrew text, but are supplied in the translation for clarity.
11 tn Heb “gives your brothers rest.”
12 sn Heb “the Lord.” The translation uses the pronoun ("he") for stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy.
13 sn Heb “Lord God.” The phrase יהוה נבון (adonay y’hvh) is customarily rendered by Jewish tradition as “Lord Go.” Cf. NIV, TEV, NLT “Sovereign Lord.”
14 tn Heb “your servant.” The pronoun is used in the translation to clarify that Moses is speaking of himself, since in contemporary English one does not usually refer to oneself in third person.
15 sn Heb “your strong hand” (so NIV), a symbol of God’s activity.
16 tn The article is retained in the translation (“the Lebanon,” cf. also NAB, NRSV) to indicate that a region (rather than the modern country of Lebanon) is referred to here. Other recent English versions accomplish this by supplying “mountains” after “Lebanon” (TEV, CEV, NLT).
17 tn Heb “the Lord.” For stylistic reasons the pronoun ("he") has been used in the translation here.
18 tn Heb “much to you” (an idiom).
19 tn Heb “lift your eyes to the west, north, south, and east and see with your eyes.” The translation omits the repetition of your eyes for stylistic reasons.
20 tn Heb “command”; KJV, NASB, NRSV “charge Joshua.”
21 sn Beth Peor. This is probably the spot near Pisgah where Balaam attempted to curse the nation Israel (Num 23:28). The Moabites also worshiped Baal there by the name “Baal [of] Por” (Num 25:1-5).
22 tn These technical Hebrew terms (חקחין [khkq’in] and mishpatim) occur repeatedly throughout the Book of Deuteronomy to describe the covenant stipulations to which Israel had been called to subscribe (see, in this chapter alone, vv. 1, 5, 6, 8). The word חקחין derives from the verb חק (chq, “to inscribe; to carve”) and mishpatim (mishpatim) from שָׁפַט (shafat, “to judge”). They are virtually synonymous and are used interchangeably in Deuteronomy.
23 sn Heb “fathers” (also in vv. 31, 37).
24 tn Heb “commanding.”
25 sn The LXIX and Septuagint read “to Baal Peor,” that is, the god worshiped at that place; see note on the name “Beth Peor” in Deut 3:29.
26 tn Heb “the Lord your God.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.
midst everyone who followed Baal Peor.\(^1\) 4:4

But you who remained faithful to the Lord your God are still alive to this very day, every one of you. 4:5 Look! I have taught you statutes and ordinances just as the Lord my God told me to do, so that you might carry them out in\(^2\) the land you are about to enter and possess. 4:6 So be sure to do them, because this will testify of your wise understanding\(^3\) to the people who will learn of all these statutes and say, “Indeed, this great nation is a very wise\(^4\) people.” 4:7 In fact, what other great nation has a god so near to them like the Lord our God whenever we call on him? 4:8 And what other great nation has statutes and ordinances as just\(^5\) as this whole law\(^6\) that I am about to share with you today?

Reminder of the Horeb Covenant

4:9 Again, however, pay very careful attention,\(^8\) lest you forget the things you have seen and disregard them for the rest of your life; instead teach them to your children and grandchildren. 4:10 You\(^9\) stood before the Lord your God at Horeb and he\(^10\) said to me, “Assemble the people before me so that I can tell them my commands. Then they will learn to revere me all the days they live in the land, and they will instruct their children.” 4:11 You approached and stood at the foot of the mountain, a mountain ablaze to the sky above it\(^12\) and yet dark with a thick cloud.\(^13\) 4:12 Then the Lord spoke to you from the middle of the fire; you heard speech but you could not see anything – only a voice was heard.\(^14\) 4:13 And he revealed to you the covenant\(^15\) he has commanded you to keep, the ten commandments,\(^16\) writing them on two stone tablets. 4:14 Moreover, at that same time the Lord commanded me to teach you statutes and ordinances for you to keep in the land which you are about to enter and possess.\(^17\)

The Nature of Israel’s God

4:15 Be very careful,\(^18\) then, because you saw no form at the time the Lord spoke to you at Horeb from the middle of the fire. 4:16 I say this\(^19\) so you will not corrupt yourselves by making an image in the form of any kind of figure. This includes the likeness of a human male or female, 4:17 any kind of land animal, any bird that flies in the sky, 4:18 anything that crawls\(^20\) on the ground, or any fish in the deep waters of the earth.\(^21\) 4:19 When you look up\(^22\) to the sky\(^23\) and see the sun, moon, and stars – the whole heavenly creation\(^24\) – you must not be seduced to worship and serve them,\(^25\) for the Lord your God has assigned\(^26\) them to all the people\(^27\) of the world.\(^28\) 4:20 You, however, the Lord has selected and brought from Egypt, that

\(^1\) In or “followed the Baal of Peor” (so NAB, NIV, NRSV), referring to the pagan god Baal.

\(^2\) In “in the midst of” (so ASV).

\(^3\) In “it is wisdom and understanding.”

\(^4\) In “wise and understanding.”

\(^5\) In Or “pure”; or “fair”; “righteous.”

\(^6\) In The Hebrew phrase תבורה חצץ (b`tora ha`zzu), in this context, refers specifically to the Book of Deuteronomy. That is, it is the collection of all the statutes (k`naqgim), “statutes,” (4:1) and תבורה חצץ (mispayim, “ordinances,” 4:3) to be included in the covenant text. In a full canonical sense, of course, it pertains to the entire Pentateuch or Torah.

\(^7\) In “place before.”

\(^8\) In “watch yourself and watch your soul carefully.”

\(^9\) In The text begins with “(the) day (in) which.” In the Hebrew text v. 10 is subordinate to v. 11, but for stylistic reasons the translation treats v. 10 as an independent clause, necessitating the omission of the subordinating temporal phrase at the beginning of the verse.

\(^10\) In “the Law.” See note on “he” in 4:3.

\(^11\) In “my words.” See v. 13; in Hebrew the “ten commandments” are “the ten words.”

\(^12\) In “a mountain burning with fire as far as the heart of the heavens.” The Hebrew term שמים (shamayim) may be translated “heaven(s)” or “sky” depending on the context.

\(^13\) In “darkness, cloud, and heavy cloud.”

\(^14\) The words “was heard” are supplied in the translation to avoid the impression that the voice was seen.

\(^15\) In This is the first occurrence of the word שמו (š’mī, “covenant”) in the Book of Deuteronomy but it appears commonly hereafter (4:23, 31; 5:2, 3; 7:9, 12; 8:18; 9:9, 10, 11, 15; 10:2, 4, 5, 8; 17:2; 29:1-9, 12, 14, 15, 18, 21, 25; 31:9, 16, 20, 25, 26; 33:9). Etymologically, it derives from the notion of linking or yoking together. See M. Weinfeld, TDOT 2:255.

\(^16\) In “the ten words.”

\(^17\) In “to which you are crossing over to possess it.”

\(^18\) In “give great care to your souls.”

\(^19\) In The words “I say this” are supplied in the translation for stylistic reasons. In the Hebrew text v. 16 is subordinated to “Be careful” in v. 15, but this makes for an unduly long sentence in English.

\(^20\) In “creeping thing.”

\(^21\) In “under the earth.”

\(^22\) In “let you lift up your eyes.” In the Hebrew text vv. 16-19 are subordinated to “Be careful” in v. 15, but this makes for an unduly long sentence in English.

\(^23\) In Or “heavens.” The Hebrew term שמים (shamayim) may be translated “heaven(s)” or “sky” depending on the context.

\(^24\) In “all the host of heaven.”

\(^25\) In In the Hebrew text the verbal sequence in v. 19 is “lest you look up...and see...and be seduced...and worship them...and serve them.” However, the first two actions are not prohibited in and of themselves. The prohibition pertains to the final three actions. The first two verbs describe actions that are logically subordinate to the following actions and can be treated as temporal or circumstantial: “lest, looking up...and seeing...you are seduced.” See Joubon 2:635 §168h.

\(^26\) In Or “allotted.”

\(^27\) In Or “nations.”

\(^28\) In “under all the heaven.”

\(\text{sn}\) The OT views the heavenly host as God’s council, which surrounds his royal throne ready to do his bidding (see 1 Kgs 22:19). God has given this group, sometimes called the “sons of God” (cf. Job 1:6; 38:7; Ps 89:6), jurisdiction over the nations. See Deut 32:8 (LXX). Some also see this assembly as the addressee in Ps 82. While God delegated his council to rule over the nations, he established a theocratic government over Israel and ruled directly over his chosen people via the Mosaic covenant. See v. 20, as well as Deut 32:9.
DEUTERONOMY 4:21

4:21 But the Lord became angry with me because of you and vowed that I would never cross the Jordan nor enter the good land that he is about to give you. 4:22 So I must die here in this land; I will not cross the Jordan. But you are going over and will possess that good land.

4:23 Be on guard so that you do not forget the covenant of the Lord your God that he has made with you, and that you do not make an image of any kind, just as he has forbidden you. 4:24 For the Lord your God is a consuming fire; he is a jealous God.

Threat and Blessing following Covenant Disobedience

4:25 After you have produced children and grandchildren and have been in the land a long time, if you become corrupt and make an image of any kind and do other evil things before the Lord your God that enrage him, 4:26 I invoke heaven and earth as witnesses against you today that you will surely and swiftly be removed from the very land you are about to cross to the Jordan to possess. You will not last long there because you will surely be annihilated. 4:27 Then the Lord will scatter you among the peoples and there will be very few of you among the nations where the Lord will drive you. 4:28 There you will worship gods made by human hands - wood and stone that can neither see, hear, eat, nor smell. 4:29 But if you seek the Lord your God from there, you will find him, if, indeed, you seek him with all your heart and soul. 4:30 In your distress when all these things happen to you in the latter days, if you return to the Lord your God and obey him (for he is a merciful God), he will not let you down or destroy you, for he cannot forget the covenant with your ancestors that he confirmed by oath to them.

The Uniqueness of Israel's God

4:32 Indeed, ask about the distant past, starting from the day God created humankind on the earth, and ask from one end of heaven to the other, whether there has ever been such a great thing as this, or even a rumor of it. 4:33 Have a people ever heard the voice of God speaking from the middle of fire, as you yourselves have, and lived to tell about it? 4:34 Or has God ever before tried to deliver a nation from the middle of another nation, accompanied by judgments, signs, wonders, war, strength, power, and other very terrifying things like the Lord your God did for you in Egypt before your very eyes? 4:35 You have been taught that the Lord alone is God — there is no other besides him. 4:36 From heaven he spoke to you in order to teach you, and on earth he showed you his great fire from which you also heard his words. 4:37 Moreover, because he loved you ancestors, he chose their descendants who followed them and personally brought you out of Egypt with his great power 4:38 to dispossess nations greater and stronger than you and brought you here this day to give you their land as your property. 4:39 Today realize and carefully consider that the Lord is God in heaven above and on earth below — there is no other! 4:40 Keep his statutes and commandments that I am setting forth today so that it may go well with you and your descendants and that you may enjoy longevity in the land that the Lord your God is about to give you as a permanent possession.

The Narrative Concerning Cities of Refuge

4:41 Then Moses selected three cities in the Transjordan, toward the east. 4:42 Anyone who accidentally killed someone without hating him at the time of the accident could flee to one of those cities and be safe. 4:43 These cities are Bezer, in the desert plateau, for the Reubenites; Ramoth in Gilead for the Gadites; and Golan in Bashan for the Manassehites.

The Setting and Introduction of the Covenant

4:44 This is the law that Moses set before the Israelites. 4:45 These are the stipulations, statutes, and ordinances that Moses spoke to the Israelites after he had brought them out of Egypt, 4:46 in the Transjordan, in the valley opposite Beth Peor, in the land of King Sihon of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon. (It is he whom Moses and the Israelites attacked after they came out of Egypt. 4:47 They possessed his land and that of King Og of Bashan — both of whom were Amorite kings in the Transjordan, to the east. 4:48 Their territory extended from Aroer at the edge of the Arnon valley as far as Mount Siyon — that is, Hermon — 4:49 including all the Arabah of the Transjordan in the east to the sea of the Arabah, beneath the watershed of Pisgah.)

The Opening Exhortation

5:1 Then Moses called all the people of Israel together and said to them, “Listen, Israel, to the statutes and ordinances that I am about to deliver to you today; learn them and be careful to keep them! 5:2 The Lord our God made a covenant with us at Horeb. 5:3 He did not make this covenant with our ancestors but with us, who are here today, all of us living now. 5:4 The Lord spoke face to face with you at the mountain, from the middle of the fire. 5:5 (I was standing between the Lord and you at that time to reveal to you the message of the Lord, because you were afraid of the fire and would not go up the mountain.) He said:

The Ten Commandments

5:6 “I am the Lord your God, he who brought you from the land of Egypt, from the place of slavery. 5:7 You must not have any other gods besides me. 20 5:8 You must not... make for yourself an image of anything in heaven above, on earth below, or in the waters beneath.

5:9 You must not worship or serve them, for I, the Lord your God, am a jealous God. I punish the sons, grandsons, and great-grandsons for the sin of the fathers who reject me.

5:10 but I show covenant faithfulness to the thousands who choose me and keep my commandments.

5:11 You must not make use of the name of the Lord your God for worthless purposes, for the Lord will not exonerate anyone who abuses his name that way.

11:4 to observe the Sabbath day just as the Lord your God has commanded you.

11:5 You are to work and do all your tasks in six days, but the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord your God. On that day you must not do any work, you, your son, your daughter, your male slave, your female slave, your ox, your donkey, any other animal, or the foreigner who lives with you, so that your male and female slaves, like yourself, may have rest.

11:5 Recall that you were slaves in the land of Egypt and that the Lord your God brought you out of there by strength and power. That is why the Lord your God has commanded you to observe the Sabbath day.

11:6 Honor your father and your mother just as the Lord your God has commanded you to do, so that your days may be extended and that it may go well with you in the land that he is about to give you.

11:7 You must not murder.

11:8 You must not commit adultery.

11:9 You must not steal.

11:10 You must not give false testimony against another.

11:11 You must not desire another man’s wife, nor should you crave his house, his field, his male and female servants, his ox, his donkey, or anything else he owns.

The Narrative of the Sinai Revelation and Israel’s Response

5:22 The Lord said these things to your entire assembly at the mountain from the middle of the fire, the cloud, and the darkness with a loud voice, and that was all he said. Then he inscribed the words on two stone tablets and gave them to me. 5:23 Then, when you heard the voice from the midst of the darkness while the mountain was ablaze, all your tribal leaders and elders approached me. 5:24 You said, “The Lord our God has shown us his great glory3 and we have heard him speak from the middle of the fire. It is now clear to us4 that God can speak to human beings and they can keep on living. 5:25 But now, why should we die, because this intense fire will consume us! If we keep hearing the voice of the Lord our God we will die! 5:26 Who is there from the entire human race5 who has heard the voice of the living God speaking from the middle of the fire as we have, and has lived? 5:27 You go near so that you can hear everything the Lord our God is saying and then you can tell us whatever he says to you; then we will pay attention and do it.” 5:28 When the Lord heard you speaking to me, he said to me, “I have heard what these people have said to you – they have spoken well. 5:29 If only it would really be their desire to fear me and obey8 all my commandments in the future, so that it may go well with them and their descendants forever. 5:30 Go and tell them, ‘Return to your tents!’ 5:31 But as for you, remain here with me so I can declare to you all the commandments,9 statutes, and ordinances that you are to teach them, so that they can carry them out in the land I am about to give them.”

5:32 Be careful, therefore, to do exactly what the Lord your God has commanded you; do not turn right or left! 5:33 Walk just as he has commanded you so that you may live that it may go well with you, and that you may live long in the land you are going to possess.

Exhortation to Keep the Covenant Principles

6:1 Now these are the commandments,13 statutes, and ordinances that the Lord your God instructed me to teach you so that you may carry them out in the land where you are headed6:2 and that you may so revere the Lord your God that you will keep all his statutes and commandments18 that I am giving you – you, your children, and your grandchildren – all your lives, to prolong your days. 6:3 Pay attention, Israel, and be careful to do this so that it may go well with you and that you may increase greatly in number7 – as the Lord, God of your ancestors,18 said to you, you will have a land flowing with milk and honey.

The Essence of the Covenant Principles

6:4 Listen, Israel: The Lord is our God, the Lord is one. 6:5 You must love the Lord your God with all your heart,3 your whole being,4 and all your strength.5

Exhortation to Teach the Covenant Principles

6:6 These words I am commanding you today must be kept in mind,6 and you must teach7 them to your children and speak of them as you sit in your house, as you walk along the road,8 as you lie down, and as you get up. 6:8 You should tie them as a reminder on your forehead9 and fasten them as symbols9 on your fore-

1 tn Heb “the Lord, our God, the Lord, one.” (1) One option is to translate: “The Lord is our God, the Lord alone” (cf. NAB, NRSV, NJPS). This would be an affirmation that the Lord was the sole object of their devotion. This interpretation finds support from the appeals to loyalty that follow (vv. 5, 14). (2) Another option is to translate: “The Lord is our God, the Lord is unique.” In this case the text would be affirming the people’s allegiance to the Lord, as well as the Lord’s superiority to all other gods. It would also imply that he is the only one worthy of their worship. Support for this view comes from parallel texts such as Deut 7:9 and 10:17, as well as the use of “one” in Song 6:8-9, where the starstruck lover declares that he has loved (from the Greek term). These box-like containers, like those on the forearms, held the same scraps of the Torah. It was on the forehead that the Lord34 was considered the seat of the mind or intellect, so that the Hebrew term (from Hebrew “to engrave,” that is, “to teach” (cf. Matt 22:37-38).

2 tn The verb הָעַבָּר (‘ahav, “to love”) in this setting commuicates not so much an emotional idea as one of covenant commitment. To love the Lord is to be absolutely loyal and obedient to him in every respect, a truth Jesus himself taught (cf. John 14:15). See also the note on the word “loved” in Deut 4:37.

3 tn Heb “heart.” In OT physiology the heart (לב, levav, lev) was considered the seat of the mind or intellect, so that one could think with one’s heart. See A. Luc, NIDOTTE 2:749-54.

4 tn Heb “soul”; “being.” Contrary to Hellenistic ideas of a soul that is discrete and separate from the body and spirit, OT pictures the “soul” and life (כָּלְבָּד, נֶפֶשׁ) as closely tied to the person himself. It is therefore best in most cases to translate נֶפֶשׁ (nafesh) as “being” or the like. See H. W. Wolff, Anthropology of the Old Testament, 10:25; D. Fredericks, NIDOTTE 3:133-34.

6 tn Heb “repeat” (so NLT). If from the root I נָשָׁה (nasah), the verb means essentially to “engrave,” that is, “to teach incisively” (Piel); note NAB “Drill them into your children.” Cf. John 14:15; See also the note on the word “loved” in Deut 4:37.

7 tn Or “as you are away on a journey” (cf. NRSV, TEV, NLT); note NAB “at home and abroad.”

9 tn Or “as you are away on a journey” (cf. NRSV, TEV, NLT); note NAB “at home and abroad.”

9 sn Tie them as a sign on your forehead. Later Jewish tradition referred to the little leather containers tied to the forearms and foreheads as tefillin. They were to contain the following passages from the Torah: Exod 13:1-10, 11-16; Deut 6:5-9; 11:13-21. The purpose was to serve as a “sign” of covenant relationship and obedience.

9 sn Fasten them as symbols on your forehead. These were also known later as tefillin (see previous note) or phylacteries (from the Greek term). These box-like containers, like those on the forearms, held the same scraps of the Torah. It was the hypocritical practice of wearing these without heartfelt sincerity that caused Jesus to speak scathingly about them (cf. Matt 23:5).

10 sn The Hebrew term תָּלְמִיד (tal’im) refers both to the door frames and to small cases attached on them containing scripture texts (always Deut 6:4-9 and 11:13-21; and sometimes the decalogue; Exod 13:1-10, 11-16; and Num 10:35-36). See J. H. Tigay, Deuteronomy (JPSTC), 443-44.

11 tn Heb “out of the house of slavery” (so NASB, NRSV).

12 tn Heb “from the gods.” The demonstrative pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.

13 tn Heb “lest the anger of the Lord your God be kindled against you and destroy you from upon the surface of the ground.” Cf. KJV, ASV “from off the face of the earth.”

14 sn The place name Massah (מַסָּה, massah) derives from a root (מָסָה, masah) meaning “to test; to try.” The reference here is to the experience in the Sinai desert when Moses struck the rock to obtain water (Exod 17:1-2). The complaining Israelites had, thus, “tested” the Lord, a wickedness that gave rise to the naming of the place (Exod 17:7; cf. Deut 9:22; 33:8).

15 tn Heb “the commandments of the Lord your God.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.

16 tn The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute before the finite verb to emphasize the statement. The imperfect verbal form is used here with an obligatory nuance that can be captured in English through the imperative. Cf. NASB, NRSV “diligently keep (obey NLT).”

17 tn Heb “upright.”

18 tn Heb “the Lord.” See note on the word “his” in v. 17.
Exhortation to Remember the Past

6:20 When your children ask you later on, “What are the stipulations, statutes, and ordinances that the LORD our God commanded you?” 6:21 you must say to them, “We were Pharaoh’s slaves in Egypt, but the LORD brought us out of Egypt in a powerful way.” 6:22 And he brought signs and great, devastating wonders on Egypt, on Pharaoh, and on his whole family before our very eyes. 6:23 He delivered us from there so that he could give us the land he had promised our ancestors. 6:24 The LORD commanded us to obey all these statutes and to revere him so that it may always go well for us and he may preserve us, as he has to this day. 6:25 We will be innocent if we carefully keep all these commandments before the LORD our God, just as he demands.18

The Dispossession of Nonvassals

7:1 When the LORD your God brings you to the land that you are going to occupy and forces many nations before you – Hittites, 9 Girgashites, 10 Amorites, 11 Canaanites, 12 Perizzites, 13 Hivites, 14 and Jebusites, 15 seven16 nations more numerous and powerful than you – 7:2 and he17 delivers them over to you and you attack them, you must utterly annihilate18 them. Make no treaty19 with them and show them no mercy! 7:3 You must not intermarry with them. Do not give your daughters to their sons or take their daughters for your sons, 7:4 for they will turn your sons away from the LORD your God. He20 has chosen you to be his people, prized21 above all others on the face of the earth.

The Basis of Israel’s Election

7:7 It is not because you were more numerous than all the other peoples that the LORD favored and chose you – for in fact you were the least numerous of all peoples. 7:8 Rather it is because of his22 love23 for you and his faithfulness to the promise27 he solemnly vowed28 to will protect you from all sickness, and you will not experience any of the terrible diseases that you knew in Egypt; instead he will inflicts them on all those who hate you.

Exhortation to Destroy Canaanite Paganism

7:16 You must destroy all the people whom the Lord your God is about to deliver over to you; you must not pity them or worship their gods, for that will be a snare to you. 7:17 If you think, “These nations are more numerous than I — how can I dispossess them?” 7:18 you shall not fear them. You must carefully recall what the Lord your God did to Pharaoh and all Egypt, 7:19 the great judgments you saw, the signs and wonders, the strength and power by which he brought you out – thus the Lord your God will do all to the people you fear. 7:20 Furthermore, the Lord your God will release hornets among them until the very last ones who hide from you perish. 7:21 You must not tremble in their presence, for the Lord your God, who is present among you, is a great and awesome God. 7:22 He, the God who leads you, will expel the nations little by little. You will not be allowed to destroy them all at once lest the wild animals overrun you. 7:23 The Lord your God will give them over to you; he will throw them into a great panic until they are destroyed. 7:24 He will hand over their kings to you and you will erase their very names from memory. Nobody will be able to resist you until you destroy them.

Promises of Good for Covenant Obedience

7:12 If you obey these ordinances and are careful to do them, the Lord your God will faithfully keep covenant with you as he promised your ancestors. 7:13 He will love and bless you, and make you numerous. He will bless you with many children, with the produce of your soil, your grain, your new wine, your oil, the offspring of your oxen, and the young of your flocks in the land which he promised your ancestors to give you. 7:14 You will be blessed beyond all peoples; there will be no barrenness among you or your livestock. 7:15 The Lord will think of you with favor in the eyes of the nations you fear.

1. tn Heb “fathers” (also in vv. 12, 13).
2. tn Heb “by a strong hand” (NAB similar); NLT “with such amazing power.”
3. sn Redeeming you from the place of slavery. The Hebrew verb translated “redeeming” (from the root פָּדָה, pدعم) has the idea of redemption by the payment of a ransom. The initial symbol of this was the Passover lamb, offered by Israel to the Lord as ransom in exchange for deliverance from bondage and death (Exod 12:1-14). Later, the firstborn sons of Israel, represented by the Levites, became the ransom (Num 3:11-13). These were all types of the redemption effected by the death of Christ who described his atoning work as “a ransom for many” (Matt 20:28; cf. 1 Pet 1:18).
4. Heb “hand” (so KJV, NRSV), a metaphor for power or domination.
5. tn Heb “the God.” The article here expresses uniqueness; cf. TEV “is the only God”; NLT “is indeed God.”
6. sn “who keeps covenant and loyalty.” The syndetic construction of שָׁמַר (shamar) and קִסּוֹת (kisvot) should be understood not as “covenant” plus “loyalty” but as an adverbial construction in which קיסות (loyalty) modifies the verb שמר (shamar; “keep”).
7. For the term “hate” as synonymous with rejection or disobedience see note on the word “reject” in Deut 5:9 (cf. NRSV “reject”).
8. tn Heb “he will not hesitate concerning.”
9. tn Heb “will keep with you the covenant and loyalty.” On the construction used here, see v. 9.
10. tn Heb “which he swore on oath.” The relative pronoun modifies “covenant,” so one could translate “will keep faithfully the covenant (or promise) he made on oath to your ancestors.”
11. tn Heb “will bless the fruit of your womb” (so NAB, NIV, NRSV).
12. sn One of the ironies about the promises to the patriarchs concerning offspring was the characteristic barrenness of the wives of the men to whom these pledges were made (cf. Gen 11:30; 25:21; 29:31). Their affliction is in each case described by the very Hebrew word used here (עֲקָרָה, qurra), an affliction that will no longer prevail in Canaan.
13. tn Heb “devour” (so NRSV); KJV, NASB “consume.” The verbal form (a perfect with vav consecutive) is understood here as having an imperative or obligatory nuance (cf. the instructions and commands that follow). Another option is to take the statement as a continuation of the preceding conditional promises and translate “and you will destroy.”
14. sn Or “serve” (so KJV, NIV, NRSV).
15. tn Heb “reminding, you must recall.” The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute before the finite verb for emphasis. Cf. KJV, ASV “shalt well remember.”
16. tn Heb “testings” (so NAB), a reference to the plagues. See note at 4:34.
17. tn Heb “the strong hand and outstretched arm.” See 4:34.
18. tn Heb “the Lord your God.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.
19. tn The meaning of the term translated “horns” (נשר, niser) is debated. Various suggestions are “discouragement” (HALOT 1056-57 s.v.; cf. NEB, TEV, CEV “panic”; NCV “terror”) and “leprosy” (J. H. Tigay, Deuteronomy [JPSTC], 360, n. 33; cf. NRSV “the pestilence”), as well as “hornet” (BDDB 684 s.v.; cf. NAB, NASB, NIV, NLT). The latter seems most suitable to the verb נשר (shulakh; “send”; cf. Exod 23:28; Josh 24:12).
20. tn Heb “the remnant and those who hide themselves.”
21. tn Heb “the Lord your God.” See note on “he” in 7:19.
22. tn Heb “will confuse them (with) great confusion.” The verb used here means “shake, stir up” (see Ruth 1:19; 1 Sam 4:5; 1 Kgs 1:45; Ps 55:2); the accompanying cognate noun refers to confusion, unrest, havoc, or panic (1 Sam 5:9, 11; 14:20; 2 Chr 15:5; Prov 15:16; Isa 22:5; Ezek 7:7; 22:5; Amos 3:5; Zech 14:13).
23. tn Heb “you will destroy their name from under heaven” (cf. KJV); NRSV “blot out their name from under heaven.”

7:25 You must burn the images of their gods, but do not covet the silver and gold that covers them so much that you take it for yourself and thus become ensnared by it; for it is abhorrent to the Lord your God. 7:26 You must not bring any abhorrent thing into your house and thereby become an object of divine wrath along with it. You must absolutely detest and abhor it, for it is an object of divine wrath.

The Lord's Provision in the Desert

8:1 You must keep carefully all these commandments I am giving you today so that you may live, increase in number, and go in and occupy the land that the Lord promised to your ancestors. 8:2 Remember the whole way by which he has brought you these forty years through the desert so that he might, by humbling you, test you to see if you have it within you to keep his commandments or not. 8:3 So he humbled you by making you hungry and then feeding you with unfamiliar manna. He did this to teach you13 that humankind cannot live by bread alone, but also by everything that comes from the Lord's mouth.14 8:4 Your clothing did not wear out nor did your feet swell all these forty years. 8:5 Be keenly aware that just as a parent disciplines his child,15 the Lord your God disciplines you. 8:6 So you must keep his16 commandments, live according to his standards,17 and revere him. 8:7 For the Lord your God is bringing you to a good land, a land of brooks, springs, and fountains flowing forth in valleys and hills,18 a land of wheat, barley, vines, fig trees, and pomegranates, of olive trees and honey. 8:9 A land where you may eat food19 in plenty and find no lack of anything, a land whose stones are iron and from whose hills you can mine copper. 8:10 You will eat your fill and then praise the Lord your God because of the good land he has given you.

Exhortation to Remember That Blessing Comes from God

8:11 Be sure you do not forget the Lord your God by not keeping his commandments, ordinances, and statutes that I am giving you today. 8:12 When you eat your fill, when you build and occupy good houses, 8:13 when your cattle and flocks increase, when you have plenty of silver and gold, and when you have abundance of everything, 8:14 be sure23 you do not feel self-important and forget the Lord your

1 sn The Hebrew word תָּעַב (ta'evah, “abhorrent; detestable”) describes anything detestable to the Lord because of its innate evil or inconsistency with his own nature and character. Frequently such things (or even persons) must be condemned to annihilation (הֵרֶם, kherem) lest they become a means of polluting or contaminating others (cf. Deut 13:17; 20:17-18). See M. Grisanti, NIDOTTE 4:315.

2 sn This Hebrew verb (שָׁקַץ, shaqats) is essentially synonymous with the next verb (תָּעַב, ta'evah; cf. נִשָּׁקַץ, nishqats; see note on the word “abhorrent” in v. 25), though its field of meaning is more limited to cultic abomination (cf. Lev 11:11, 13; Ps 22:25).

3 sn In Heb “detesting you must desist and abandoning you must abhor.” Both verbs are preceded by a cognate infinitive absolute indicating emphasis.

4 sn The singular term (מִצְוָה, mitsvah) includes the whole corpus of covenant stipulations, certainly the book of Deuteronomy at least (cf. Deut 5:28; 6:1; 25; 7:11; 11:8; 22; 15:5; 17:20; 19:9; 27:1; 30:11; 31:5). The plural (מִצְוָיִם, mitsot) refers to individual stipulations (as in vv. 2, 6).

5 sn Heb “commandment” (so NASB), for stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy, “giving” has been used in the translation (likewise in v. 11).

6 tn The Hebrew word translated an object of divine wrath (הֵרֶם, kherem) refers to persons or things placed under God’s judgment, usually to the extent of their complete destruction. See note on the phrase “divine judgment” in Deut 2:34.

7 tn Or “like it.”

8 sn This Hebrew verb (שָׁקַץ, shaqats) is essentially synonymous with the next verb (תָּעַב, ta'evah; cf. נִשָּׁקַץ, nishqats; see note on the word “abhorrent” in v. 25), though its field of meaning is more limited to cultic abomination (cf. Lev 11:11, 13; Ps 22:25).

9 sn The Hebrew term may refer to “food” in a more general sense (cf. CEV).

10 tn The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.

11 sn “commandment” (so NASB). For stylistic reasons, the verb “walk” is used frequently in the Bible (both OT and NT) for one’s moral and ethical behavior.

12 tn "walks."
God who brought you from the land of Egypt, the place of slavery, 8:15 and who brought you through the great, fearful desert of venomous serpents\(^1\) and scorpions, an arid place with no water. He made water flow\(^2\) from a Flint rock and fed you in the desert with manna (which your ancestors had never before known) so that he might by humbling you test you\(^3\) and eventually bring good to you. 8:17 Be careful\(^4\) not to say, “My own ability and skill\(^5\) have gotten me this wealth.”

8:18 You must remember the Lord your God, for he is the one who gives ability to get wealth; if this you will do he will confirm his covenant that he made by oath to your ancestors,\(^6\) even as he has to this day. 8:19 Now if you forget the Lord your God at all\(^7\) and follow other gods, worshiping and prostrating yourselves before them, I testify to you today that you will surely be annihilated. 8:20 Just like the nations the Lord is about to destroy from your sight, so he will do to you\(^8\) because you would not obey him.\(^9\)

Theological Justification of the Conquest

9:1 Listen, Israel: Today you are about to cross the Jordan so you can dispossess the nations there, people greater and stronger than you who live in large cities with extremely high fortifications.\(^10\) 9:2 They include the Anakites,\(^11\) a numerous\(^12\) and tall people whom you know about and of whom it is said, “Who is able to resist the Anakites?” 9:3 Understand today that the Lord your God who goes before you is a devouring fire; he will defeat and subdue them before you. You will dispossess and destroy them quickly just as he\(^13\) has told you. 9:4 Do not think to yourself after the Lord your God has driven them out before you, “Because of my own righteousness the Lord has brought me here to possess this land.” It is because of the wickedness of these nations that the Lord is driving them out ahead of you. 9:5 It is not because of your righteousness, or even your inner uprightness,\(^14\) that you have come here to possess their land. Instead, because of the wickedness of these nations the Lord your God is driving them out ahead of you in order to confirm the promise he\(^15\) made on oath to your ancestors,\(^16\) to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. 9:6 Understand, therefore, that it is not because of your righteousness that the Lord your God is about to give you this good land as a possession, for you are a stubborn\(^17\) people!

The History of Israel’s Stubborness

9:7 Remember – don’t ever forget\(^18\) – how you provoked the Lord your God in the desert; from the time you left the land of Egypt until you came to this place you were constantly rebelling against him.\(^19\) 9:8 At Horeb you provoked him and he was angry enough with you to destroy you. 9:9 When I went up the mountain to receive the stone tablets, the tablets of the covenant that the Lord made with you, I remained there\(^20\) forty days and nights, eating and drinking nothing. 9:10 The Lord gave me the two stone tablets, written by the very finger\(^21\) of God, and on them was everything, he said to you at the mountain from the midst of the fire at the time of that assembly. 9:11 Now at the end of the forty days and nights the Lord presented me with the two stone tablets, the tablets of the covenant. 9:12 And he said to me, “Get up, go down at once from here because your people whom you brought out of Egypt have sinned! They have quickly turned from the way I commanded them and have made for themselves a cast metal image.”

9:13 Moreover, he said to me, “I have taken note of these people; they are a stubborn lot! 9:14 Stand aside and I will destroy them, obliterating their very name from memory, and I will make you into a stronger and more numerous nation than they are.”

9:15 So I turned and went down the mountain while it was blazing with fire; the two tablets of the covenant were in my hands. 9:16 When I looked, you had indeed sinned against the Lord your God and had cast for yourselves a metal calf; you had quickly turned aside from the way he had commanded you! 9:17 I grabbed the two tablets, threw them down, and shattered them before your very eyes. 9:18 Then I again fell down before the Lord for forty days and nights; I ate and drank nothing because of all the sin you had committed, doing such evil before the Lord as to enrage him. 9:19 For I was terrified at the Lord’s intense anger that threatened to destroy you. But he listened to me this time as well. 9:20 The Lord was also angry enough at Aaron to kill him, but at that time I prayed for him too. 9:21 As for your sinful thing, that you had made, the calf, I took it, melted it down, and ground it up until it was as fine as dust, and tossed the dust into the stream that flows down the mountain. 9:22 Moreover, you continued to provoke the Lord at Taberah, Massah, and Kibroth-Hattaavah. And when he sent you from Kadesh-Barnea and told you, “Go up and possess the land I have given you,” you rebelled against the Lord your God and would neither believe nor obey him. 9:24 You have been rebelling against him from the very first day I knew you!

Moses’ Plea on Behalf of the Lord’s Reputation

9:25 I lay flat on the ground before the Lord for forty days and nights, for he had said he would destroy you. 9:26 I prayed to him: O, Lord God, do not destroy your people, your valued property, that you have powerfully redeemed, whom you brought out of Egypt by your strength. 9:27 Remember your servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob; ignore the stubbornness, wickedness, and sin of these people. 9:28 Otherwise the people of the land from which you brought us will say, “The Lord was unable to bring them to the land he promised them, and because of his hatred for them he has brought them out to kill them in the desert.” 9:29 They are your people, your valued property, whom you brought out with great strength and power.

The Opportunity to Begin Again

10:1 At that same time the Lord said to me, “Carve out for yourself two stone tablets like the first ones and come up the mountain to me; also

1 sn Taberah. By popular etymology this derives from the Hebrew verb הָרַב (harav, “to burn”), thus, here, “burning.” The reference is to the Lord’s fiery wrath against Israel because of their constant complaints against him (Num 11:1-3).

2 sn Massah. See note on this term in Deut 6:16.

3 sn Kibroth-Hattaavah. This place name means in Hebrew “burial places of appetite,” that is, graves that resulted from overindulgence. The reference is to the Israelites stuffing themselves with the quail God had provided and doing so with thanklessness (Num 11:1-35).

4 sn “the Lord,” See note on “he” in 9:3.

5 sn “the mouth of the Lord your God,” that is, against the commandment that he had spoken.

6 sn “the Lord.” See note on “he” in 9:3.

7 sn “the Lord.” This place name means in Hebrew “burial places of appetite,” that is, graves that resulted from overindulgence. The reference is to the Israelites stuffing themselves with the quail God had provided and doing so with thanklessness (Num 11:1-35).

8 sn “the Lord.” See note on “he” in 9:3.

9 sn “the Lord.” See note on “he” in 9:3.

10 sn “the Lord.” The Hebrew text includes “when I prostrated myself.” Since this is redundant, it has been left untranslated.

11 sn “the Lord.” See note on “he” in 9:3.

12 sn “the Lord.” See note on “he” in 9:3.

13 sn “the Lord.” The Hebrew includes “from upon my two hands,” but as this seems somewhat obvious and redundant, it has been left untranslated for stylistic reasons.

14 sn “the Lord.” The Hebrew includes “from upon my two hands,” but as this seems somewhat obvious and redundant, it has been left untranslated for stylistic reasons.

15 sn “the Lord.” The Hebrew includes “from upon my two hands,” but as this seems somewhat obvious and redundant, it has been left untranslated for stylistic reasons.

16 sn “your inheritance”; NLT “your special (very own NRSV) possession,” Israel is compared to landed property that one would inherit from his ancestors and pass on to his descendants.

18 sn “an outstretched arm.”
make for yourself a wooden ark. 10:2 I will write on the tablets the same words that were on the first tablets you broke, and you must put them into the ark.” 10:3 So I made an ark of acacia wood and carved out two stone tablets just like the first ones. Then I went up the mountain with the two tablets in my hands. 10:4 The LORD then wrote on the tablets the same words, the ten commandments, which he had spoken to you at the mountain from the middle of the fire at the time of that assembly, and he gave them to me. 10:5 Then I turned, went down the mountain, and placed the tablets into the ark I had made – they are still there, just as the LORD commanded me.

Conclusion of the Historical Resume

10:6 “During those days the Israeleites traveled from Beeroth Bene Jaakan to Moserah. There Aaron died and was buried, and his son Eleazar became priest in his place. 10:7 From there they traveled to Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah to Jobathah, a place of flowing streams. 10:8 At that time the LORD set apart the tribe of Levi to carry the ark of the LORD’s covenant, to stand before the LORD to serve him, and to formulate blessings in his name, as they do to this very day. 10:9 Therefore Levi has no allotment or inheritance; the LORD is his inheritance just as the LORD your God told him. 10:10 As for me, I stayed at the mountain as I did the first time, forty days and nights. The LORD listened to me that time as well and decided not to destroy you. 10:11 Then he said to me, “Get up, set out leading the people so they may go and possess the land I promised to give to their ancestors.”

An Exhortation to Love Both God and People

10:12 Now, Israel, what does the LORD your God require of you except to revere him, to obey all his commandments, to love him, to serve him with all your mind and being, to keep his commandments and statutes that I am giving you today for your own good? 10:14 The heavens – indeed the highest heavens – belong to the LORD your God, as does the earth and everything in it. 10:15 However, only to your ancestors did he show his loving favor, and he chose you, your descendants, from all peoples – as is apparent today. 10:16 Therefore, cleanse your heart and stop... against Pharaoh king of Egypt and his whole land, 11:4 or what he did to the army of Egypt, including their horses and chariots, when he made the waters of the Red Sea overwhelm them while they were pursuing you and he annihilated them. 11:5 They did not see what he did to you in the desert before you reached this place, 11:6 or what he did to Dathan and Abiram, 11:7 sons of Eliab the Reubenite, when the earth opened its mouth in the middle of the Israelite camp and swallowed them, their families, their tents, and all the property they brought with them. 11:7 I am speaking to you because you are the ones who saw all the great deeds of the LORD!

The Abundance of the Land of Promise

11:8 Now pay attention to all the commandments; I am giving you today, so that you may be strong enough to enter and possess the land where you are headed, and that you may enjoy long life in the land the LORD promised to give to your ancestors and their descendants, a land flowing with milk and honey.

11:10 For the land where you are headed is not like the land... of Egypt from which you came, a land where you planted seed and which you irrigated by hand like a vegetable garden. 11:11 Instead, the land you are crossing the Jordan to occupy is one of hills and valleys, a land that drinks in water from the rains. 11:12 a land the Lord your God looks after. He is constantly attentive to it from the beginning to the end of the year. 11:13 Now, if you pay close attention to my commandments that I am giving you today and love the Lord your God and serve him with all your mind and being, 11:14 then he promises, “I will send rain for your land in its season, the autumn and the spring rains, so that you may gather in your grain, new wine, and olive oil. 11:15 I will provide pasture for your livestock and you will eat your fill.”

Exhortation to Instruction and Obedience

11:16 Make sure you do not turn away to serve and worship other gods! 11:17 Then the anger of the Lord will erupt against you and he will close up the sky so that it does not rain. The land will not yield its produce, and you will soon be removed from the good land that the Lord is about to give you. 11:18 Fix these words of mine into your mind and being, and tie them as a reminder on your hands and let them be symbols on your forehead. 11:19 Teach them to your children and speak of them as you sit in your house, as you walk along the road, as you lie down, and as you get up. 11:20 Inscribe them on the doorframes of your houses and on your gates so that your days and those of your descendants may be extended in the land which the Lord promised to give to your ancestors, like the days of heaven itself. 11:22 For if you carefully observe all of these commandments I am giving you and love the Lord your God, live according to his standards, and remain loyal to him, 11:23 then he will drive out all these nations ahead of you, and you will dispossess nations greater and stronger than you. 11:24 Every place you set your foot will be yours; your border will extend from the desert to Lebanon and from the River (that is, the Euphrates) as far as the Mediterranean Sea. 11:25 Nobody will be able to resist you; the Lord your God will spread the fear and terror of you over the whole land on which you walk, just as he promised you.

Anticipation of a Blessing and Cursing Ceremony

11:26 Take note – I am setting before you today a blessing and a curse.

1 tn Heb “with your foot” (so NASB, NLT). There is a two-fold significance to this phrase. First, Egypt had no rain so water supply depended on human efforts at irrigation. Second, the Nile was the source of irrigation waters but those waters sometimes had to be pumped into fields and gardens by foot-power, perhaps the kind of machinery (Arabic shaduf) still used by Egyptian farmers (see C. Aldred, The Egyptians, 181). Nevertheless, the translation uses “by hand,” since that expression is the more common English idiom for an activity performed by manual labor.

2 tn Heb “which you are crossing over there to possess it.”

3 tn Heb “rain of heaven.”

4 tn Heb “seeks.” The statement reflects the ancient belief that God (Baal in Canaanite thinking) directly controlled storms and rainfall.

5 tn Heb “the eyes of the Lord your God are continually on it” (so NIV); NASB, NRSV “always on it.”

6 sn Constantly attentive to it. This attention to the land by the Lord is understandable in light of the centrality of the land in the Abrahamic covenant (cf. Gen 12:1; 7: 13; 15:7; 16:1; 17:8; 18:3).

7 sn From the beginning to the end of the year. This refers to the agricultural year that was marked by the onset of the heavy rains, thus the autumn. See note on the phrase “the former and the latter rains” in v. 14.

8 tn Heb “if hearing, you will hear.” The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute to emphasize the verbal idea. The translation renders this emphasis with the word “close.”

9 tn The Hebrew term חֶסֶד (ḥesed) draws attention to the reciprocation of divine love as a condition or sign of covenant loyalty (cf. Deut 6:5).

10 tn Heb “heart and soul” or “heart and being.” See note on the word “being” in Deut 6:5.

11 sn The autumn and the spring rains. The “former” (יֵרֵחַ, yoreh) and “latter” (מָגַשׁ, magash) rains come in abundance respectively in September/October and March/April. Planting of most crops takes place before the former rains fall and the harvests follow the latter rains.

12 tn Heb “grass in your field.”

13 tn Heb “Watch yourselves lest your heart turns and you turn aside and serve other gods and bow down to them.”

14 tn Heb “will become hot”; KJV, NASB, NRSV “will be kindled”; NAB “will flare up”; NIV, NLT “will burn.”

15 sn Or “heaven(s)” or “sky” depending on the context.

16 tn Or “be destroyed”; NAB, NIV “will soon perish.”

17 tn Heb “the Lord.” See note on “he” in 11:4.

18 tn Heb “heart and soul” or “heart and being.” See note on the word “being” in Deut 6:5.

20 tn Or “as you are away on a journey” (cf. NRSV, TEV, NLT); NAB “at home and abroad.”

21 tn Heb “like the days of the heavens upon the earth,” that is, forever.

22 tn Heb “this commandment.” See note at Deut 5:30.

23 tn Heb “commanding you to do it.” For stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy, “giving” has been used in the translation and “to do it” has been left untranslated.

24 tn He “walk in all his ways” (so KJV, NIV); TEV “do everything he commands.”

25 tn Heb “the Lord.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.

27 tn Heb “after the sea,” that is, the sea behind one when one is facing east, which is the normal OT orientation. Cf. ASV “the hinder sea.”

28 sn A blessing and a curse. Every extant treaty text of the late Bronze Age attests to a section known as the “blessings and curses,” the former for covenant loyalty and the latter for covenant breach. Blessings were promised rewards for obedience; curses were threatened judgments for disobedience. In the Book of Deuteronomy these are fully developed you take to heart the commandments of the LORD your God that I am giving you today, 11:28 and the curse if you pay no attention to his commandments and turn from the way I am setting before you today to pursue other gods you have not known. 11:29 When the LORD your God brings you into the land you are to possess, you must pronounce the blessing on Mount Gerizim and the curse on Mount Ebal. 11:30 Are they not across the Jordan River, toward the west, in the land of the Canaanites who live in the Arabah opposite Gilgal near the oak of Moreh? 11:31 For you are about to cross the Jordan to possess the land the LORD your God is giving you, and you will possess and inhabit it. 11:32 Be certain to keep all the statutes and ordinances that I am presenting to you today.

The Central Sanctuary

12:1 These are the statutes and ordinances you must be careful to obey as long as you live in the land the LORD, the God of your ancestors, has given you to possess. 12:2 You must in 27:1–28:68. Here Moses adumbrates the whole by way of anticipation.

1 tn Heb “listen to,” that is, obey.
2 tn Heb “do not listen to,” that is, do not obey.
3 tn Heb “the commandments of the LORD your God.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.
4 tn Heb “am commanding.” (so NASB, RSV).
5 tn Heb “walk after”; NIV “by following”; NLT “by worshiping.” This is a violation of the first commandment, the most serious of the covenant violations (Deut 5:6-7).
6 sn Mount Gerizim...Mount Ebal. These two mountains are near the ancient site of Shechem and the modern city of Nablus. The valley between them is like a great amphitheater with the mountain slopes as seating sections. The place was sacred because it was there that Abraham pitched his camp and built his first altar after coming to Canaan (Gen 12:6). Jacob also settled at Shechem for a time and dug a well from which Jesus once requested a drink of water (Gen 33:18-20; John 4:5-7). When Joshua and the Israelites finally brought Canaan under control they assembled at Shechem as Moses commanded and undertook a ritual of covenant reaffirmation (Josh 8:30-35; 24:1-25). Half the tribes stood on Mt. Gerizim and half on Mt. Ebal and in antiphonal chorus pledged their residence, or “his residence”) to the infinitive perfect. This is reflected in the translation by the words “by all means.”
8 sn Sacred pillars. These are the stelae (stone pillars; the Hebrew term is בָּשָׁלֶמֶשׁ, bēšālēm) associated with Baal worship, perhaps to mark a spot hallowed by an alleged visitation of the gods. See also Deut 7:5.
9 sn Sacred Asherah poles. The Hebrew term (plural) is תִּשְׁכַּחַן (‘asherithim). See note on the word “(leafy) tree” in v. 2, and also Deut 7:5.
10 tn Heb “the LORD your God.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.
11 tn Some scholars, on the basis of v. 11, emend the MT reading הבשון (bekhono, “his residence”) to the infinitive construct במすることで גוטה (bekhokken, “to make [his name] to dwell”), perhaps with the 3rd person masculine singular of הבשון (bekkon, “to cause it to dwell”). Though the presupposed noun הבשון (bekkhen) is nowhere else attested, the parallel here with אָבְנֵי (abnãy, “there”) favors retaining the MT as it stands.
12 tn Heb “heave offerings of your hand.”
13 tn Heb “annoy your house,” referring to entire households. The pronouns “you” and “your” are plural in the Hebrew text.
14 tn Heb “the LORD your God.” See note on “he” in 12:5.
15 tn Heb “a man.”

been rearranged to make this clear.

12 sn Heb “destroying you must destroy”; KJV “Ye shall utterly (surely ASV) destroy”; NRSV “must demolish completely.” The Hebrew infinitive absolute precedes the verb for emphasis, which is reflected in the translation by the words “by all means.”

13 tn Heb “ Sunni ‘rest.’
River² and settle in the land he² is granting you as an inheritance and you find relief from all the enemies who surround you, you will live in safety.⁹

12:11 Then you must come to the place the LORD your God chooses for his name to reside, bringing⁴ everything I am commanding you — your burnt offerings, sacrifices, tithes, the personal offerings you have prepared,⁸ and all your choice votive offerings which you devote to him.⁶

12:12 You shall rejoice in the presence of the LORD your God, along with your sons, daughters, male and female servants, and the Levites in your villages⁷ (since they have no allotment or inheritance with you).⁸

12:13 Make sure you do not offer burnt offerings in any place you wish, 12:14 for you may do so⁸ only in the place the LORD chooses in one of your tribal areas — there you may do everything I am commanding you.¹⁰

Regulations for Profane Slaughter

12:15 On the other hand, you may slaughter and eat meat as you please when the LORD your God blesses you¹¹ in all your villages.¹² Both the ritually pure and impure may eat it, whether it is a gazelle or an ibex. 12:16 However, you must not eat blood — pour it out on the ground like water. 12:17 You will not be allowed to eat in your villages your tithe of grain, new wine, olive oil, the firstborn of your herd and flock, any votive offerings you have vowed, or your freewill and personal offerings. 12:18 Only in the presence of the LORD your God may you eat these, in the place he¹³ chooses. This applies to you, your son, your daughter, your male and female servants, and the Levites¹⁴ in your villages. In that place you will rejoice before the LORD your God in all the output of your labor.¹⁵

12:19 Be careful not to overlook the Levites as long as you live in the land.

The Sanctity of Blood

12:20 When the LORD your God extends your borders as he said he would do and you say, “I want to eat meat just as I please,”¹⁶ you may do so as you wish. 12:21 If the place he¹⁸ chooses to locate his name is too far for you, you may slaughter any of your herd and flock he¹⁹ has given you just as I have stipulated; you may eat them in your villages just as you wish. 12:22 Like you eat the gazelle or ibex, so you may eat these; the ritually impure and pure alike may eat them. 12:23 However, by no means eat the blood, for the blood is life itself¹²¹ — you must not eat the life with the meat! 12:24 You must not eat it! You must pour it out on the ground like water. 12:25 You must not eat it so that it may go well with you and your children after you; you will be doing what is right in the LORD’s sight. 12:26 Only the holy things and votive offerings that belong to you, you must pick up and take to the place the LORD will choose. 12:27 You must offer your burnt offerings, both meat and blood, on the altar of the LORD your God; the blood of your other sacrifices you must pour out on his altar while you eat the meat. 12:28 Pay careful attention to all these things I am commanding you so that it may always go well with you and your children

¹ tn The word “River” is not in the Hebrew text, but has been supplied in the translation for clarity.

² tn Heb “the LORD your God.” See note on “he” in 12:5.

³ tn In the Hebrew text vv. 10-11 are one long, complex sentence. For stylistic reasons the translation divides this into two sentences.

⁴ tn Heb “and it will be (to) the place where the LORD your God chooses to cause his name to dwell you will bring.”

⁶ tn Heb “the Lord.” See note on “he” in 12:5.

⁷ tn Heb “within your gates” (so KJV, NASB); NAB “in your own community.”

⁸ sn They have no allotment or inheritance with you. See note on the word “inheritance” in Deut 10:9.

⁹ tn Heb “offer burnt offerings.” The expression “do so” has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.

¹¹ tn Heb “only in all the desire of your soul you may sacrifice and eat flesh according to the blessing of the LORD your God which he has given to you.”

¹² tn Heb “gates” (so KJV, NASB; likewise in v. 17, 18).

¹³ tn Heb “the Lord your God.” See note on “he” in 12:5.

¹⁵ tc Heb “in the eyes of the LORD.” The LXX adds “your God” to create the common formula, “the LORD your God.” The MT is preferred precisely because it does not include the stereotyped formula; thus it more likely preserves the original text.

¹⁷ sn The word “River” is not in the Hebrew text, but has been supplied in the translation for clarity.

¹⁸ tn Heb “in all the sending forth of your hands.”

¹⁹ tn Heb “for my soul desires to eat meat.”

²⁰ tn Heb “according to all the desire of your soul you may eat meat.”

after you when you do what is good and right in the sight of the LORD your God.

The Abomination of Pagan Gods

12:29 When the LORD your God eliminates the nations from the place where you are headed and you dispossess them, you will settle down in their land.1 12:30 After they have been destroyed from your presence, be careful not to be ensnared like they are; do not pursue their gods and say, "How do these nations serve their gods? I will do the same." 12:31 You must not worship the LORD your God the way they do!2 For everything that is abhorrent3 to him,4 everything he hates, they have done when worshipping their gods. They even burn up their sons and daughters before their gods!

Idolatry and False Prophets

12:32 (13:1)5 You6 must be careful to do everything I am commanding you. Do not add to it or subtract from it!7 13:1 Suppose a prophet or one who foretells by dreams8 should appear among you and show you a sign or wonder,9 13:2 and the sign or wonder should come to pass concerning what he said to you, namely, “Let us follow other gods” – gods whom you have not previously known – and let us serve them.” 13:3 You must not listen to the words of that prophet or dreamer,10 For the LORD your God will be testing you to see if you love him11 with all your mind and being.12 13:4 You must follow the LORD your God and revere only him; and you must observe his commandments, obey him, serve him, and remain loyal to him. 13:5 As for that prophet or dreamer,13 he must be executed because he encouraged rebellion against the LORD your God who brought you from the land of Egypt, redeeming you from that place of slavery, and because he has tried to entice you from the way the LORD your God has commanded you to go. In this way you must purge out evil from within.14

False Prophets in the Family

13:6 Suppose your own full brother,15 your son, your daughter, your beloved wife, or your closest friend should seduce you secretly and encourage you to go and serve other gods,20 that neither you nor your ancestors21 have previously known; 13:7 the gods of the surrounding people (whether near you or far from you, from one end of the earth to the other). 13:8 You must

1 In Heb “dwell in their land” (so NASB). In the Hebrew text vv. 29-30 are one long sentence. For stylistic reasons the translation divides it into two.
2 In Heb “you must not do thus to/for the LORD your God.”
3 See note on this term at Deut 7:25.
4 In Heb “every abomination of the LORD.” See note on the word “his” in v. 27.
5 Beginning with 12:32, the verse numbers through 13:18 in the English Bible differ from the verse numbers in the Hebrew text (BHS), with 12:32 ET = 13:1 HT, 13:1 ET = 13:2 HT, 13:2 ET = 13:3 HT, etc., through 13:18 ET = 13:19 HT. With 14:1 the verse numbers in the ET and HT are again the same.
6 In this verse highlights a phenomenon found throughout Deuteronomy, but most especially in chap. 12, namely, the alternation of grammatical singular and plural forms of the pronoun known as Numeruswechsel in German scholarship. Critical scholarship in general resolves the “problem” by suggesting varying literary traditions – one favorable to the singular pronoun and the other to the plural – which appear in the (obviously rough) redacted text at hand. Even the ancient versions were troubled by the lack of harmony of grammatical number and in this verse, for example, offered a translation that means “he or she is no longer coming among you” (MT) or “he or she is no longer coming among you” (English). The MT reads “Everything I am commanding you (plural) you (plural) must be careful to do; you (singular) must not add to it nor should you (singular) subtract form it.” Smr, Lxx, Syriac, and Vulgate suggest singular for the first two pronouns but a few Smr MSS propose plural for the last two. What both ancient and modern scholars tend to overlook, however, is the covenantal theological tone of the Book of Deuteronomy, one that views Israel as a collective body (singular) made up of many individuals (plural). See M. Weinfield, Deuteronomy 1–11 (AB), 15-16; J. A. Thompson, Deuteronomy (TOTC), 21-23.
7 In Heb “or a dreamer of dreams” (so KJV, ASV, NASB). The difference between a prophet (אֱלֹהִים, ה' or ה' אֱלֹהִים) and one who foretells by dreams (אֱלֹהִים אוֹ חָלָם) was not so much one of office – for both received revelation by dreams (cf. Num 12:6) – as it was of function or emphasis. The prophet was more a proclamation and interpreter of revelation whereas the one who foretold by dreams was a receiver of revelation. In later times the role of the one who foretold by dreams was abused and thus denigrated as compared to that of the prophet (cf. Jer 23:28).
8 The expression אֱלֹהִים אוֹ חָלָם (or ‘o mofet) became a formulaic way of speaking of ways of authenticating prophetic messages or other works of God (cf. Deut 28:46; Isa 20:3). The NT equivalent is the Greek term σήμειον (sêmeion), a sign performed (used frequently in the Gospel of John, cf. 2:11, 18; 20:30-31). They could, however, be counterfeit or (as here) permitted by the LORD to false prophets as a means of testing his people.
9 In Heb “or dreamer of dreams.” See note on this expression in v. 1.
10 In Heb “the LORD your God.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.
11 In Heb “all your heart and soul” (so NRSV, CEV, NLT); or “heart and being” (NCV “your whole being”). See note on the word “being” in Deut 6:5.
12 In Heb “or dreamer of dreams.” See note on this expression in v. 1.
13 In Heb “your midst” (so NAB, NRSV). The severity of the judgment here (i.e., capital punishment) is because of the severity of the sin, namely, high treason against the Great King. Idolatry is a violation of the first two commandments (Deut 5:6-10) as well as the spirit and intent of the Shema (Deut 6:4-5).
14 In Heb “your brother, the son of your mother.” In a polyamorous society it was not rare to have half brothers and sisters by way of a common father and different mothers.
15 In the Hebrew text these words are in the form of a brief quotation: “entice you secretly saying, ‘Let us go and serve other gods.’”
16 In Heb “fathers” (also in v. 17).
17 In Heb “which you have not known, you or your fathers.” (cf. KJV, ASV; on “fathers” cf. v. 18).
18 In or “land” (so NIV, NCV); the same Hebrew word can be translated “land” or “earth.”
not give in to him or even listen to him; do not feel sympathy for him or spare him or cover up for him. 13:9 Instead, you must kill him without fail! Your own hand must be the first to strike him, and then the hands of the whole community. 13:10 You must stone him to death because he tried to entice you away from the Lord your God, who delivered you from the land of Egypt, that place of slavery. 13:11 Thus all Israel will hear and be afraid; no longer will they continue to do evil like this among you.

Punishment of Community Idolatry

13:12 Suppose you should hear in one of your cities, which the Lord your God is giving you as a place to live, that 13:13 some evil people have departed from among you to entice the inhabitants of their cities, saying, “Let’s go and serve other gods” (whom you have not known before). 13:14 You must investigate thoroughly and inquire carefully. If it is indeed true that such a disgraceful thing is being done among you, 13:15 you must by all means slaughter the inhabitants of that city with the sword; annihilate with the sword everyone in it, as well as the livestock. 13:16 You must gather all of its plunder into the middle of the plaza and burn the city and all its plunder as a whole burnt offering to the Lord your God. It will be an abandoned ruin forever – it must never be rebuilt again. 13:17 You must not take for yourself anything that has been placed under judgment. Then the Lord will relent from his intense anger, show you compassion, have mercy on you, and multiply you as he promised your ancestors. 13:18 Thus you must obey the Lord your God, keeping all his commandments that I am giving you today and doing what is right before him.

The Holy and the Profane

14:1 You are children of the Lord your God. Do not cut yourselves or shave your forehead bald for the sake of the dead. 14:2 For you are a people holy to the Lord your God. He has chosen you to be his people, prized above all others on the face of the earth. 14:3 You must not eat any forbidden thing. 14:4 These are the animals you may eat: the ox, the sheep, the goat, the ibex, the gazelle, the wild ass, the wild deer; cf. Arabic 'ayyal, 'dear'; cf. NAB, NIV, NCV "roe deer". 14:5 the ibex, the gazelle, the wild ass, the wild deer; cf. Arabic 'ayyal, 'dear'; cf. NAB, NIV, NCV "roe deer". 14:6 Supposing you should hear in one of your cities, which the Lord your God is giving you as a place to live, that 14:7 some evil people have departed from among you to entice the inhabitants of their cities, saying, “Let’s go and serve other gods” (whom you have not known before). 14:8 You must investigate thoroughly and inquire carefully. If it is indeed true that such a disgraceful thing is being done among you, 14:9 you must by all means slaughter the inhabitants of that city with the sword; annihilate with the sword everyone in it, as well as the livestock. 14:10 You must gather all of its plunder into the middle of the plaza and burn the city and all its plunder as a whole burnt offering to the Lord your God. It will be an abandoned ruin forever – it must never be rebuilt again. 14:11 You must not take for yourself anything that has been placed under judgment. Then the Lord will relent from his intense anger, show you compassion, have mercy on you, and multiply you as he promised your ancestors. 14:12 Thus you must obey the Lord your God, keeping all his commandments that I am giving you today and doing what is right before him.

1 tn The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation indicates with the words “without fail” (cf. NIV “you must certainly put him to death”).
2 tn Heb “to put him to death.” This is misleading in English for such an action would leave nothing for the others to do.
3 sn Execution by means of pelting the offender with stones afforded a mechanism whereby the whole community could share in it. In a very real sense it could be done not only in the name of the community and on its behalf but by its members (cf. Lev 24:14; Num 15:35; Deut 21:12; Josh 7:25).
4 sn Some see in this statement an argument for the deterrent effect of capital punishment (Deut 17:13; 19:20; 21:21).
5 tn Heb “men, sons of Belial.” The Hebrew term בְּלִיַּעַל (b’liyya’al) has the idea of worthlessness, without morals or scruples (HALOT 133-34 s.v.). Cf. NAB, NRSV “scoundrels”; TEV, CEV “worthless people”; NLT “worthless rabble.”
6 tc The LXX and Tg read “your” for the MT’s “their.”
7 tn The translation understands the relative clause as a statement by Moses, not as part of the quotation from the evildoers. See also v. 2.
8 tc Theodiotan adds “in Israel,” perhaps to broaden the matter beyond the local village.
9 tn The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, indicated in the translation by the words “by all means.” Cf. KJV, NASB “surely”; NIV “certainly.”
10 sn Or “put under divine judgment. The Hebrew word קַרְאוֹן (karem) refers to placing persons or things under God’s judgment, usually to the extent of their complete destruction. Though primarily applied against the heathen, this severe judgment could also fall upon unrepentant Israelites (cf. the story of Achan in Josh 7). See also the note on the phrase “divine judgment” in Deut 2:34.
11 tn Heb “street.”
12 tn Heb “mound”; NAB “a heap of ruins.” The Hebrew word צְבִי (tsib) refers to this day to a ruin represented especially by a built-up mound of dirt or debris (cf. Tel Aviv, “mound of grain”).
goat, the antelope, 5 the wild oryx, 2 and the mountain sheep. 5
14:6 You may eat any animal that has hooves divided into two parts and that chews the cud. 4 14:7 However, you may not eat the following animals among those that chew the cud or those that have divided hooves: the camel, the hare, and the rock badger. 5 (Although they chew the cud, they do not have divided hooves and are therefore ritually impure to you). 14:8 Also the pig is ritually impure to you; though it has divided hooves, 6 it does not chew the cud. You may not eat their meat or even touch their remains. 14:9 These you may eat from among water creatures: anything with fins and scales you may eat, 14:10 but whatever does not have fins and scales you may not eat; it is ritually impure to you. 14:11 All ritually clean birds you may eat. 14:12 These are the ones you may not eat: the eagle, 7 the vulture, 8 the black vulture, 9 14:13 the kite, the black kite, the dayyah 10 after its species, 14:14 every raven after its species, 14:15 the ostrich, 11 the owl, 12 the seagull, the falcon 13 after its species, 14:16 the little owl, the long-eared owl, the white owl, 14 14:17 the jackdaw, 15 the carrion vulture, the cormorant, 14:18 the stork, the heron after its species, the hoopoe, the bat, 14:19 and any winged thing on the ground are impure to you—they may not be eaten. 14:20 You may eat any clean bird. 14:21 You may not eat any corpse, though you may give it to the resident foreigner who is living in your villages and he may eat it, or you may sell it to a foreigner. You are a people holy to the Lord your God. Do not boil a young goat in its mother’s milk. 14:22

The Offering of Tribute

14:22 You must be certain to tithe all the produce of your seed that comes from the field year after year. 14:23 In the presence of the Lord your God you must eat from the tithe of your grain, your new wine, 20 your olive oil, and the firstborn of your herds and flocks in the place he chooses to locate his name, so that you may learn to revere the Lord your God always. 14:24 When he blesses you, if the place where he chooses to locate his name is distant, 14:25 you may convert the tithe into money, secure the money, 23 and travel to the place the Lord your God chooses for himself. 14:26 Then you may spend the money however you wish for cattle, sheep, wine, beer, or whatever you desire. You and your household may eat there in the Lord’s presence.

2 The Hebrew term דישון (dishon) is a hapax legomenon. Its referent is uncertain but the animal is likely a variety of antelope (cf. NAB “white-rumped deer”; NIV, NASB, NLT “ibex”).
3 The Hebrew term רע (r’; a variant is רע, to’) could also refer to another species of antelope. Cf. NAB “long-horned antelope”; NIV, NASB “antelope.”
4 The Hebrew text includes “among the animals.” This has not been included in the translation for stylistic reasons.
5 The Hebrew term פארס (parsah) may refer to the Niphal (passive) for expected Qal (“you [plural] must not eat”); cf. Smr, LXX. However, the harder reading should stand.

7 The Hebrew text includes “among the animals.” This has not been included in the translation for stylistic reasons.
8 The Hebrew term דישון (dishon) describes a large vulture otherwise known as the osfragie (cf. KJV). This largest of the vultures takes its name from its habit of dropping skeletal remains from a great height so as to break the bones apart.
9 The Hebrew term רע (r’; a variant is רע, to’) is another hapax legomenon with the possible meaning “wild sheep.” Cf. KJV, ASV “chamois”; NAB, NASB, NRSV, NLT “mountain sheep.”

12 The Hebrew term דישון (dishon) may refer to the Niphal (passive) for expected Qal (“you [plural] must not eat”); cf. Smr, LXX. However, the harder reading should stand.
13 The Hebrew term מִיסָר (misar) describes a large vulture otherwise known as the osfragie (cf. KJV). This largest of the vultures takes its name from its habit of dropping skeletal remains from a great height so as to break the bones apart.
14 The Hebrew term מִיסָר (misar) is another hapax legomenon with the possible meaning “wild sheep.” Cf. KJV, ASV “chamois”; NAB, NASB, NRSV, NLT “mountain sheep.”
15 The Hebrew term דישון (dishon) may refer to a type of owl (NAB, NIV, NRSV “desert owl”) or perhaps the pelican (so KJV, NASB, NLT).
16 The MT reads the Niphal (passive) for expected Qal (“you [plural] must not eat”); cf. Smr, LXX. However, the harder reading should stand.
17 Heb “gates” (also in vv. 27, 28, 29).
18 Do not boil a young goat in its mother’s milk. This strange prohibition—one whose rationale is unclear but probably related to pagan ritual—may seem out of place here but actually is not for the following reasons: (1) the passage as a whole opens with a prohibition against heathen mourning rites (i.e., death, vv. 1-2) and closes with what appear to be birth and infancy rites. (2) In the other two places where the stipulation occurs (Exod 23:19 and Exod 34:26) it similarly concludes major sections. (3) Whatever the practice signified it clearly was abhorrent to the Lord and fittingly concludes the topic of various breaches of purity and holiness as represented by the ingestion of unclean animals (vv. 3-21). See C. M. Carmichael, “On Separating Life and Death: An Explanation of Some Biblical Laws,” HTR 69 (1976): 1-7; J. Milgrom, “You Shall Not Boil a Kid In Its Mother’s Milk,” BRev 1 (1985): 48-55; R. J. Ratner and B. Zuckerman, “In Rereading the ‘Kid in Milk’ Inscriptions,” BRev 1 (1985): 56-58; and M. Haran, “Seething a Kid in Its Mother’s Milk,” JS 30 (1979): 23-35.
19 The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, indicated in the translation by the words “be certain.”
20 This refers to wine in the early stages of fermentation. In its later stages it becomes wine (יָיִין, yayin) in its mature sense.
21 Heb “the Lord your God.” See note on “He” in 14:2.
22 The Hebrew text includes “way is so far from you that you may not eat.” Cf. Smr, LXX. However, the harder reading should stand.
23 Heb “bind the silver in your hand.”
presence of the Lord your God and enjoy it. 14:27 As for the Levites in your villages, you must not ignore them, for they have no allotment or inheritance along with you. 14:28 At the end of every three years you must bring all the tithe of your produce, in that very year, and you must store it up in your villages. 14:29 Then the Levites (because they have no allotment or inheritance with you), the resident foreigners, the orphans, and the widows of your villages may come and eat their fill so that the Lord your God may bless you in all the work you do.

Release for Debt Slaves

15:1 At the end of every seven years you must declare a cancellation of debts. 15:2 This is the nature of the cancellation: Every creditor must remit what he has loaned to another person; he must not force payment from his fellow Israelite, for it is to be recognized as “the Lord’s cancellation of debts.” 15:3 You may exact payment from a foreigner, but whatever your fellow Israelite owes you, you must remit. 15:4 However, there should not be any poor among you, for the Lord will surely bless you in the land that he is giving you as an inheritance. 15:5 If you carefully obey him by keeping all these commandments that I am commanding you to make sure you open wide your hand to your fellow Israelites who are needy and poor in your land.

15:6 For the Lord your God will bless you just as he has promised; you will lend to many nations but will not borrow from any, and you will rule over many nations but they will not rule over you.

The Spirit of Liberality

15:7 If a fellow Israelite from one of your villages in the land that the Lord your God is giving you should be poor, you must not harden your heart or be insensitive to his impoverished condition. 15:8 Instead, you must be sure to open your hand to him and generously lend him whatever he needs. 15:9 Be careful lest you entertain the wicked thought that the seventh year, the year of cancellation of debts, has almost arrived, and your attitude be wrong toward your impoverished fellow Israelite and you do not lend him anything; he will cry out to the Lord against you and you will be regarded as having sinned. 15:10 You must by all means lend to him and not be upset by doing it, for because of this the Lord your God will bless you in all your work and in everything you attempt. 15:11 There will never cease to be some poor people in the land; therefore, I am commanding you to make sure you open your hand to your fellow Israelites who are needy and poor in your land.
Release of Debt Slaves

15:12 If your fellow Hebrew — whether male or female — is sold to you and serves you for six years, then in the seventh year you must let that servant go free.
15:13 If you set them free, you must not send them away empty-handed.
15:14 You must supply them generously from your flock, your threshing floor, and your winepress — as the Lord your God has blessed you, you must give to them.
15:15 Remember that you were a slave in the land of Egypt and the Lord your God redeemed you; therefore, I am commanding you to do this thing today.
15:16 However, if the servant says to you, “I do not want to leave you,” because he loves you and your household, since he is well off with you, 15:17 you shall take an awl and pierce a hole through his ear to the door. Then he will become your servant permanently (this applies to your female servant as well).
15:18 You should not consider it difficult to let him go free, for he will have served you for six years, twice the time of a hired worker; the Lord your God will bless you in everything you do.

Giving God the Best

15:19 You must set apart for the Lord your God every firstborn male born to your herds and flocks. You must not work the firstborn of your bulls or shear the firstborn of your flocks.
15:20 You and your household must eat them annually before the Lord your God in the place he chooses.
15:21 If they have any kind of blemish — lameness, blindness, or anything else — you may not offer them as a sacrifice to the Lord your God.
15:22 You may eat it in your villages, whether you are ritually impure or clean, just as you would eat a gazelle or an ibex.
15:23 However, you must not eat its blood; you must pour it out on the ground like water.

The Passover-Unleavened Bread Festival

16:1 Observe the month Abib and keep the Passover to the Lord your God, for in that month he brought you out of Egypt by night.
16:2 You must sacrifice the Passover animal (from the flock or the herd) to the Lord your God in the place where he chooses to locate his name.
16:3 You must not eat any yeast with it; for seven days you must eat bread made without yeast, symbolic of affliction, for you came out of Egypt hurriedly. You must do this so you will remember for the rest of your life the day you came out of the land of Egypt.
16:4 There must not be a scrap of yeast within your land for seven days, nor can any of the meat you sacrifice on the evening of the first day remain until the next morning.
16:5 You may not sacrifice the Passover in just any of your villages, that the Lord your God is giving you, but you must sacrifice it in the evening in the place where he chooses to locate his name, at sunset, the time of day you came out of Egypt.

16:7 You must cook and eat it in the place the Lord your God chooses; you may return the next morning to your tents.

16:8 You must eat bread made without yeast for six days. The seventh day you are to hold an assembly for the Lord your God; you must not do any work on that day.

The Festival of Weeks

16:9 You must count seven weeks; you must begin to count them from the time you begin to harvest the standing grain.

16:10 Then you are to celebrate the Festival of Weeks before the Lord your God with the voluntary offering that you will bring, in proportion to how he has blessed you.

16:11 You shall rejoice before him — you, your son, your daughter, your male and female slaves, the Levites in your villages, the resident foreigners, the orphans, and the widows among you — in the place where the Lord chooses to locate his name.

16:12 Furthermore, remember that you were a slave in Egypt, and so be careful to observe these statutes.

The Festival of Temporary Shelters

16:13 You must celebrate the Festival of Temporary Shelters for seven days, at the time of the harvest of your barley and the firstfruits of your grain harvest.

16:14 You are to rejoice in your festival, you, your son, your daughter, your male and female slaves, the Levites, the resident foreigners, the orphans, and the widows who are in your villages.

16:15 You are to celebrate the festival seven days before the Lord your God in the place he chooses, for he will bless you in all your productivity and in whatever you do; so you will indeed rejoice!

16:16 Three times a year all your males must appear before the Lord your God in the place he chooses for the Festival of Unleavened Bread, the Festival of Weeks, and the Festival of Temporary Shelters; and they must not appear before him empty-handed.

16:17 Every one of you must give as you are able, according to the blessing of the Lord your God that he has given you.

Provision for Justice

16:18 You must appoint judges and civil servants for each tribe in all your villages that the Lord your God is giving you, and they must judge the people fairly.

16:19 You must not pervert justice or show favor. Do not take a bribe, for bribes blind the eyes of the wise and distort the words of the righteous.

16:20 You must pursue justice alone so that you may live and inherit the land the Lord your God is giving you.

1 tn Heb “the Passover.” The translation uses a pronoun to avoid redundancy in English.

2 tc The MT reading הָעַר (’el, “unto”) before “the place” should, following Smr, Syriac, Targums, and Vulgate, be omitted in favor of הָעַר (“in the place.”)

3 tn Heb “the Lord your God.” See note on “he” in 16:1.

4 tn The rules that governed the Passover meal are found in Exod 12:1-51, and Deut 16:1-8. The word translated “cook (bashal) here is translated “boil” in other places (e.g. Exod 23:19, 1 Sam 2:13-15). This would seem to contradict Exod 12:9 where the Israelites are told not to eat the Passover sacrifice raw or boiled. However, 2 Chr 35:13 recounts the celebration of a Passover feast during the reign of Josiah, and explains that the people “cooked (bashal) the Passover sacrifices over the open fire.” The use of הבשל (bashal) with “fire” (אש, esh) suggests that the word could be used to speak of boiling or roasting.

5 tn The words “on that day” are not in the Hebrew text; they are supplied in the translation for clarification (cf. TEV, NLT).

6 tn Heb “the seven weeks.” The translation uses a pronoun to avoid redundancy in English.

7 tn The Hebrew phrase יהוזך ירחך (k’haq shavu’ot) is otherwise known in the OT (Exod 23:16) as יHasMaxLength (qatsir, “harvest” and in the NT as πινακίοθετήσεις, “Pentecost”).

8 tn Heb “the sufficiency of the offering of your hand.”

9 tn Heb “the Lord your God.” See note on “he” in 16:1.

10 tn Heb “the Lord your God.” See note on “he” in 16:1.

11 tn Heb “gates.”

12 tn The Hebrew phrase תַּחַת הָעַר (k’haq hassukot, “festival of huts” or “festival of tabernacles”) is traditionally known as the Feast of Tabernacles. The rendering “booths” (cf. NAB, NASB, NRSV) is now preferable to the traditional “tabernacles” (KJV, ASV, NIV) in light of the meaning of the term suk’ah, “hut; booth”), but “booths” are frequently associated with trade shows and craft fairs in contemporary American English. Clearer is the English term “shelters” (so NOV, TEV, CEB, NLT), but this does not reflect the temporary nature of the living arrangement. This feast was a commemoration of the wanderings of the Israelites after they left Egypt, suggesting that a translation like “temporary shelters” is more appropriate.

13 tn Heb “when you gather in your threshing-floor and winepress.”

14 tn Heb “in your gates.”

15 tn Heb “the Lord.” See note on “he” in 16:1.

16 tn Heb “the Lord your God.” See note on “he” in 16:1.

17 tn Heb “in all the work of your hands” (so NASB, NIV); NAB, NRSV “in all your undertakings.”

18 tn Heb “the Lord.” See note on “he” in 16:1.

19 tn Heb “a man must give according to the gift of his hand.” This has been translated as second person for stylistic reasons, in keeping with the second half of the verse, which is second person rather than third.

20 tn The Hebrew term שָׁתִיר (sh’terim), usually translated “officers” (KJV, NOC) or “officials” (NAB, NIV, NRSV, NLT), derives from the verb שָׁתִיר (sh’ter, “to write”). The noun became generic for all types of public officials. Here, however, it may be appositionally expegetical to “judges,” thus resulting in the phrase, “judges, that is, civil officers,” etc. Whoever the שומרים are, their task here consists of rendering judgments and administering justice.

23 tn Heb “twist, overturn”; NRSV “subverts the cause.”

24 tn Or “innocent”; NRSV “those who are in the right”; NLT “the godly.”

25 tn Heb “justice, justice.” The repetition is emphatic; one might translate as “pure justice” or “unadulterated justice” (cf. NLT “true justice”).
Examples of Legal Cases

16:21 You must not plant any kind of tree as a sacred Asherah pole\(^1\) near the altar of the Lord your God which you build for yourself. 16:22 You must not erect a sacred pillar;\(^2\) a thing the Lord your God detests. 17:1 You must not sacrifice to him\(^3\) a bull or sheep that has a blemish or any other defect, because that is considered offensive\(^4\) to the Lord your God. 17:2 Suppose a man or woman is discovered among you – in one of your villages\(^5\) that the Lord your God is giving you – who sins before the Lord your God\(^6\) and breaks his covenant\(^7\) by serving other gods and worshiping them – the sun,\(^8\) moon, or any other heavenly bodies which I have not permitted you to worship.\(^8\) 17:4 When it is reported to you and you hear about it, you must investigate carefully. If it is indeed true that such a disgraceful thing\(^9\) is being done in Israel, 17:5 you must bring to your city gates\(^5\) that man or woman who has done this wicked thing – that very man or woman – and you must stone that person to death.\(^10\) 17:6 At the testimony of two or three witnesses they must be executed. They cannot be put to death on the testimony of only one witness. 17:7 The witnesses\(^11\) must be first to begin the execution, and then all the people are to join in afterward. In this way you will purge evil from among you.

Appeal to a Higher Court

17:8 If a matter is too difficult for you to judge – bloodshed,\(^12\) legal claim,\(^13\) or assault\(^14\) – matters of controversy in your villages\(^15\) – you must leave there and go up to the place the Lord your God chooses.\(^16\) 17:9 You will go to the Levitical priests and the judge in office in those days and seek a solution; they will render a verdict. 17:10 You must then do as they have determined at that place the Lord chooses. Be careful to do just as you are taught. 17:11 You must do what you are instructed, and the verdict they pronounce to you, without fail. Do not deviate right or left from what they tell you. 17:12 The person who pays no attention\(^17\) to the priest currently serving the Lord your God there, or to the verdict – that person must die, so that you may purge evil from Israel. 17:13 Then all the people will hear and be afraid, and not be so presumptuous again.

Provision for Kingship

17:14 When you come to the land the Lord your God is giving you and take it over and live in it and then say, “I will select a king like all the nations surrounding me," 17:15 you must select without fail\(^18\) a king whom the Lord your God chooses. From among your fellow citizens\(^19\) you must appoint a king – you may not designate a foreigner who is not one of your fellow Israelites.\(^20\) 17:16 Moreover, he must not accumulate horses for himself or allow the people to return to Egypt to do so,\(^21\) for the Lord has said you must never again return that way. 17:17 Furthermore, he must not marry many\(^22\) wives lest his affections turn aside, and he must not accumulate much silver and gold. 17:18 When he sits on his royal throne he must make a copy of this law² on a scroll¹ given to him by the Levitical priests. 17:19 It must be with him constantly and he must read it as long as he lives, so that he may learn to revere the Lord his God and observe all the words of this law and these statutes and carry them out. 17:20 Then he will not exalt himself above his fellow citizens or turn from the commands to the right or left, and he and his descendants will enjoy many years ruling over his kingdom³ in Israel.

Provision for Priests and Levites

18:1 The Levitical priests⁴ – indeed, the entire tribe of Levi – will have no allotment or inheritance with Israel; they may eat the burnt offerings of the Lord and of his inheritance.⁵ 18:2 They⁶ will have no inheritance in the midst of their fellow Israelites;⁷ the Lord alone is their inheritance, just as he had told them. 18:3 This shall be the priests’ fair allotment⁸ from the people who offer sacrifices, whether bull or sheep – they must give to the priest the shoulder, the jowls, and the stomach. 18:4 You must give them the best of your grain, new wine, and olive oil, as well as the best of your wool when you shear your flocks. 18:5 For the Lord your God has chosen them and their sons from all your tribes to stand¹⁰ and serve in his name¹¹ permanently. 18:6 Suppose a Levite comes by his own free will¹² from one of your villages, from any part of Israel where he is living,¹³ to the place the Lord chooses 18:7 and serves in the name of the Lord his God like his fellow Levites who stand there before the Lord. 18:8 He must eat the same share they do, despite any profits he may gain from the sale of his family’s inheritance.¹⁴

Provision for Prophecy

18:9 When you enter the land the Lord your God is giving you, you must not learn the abhorrent practices of those nations. 18:10 There must never be found among you anyone who sacrifices his son or daughter in the fire,¹⁵ anyone who practices divination,¹⁶ an omen reader,¹⁷ a soothsayer,¹⁸ one who casts spells,¹⁹ one who conjures up spirits,²⁰ a practitioner of the occult,²² or a necromancer.²³ 18:12 Whoever does these things is abhorrent to the Lord and because of these detestable things²⁴

¹ tn Or “instruction.” The LXX reads here τὸ δευτερονόμιον τούτο (to deuteronomion touto, “this second law”). From this Greek phrase the present name of the book, “Deuteronomy” or “second law” (i.e., the second giving of the law), is derived. However, the MT’s expression מִשְׁנֶה הַתּוֹרָה הַזֹּאת (mishneh torath ha’ozet) is better rendered “copy of this law.” Here the term מִשְׁנֶה (lorah) probably refers only to the book of Deuteronomy and not to the whole Pentateuch.

² tn The Hebrew term כָּרָת (sifer) means a “writing” or “document” and could be translated “book” (so KJV, ASV, TEV). However, since “book” carries the connotation of a modern bound book with pages (an obvious anachronism) it is preferable to render the Hebrew term “scroll” here and elsewhere.

⁴ sn Of his inheritance. This is a figurative way of speaking of the produce of the land the Lord will give to his people. It is the Lord’s inheritance, but the Levites are allowed to eat it since they themselves have no inheritance among the other tribes of Israel.

⁵ tn Heb “he” (and throughout the verse).

⁶ tn Heb “brothers,” but not referring to actual siblings. Cf. NASB “their countrymen”; NRSV “the other members of the community.”

⁷ tn Heb “judgment”; KJV, NASB, NRSV “the priest’s due.”

⁸ tn Heb “the firstfruits of your…” (so NIV).

¹⁰ tn Heb “the name of the Lord.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.

¹¹ tn Or “sojourning.” The verb used here refers to living temporarily in a place, not settling down.

¹³ tn Heb “who passes his son or his daughter through the fire.” The expression “pass...through the fire” is probably a euphemism for human sacrifice (cf. NAB, NIV, TEV, NLT). See also Deut 12:31.

¹⁴ tn Heb “a divider of division” (םשֶׁם חָצֵּם, gosem qasaim). This was a means employed to determine the future or the outcome of events by observation of various omens and signs (cf. Num 22:7; 23:23; Josh 13:22; 1 Sam 6:2; 15:23; 28:8; etc.). See M. Horsnell, NIDOTTE 3:945-51.

¹⁵ tn Heb “one who causes to appear” (קֹסֵם קְסָמִים, mosh’mim). Such a practitioner was thought to be able to conjure up spirits or apparitions (cf. Lev 19:26; Judg 9:37; 2 Kgs 21:6; Isa 2:6; 57:3; Jer 27:9; Mic 5:11).

²¹ tn Heb “a seeker of the dead.” This is much the same as “one who conjures up spirits” (cf. 1 Sam 28:6-7).

the Lord your God is about to drive them out from before you. 18:13 You must be blameless before the Lord your God. 18:14 Those nations that you are about to dispossess listen to men and diviners, but the Lord your God has not given you permission to do such things.

18:15 The Lord your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among you— from your fellow Israelites; 2 you must listen to him. 18:16 This accords with what happened at Horeb in the day of the assembly. You asked the Lord your God: “Please do not make us hear the voice of the Lord our God any more or see this great fire any more lest we die.” 18:17 The Lord then said to me, “What they have said is good. 18:18 I will raise up a prophet like you for them from among their fellow Israelites. I will put my words in his mouth and he will speak to them whatever I command. 18:19 I will personally hold responsible anyone who then pays no attention to the words that the prophet speaks in my name.

18:20 “But if any prophet presumes to speak anything in my name that I have not authorized him to speak, or speaks in the name of other gods, that prophet must die. 18:21 Now if you say to yourselves, ‘How can we tell that a message is not from the Lord?’ 18:22 whenever a prophet speaks in my name and the prediction is not fulfilled, then I have not spoken it; the prophet has presumed to speak it, so you need not fear him.”

Laws Concerning Manslaughter

19:1 When the Lord your God destroys the nations whose land he is about to give you and you dispossess them and settle in their cities and houses, 19:2 you must set apart for yourselves three cities. 19:3 You shall build a roadway and divide into thirds the whole extent of your land that the Lord your God is providing as your inheritance; anyone who kills another person should flee to the closest of these cities. 19:4 Now this is the law pertaining to one who flees there in order to live. 19:5 Suppose he goes with someone else to the forest to cut wood and when he raises the ax to cut the tree, the ax head flies loose from the handle and strikes his fellow worker so hard that he dies. The person responsible may then flee to one of these cities to save himself. 19:6 Otherwise the blood avenger will chase after the killer in the heat of his anger, eventually overtake him, and kill him, though this is not a capital case since he did not hate him at the time of the accident. 19:7 Therefore, I am commanding you to set apart for yourselves three cities. 19:8 If the Lord your God enlarges your borders as he promised your ancestors and gives you all the land he pledged to them, then 19:9 and then you are careful to observe all these commandments you today

2 tn The translation understands the Hebrew participial form as having an imminent future sense here.
3 tn The MT expands here on the usual formula by adding “from among you” (cf. Deut 17:15; 18:18; Smr; a number of Greek texts). The expansion seems to be for the purpose of emphasis, i.e., the prophet to come must be not just from Israel but an Israelite by blood.
4 tn “from your brothers,” but not referring to actual siblings. Cf. NAB “from among your own kinsmen”; NASB “from your countrymen”; NRSV “from among your own people.” A similar phrase occurs in v. 17.
5 tn The Hebrew text uses the collective singular in this verse: “my God...lest I die.”
6 tn Heb “will seek from him”; NAB “I myself will make him answer for it”; NRSV “will hold accountable.”
7 tn Heb “he”; the referent (the prophet mentioned in v. 18) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
8 tn Or “commanded” (so KJV, NAB, NIV, NRSV).
9 tn Heb “in your heart.”
10 tn Heb “know the word which the Lord has not spoken.” The issue here is not understanding the meaning of the message, but distinguishing a genuine prophetic word from a false one.
11 tn Heb “does not happen or come to pass.”
12 tn Heb “the Lord has.” See note on the word “his” in v. 5.
13 tn Heb “that is the word which the Lord has not spoken.”
14 tn Heb “the Lord your God.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.
15 tn These three cities, later designated by Joshua, were Kedesh of Galilee, Shechem, and Hebron (Josh 20:7-9).
16 tn Heb “border.”
17 tn Heb “and this is the word pertaining to the one who kills who flees there and lives.”
18 tn Heb “who strikes his neighbor without knowledge.”
19 tn Heb “yesterday and a third (day)” (likewise in v. 6). The point is that there was no animosity between the two parties at the time of the accident and therefore no motive for the killing. Cf. NAB “had previously borne no malice”; NRSV “had not been at enmity before.”
20 tn Heb “his neighbor” (so NAB, NIV; NASB “his friend.”
21 tn Heb “and he raises his hand with the iron.”
22 tn Heb “the iron slips off.”
23 tn Heb “finds.”
24 tn Heb “his neighbor.”
25 tn Heb “he”; the referent (the person responsible for his friend’s death) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
26 tn Heb “and live.”
27 tn Heb “and overtake him, for the road is long.”
28 tn Heb “smite with respect to life,” that is, fatally.
29 tn Heb “no judgment of death.”
30 tn Heb “fathers.”
31 tn Heb “he said to give to your ancestors.” The pronoun has been used in the translation instead for stylistic reasons.
32 tn Heb “all this commandment.” This refers here to the entire covenant agreement of the Book of Deuteronomy as encapsulated in the Shema (Deut 6:4-5).
33 tn Heb “commanding”; NAB “which I enjoin on you today.”
Laws Concerning Witnesses

19:14 You must not encroach on your neighbor’s property, which will have been defined in the inheritance you will obtain in the land the Lord your God is giving you.\(^5\)

19:15 A single witness may not testify against another person for any trespass or sin that he commits. A matter may be legally established only on the testimony of two or three witnesses. 19:16 If a false witness testifies against another person and accuses him of a crime, then both parties to the controversy must stand before the Lord, that is, before the priests and judges who will be in office in those days.\(^6\) The judges will thoroughly investigate the matter, and if the witness should prove to be false and to have given false testimony against the accused,\(^7\) you must do to him what he had intended to do to the accused. In this way you will purge evil from among you.\(^8\) The rest of the people will hear and become afraid to keep doing such evil among you. 19:21 You must not show pity; the principle will be a life for a life, an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, a hand for a hand, and a foot for a foot.\(^9\)

Laws Concerning War with Distant Enemies

20:1 When you go to war against your enemies and see chariots and troops who outnumber you, do not be afraid of them, for the Lord your God, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt, is with you. 20:2 As you move forward for battle, the priests will approach and say to the soldiers, “Listen, Israel! Today you are moving forward to do battle with your enemies. Do not be faint-hearted. Do not fear and tremble or be terrified because of them, for the Lord your God goes with you to fight on your behalf against your enemies to give you victory.” 20:5 Moreover, the officers are to say to the troops, “Who among you has built a new house and not dedicated it? He may go and return to his house. Who among you has married a wife and has not opened her on the wedding night? He may go and return to his wife. Who among you is an enemy? He may return to his place. And the hearts of the soldiers will be discouraged.” 20:7 You must not give measure or weight to the Israelites the slightest bit less, more, or equal. Do not cheat one another.\(^{10}\)

1 sn You will add three more cities. Since these are alluded to nowhere else and thus were probably never added, this must be a provision for other cities of refuge should they be needed (cf. v. 8). See P. C. Craigie, Deuteronomy (NICOT), 267.

2 tn Heb “innocent blood must not be shed.” The Hebrew phrase רֹדֵעַ (roadha’, ‘bera’), means the blood of a person to whom no culpability or responsibility adheres because what he did was without malice aforethought (HALOT 224 s.v רודע 4.b).

3 tn Heb “and blood will be upon you” (cf. KJV, ASV; NRSV “thereby bringing bloodguilt upon you.”)

4 tn Heb “his neighbor.”

5 tn Heb “rises against him and strikes him fatally.”

6 tn The זֶהוּ (‘ezho), “avenger of blood”) would ordinarily be a member of the victim’s family who, after due process of law, was invited to initiate the process of execution (cf. Num 35:16-28). See R. Hubbard, NIDOTTE 1:789-94.

7 sn Purge out the blood of the innocent. Because of the corporate nature of Israel’s community life, the whole community shared in the guilt of unavenged murder unless and until vengeance occurred. Only this would restore spiritual and moral equilibrium (Num 35:33).

8 tn Heb “border.” Cf. NRSV “You must not move your neighbor’s boundary marker.”

9 tn Heb “which they set off from the beginning.”

10 The Hebrew text includes “to possess it.” This phrase has been left untranslated to avoid redundancy.

11 tn Heb “rise up” (likewise in v. 16).

12 tn Heb “may stand.”

13 tn Heb “violent” (קָחָם, khamas). This is a witness whose motivation from the beginning is to do harm to the accused and who, therefore, resorts to calumny and deceit. See I. Swart and C. VanDam, NIDOTTE 2:177-80.

14 Or “rebellion.” Rebellion against God’s law is in view (cf. NAB “of a defection from the law”).

15 In the appositional construction (“before the Lord, that is, before the priests and judges”) indicates that these human agents represented the Lord himself, that is, they stood in his place (cf. Deut 16:18-20; 17:8-9).
home, lest he die in battle and someone else dedicate it. 20:6 Or who among you has planted a vineyard and not benefited from it? He may go home, lest he die in battle and someone else benefit from it. 20:7 Or who among you has become engaged to a woman but has not married her? He may go home, lest he die in battle and someone else marry her.20:8 In addition, the officers are to say to the troops, “Who among you is afraid and fainthearted? He may go home so that he will not make his fellow soldier’s heart as fearful as his own.” 20:9 Then, when the officers have finished speaking, they must appoint unit commanders to lead the troops. 20:10 When you approach a city to wage war against it, offer it terms of peace. 20:11 If it accepts your terms and submits to you, all the people found in it will become your slaves. 20:12 If it does not accept terms of peace but makes war with you, then you are to lay siege to it. 20:13 The Lord your God will deliver it over to you and you must kill every single male by the sword. 20:14 However, the women, little children, cattle, and anything else in the city—all its plunder—you may take for yourselves as spoil. You may take from your enemies the plunder that the Lord your God has given you. 20:15 This is how you are to deal with all those cities located far from you, those that do not belong to these nearby nations.

Laws Concerning War with Canaanite Nations

20:16 As for the cities of these peoples that the Lord your God is giving you to give as an inheritance, you must not allow a single living thing to survive. 20:17 Instead you must utterly annihilate them— the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites—just as the Lord your God has commanded you, so that they cannot teach you all the abhorrent ways they worship their gods, causing you to sin against the Lord your God. 20:19 If you besiege a city for a long time while attempting to capture it, you must not chop down its trees, for you may eat fruit from them and should not cut them down. A tree in the field is not human that you should besiege it! 20:20 However, you may chop down any tree you know is not suitable for food, and you may use it to build siege works against the city that is making war with you until that city falls.

Laws Concerning Unsolved Murder

21:1 If a homicide victim should be found lying in a field in the land the Lord your God is giving you, and no one knows who killed him, 21:2 your elders and judges must go out and measure how far it is to the cities in the vicinity of the corpse. 21:3 Then the elders of the city nearest to it must answer you peace. 21:4 If it answers you peace, 21:5 then the city nearest to it must lead the troops. 21:6 If a homicide victim should be found lying in a field in the land the Lord your God is giving you, and no one knows who killed him, 21:7 then the city nearest to it must lead the troops.

1. Heb “another man.”
2. Heb “Who is [the man.”
3. Heb “his brother’s.”
4. Heb “melted.”
5. The Hebrew text includes “to the people,” but this phrase has not been included in the translation for stylistic reasons.
7. Heb “if it answers you peace.”
8. Heb “become as a vassal and will serve you.” The Hebrew term translated slaves (כֵּר, mas) refers either to Israelites who were pressed into civil service, especially under Solomon (1 Kgs 5:13; 9:15; 21; 12:18), or (as here) to foreigners forced as prisoners of war to become slaves to Israel. The Gibeonites exemplify this type of servitude (Josh 9:3-27; cf. Josh 16:10; 17:13; Judg 1:28; 30-35; Isa 31:8; Lam 1:1).
9. Heb “to your hands.”
10. The antecedent of the relative pronoun is “cities.”
11. Heb “any breath.”
12. The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation seeks to reflect with “utterly.” Cf. CEV “completely wipe out.”
13. Heb “to possess it,” but this has not been included in the translation for stylistic reasons.
15. Heb “any breath.”
16. Heb “an enclosure.” The term מַס (matsor) may refer to encircling ditches or to surrounding stagings. See R. de Vaux, Ancient Israel, 238.
18. Heb “to do according to all their abominations which they do for their gods.”
19. Heb “to fight against it to capture it.”
20. Heb “you must not destroy its trees by chopping them with an iron” (i.e., an ax).
21. Heb “you may eat from them.” The direct object is not expressed; the word “fruit” is supplied in the translation for clarity.
22. Heb “to go before you in siege.”
23. Heb “however, a tree which you know is not a tree for food you may destroy and cut down.”
25. Heb “to possess it,” but this has not been included in the translation for stylistic reasons.
26. Heb “struck,” but in context a fatal blow is meant; cf. NLT “who committed the murder.”
27. Heb “surrounding the slain [one].”
Laws Concerning Wives

21:10 When you go out to do battle with your enemies and the Lord your God allows you to prevail and you take prisoners, 21:11 if you should see among them an attractive woman whom you wish to take as a wife, 21:12 you may bring her back to your house. You must shave her head, trim her nails, 21:13 discard the clothing she was wearing when captured, and stay in your house, lamenting for her father and mother for a full month. After that you may have sexual relations with her and become her husband and she your wife. 21:14 If you are not pleased with her, then you must let her go where she pleases. You cannot in any case sell her, you must not take advantage of her, since you have already humiliated her.

Laws Concerning Children

21:15 Suppose a man has two wives, one whom he loves more than the other, and they both bear him sons, with the firstborn being the child of the less loved wife. 21:16 In the day he divides his inheritance, he must not appoint as firstborn the son of the favorite wife in place of the other wife’s son who is actually the firstborn. 21:17 Rather, he must acknowledge the son of the less loved wife as firstborn and give him the double portion of all he has, for that son is the double portion of all he has, for that son is

1 tn Heb “slain [one].”
2 tn The combination “a wadi with flowing water” is necessary because a wadi (נַחַל, nakhal) was ordinarily a dry stream or riverbed. For this ritual, however, a perennial stream must be chosen so that there would be fresh, rushing water.
3 sn The unworked heifer, fresh stream, and uncultivated valley speak of ritual purity—of freedom from human contamination.
4 tn Heb “the priests, the sons of Levi.”
5 tn Heb “in the name of the Lord.” See note on Deut 10:8. The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.
6 tn Heb “by their mouth.”
7 tn Heb “every controversy and every blow.”
8 tn Heb “slain [one].”
9 tn Heb “wadi,” a seasonal watercourse through a valley.
10 tn Heb “our eyes.” This is a figure of speech known as synecdoche in which the part (the eyes) is put for the whole (the entire person).
11 tn Heb “seen”; the implied object (the crime committed) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
12 tn Heb “Atoned for.”
13 tn Heb “and do not place innocent blood in the midst of your people Israel.”
14 tn Heb “in the eyes of” (so ASV, NASB, NIV).
15 tn Heb “gives him into your hands.”
16 tn Heb “the prisoners.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy.
17 sn This requirement for the woman to shave her head may symbolize the putting away of the old life and customs in preparation for being numbered among the people of the Lord. The same is true for the two following requirements.
18 tn Heb “she is to...remove the clothing of her captivity” (cf. NASB); NRSV “discard her captive’s garb.”
19 tn Heb “sit”; KJV, NASB, NRSV “remain.”
20 tn Heb “go unto,” a common Hebrew euphemism for sexual relations.
21 sn Heb “send her off.” The Hebrew term שילה (shillakh!), is a somewhat euphemistic way of referring to divorce, the matter clearly in view here (cf. Deut 22:19, 29; 24:1, 3; Jer 3:1; Mal 2:16). This passage does not have the matter of divorce as its principal objective, so it should not be understood as endorsing divorce generally. It merely makes the point that if grounds for divorce exist (see Deut 24:1-4), and then divorce ensues, the husband could in no way gain profit from it.
22 tn The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation indicates by the words “in any case.”
23 tn The Hebrew text includes “for money.” This phrase has not been included in the translation for stylistic reasons.
24 tn Or perhaps “must not enslave her” (cf. ASV, NAB, NBIV, NRSV, NLT); Heb “[must not] be tyrannical over.”
25 sn You have humiliated her. Since divorce was considered rejection, the wife subjected to it would lose face in addition to the already humiliating event of having become a wife by force (21:11-13). Furthermore, the Hebrew verb translated “humiliated” here (הען, unhah), commonly used to speak of rape (cf. Gen 34:2; 2 Sam 13:12, 14, 22, 32; Judg 19:24), likely has sexual overtones as well. The woman may not be enslaved or abused after the divorce because it would be double humiliation (see also E. H. Merrill, Deuteronomy [NAC], 291).
26 tn Heb “one whom he loves and one whom he hates.” For the idea of הנש (“same,” “hate”) meaning to be rejected or loved less (cf. NRSV “disliked”), see Gen 29:31, 33; Mal 1:2-3. Cf. A. Konkel, NIDOTTE 3:1256-60.
27 sn Heb “both the one whom he loves and the one whom he hates.” On the meaning of the phrase “one whom he loves and one whom he hates” see the note on the word “other” earlier in this verse. The translation has been simplified for stylistic reasons, to avoid redundancy.
28 tn Heb “when he causes his sons to inherit what is his.”
29 tn Heb “the hated.”
30 tn See note on the word “other” in v. 15.
31 tn Heb “measure of two.” The Hebrew expression פִּי שְׁנַיִם (piy shÿnayim) suggests a two-thirds split, what is, the older gets two parts and the younger one part. Cf. 2 Kgs 2:9; Zech 13:8. The practice is implicit in Isaac’s blessing of Jacob (Gen 25:31-34) and Jacob’s blessing of Ephraim (Gen 48:8-22).

nearest to the corpse must take from the herd a heifer that has not been worked—has never pulled with the yoke—to a valley that is neither plowed nor sown. There at the wadi they are to break the heifer’s neck. Then the Levitical priests will approach (for the Lord your God has chosen them to serve him and to pronounce blessings in his name, and to decide every judicial verdict) and all the elders of that city nearest the corpse must wash their hands over the heifer whose neck was broken in the valley. Then they must proclaim, “Our hands have not spilled this blood, nor have we witnessed the crime. Do not blame your people Israel whom you redeemed, O Lord, and do not hold them accountable for the bloodshed of an innocent person.” Then atonement will be made for the bloodshed. In this manner you will purge out the guilt of innocent blood from among you, for you must do what is right before the Lord.
the beginning of his father’s procreative power—

21:18 If a person has a stubborn, rebellious son who pays no attention to his father or mother, and they discipline him to no avail, he must seize him and bring him to the elders at the gate of his city. 21:20 They must declare to the elders of his city, “Our son is stubborn and rebellious and pays no attention to what we say—he is a glutton and drunkard.” 21:21 Then all the men of his city must stone him to death. In this way you will purge out wickedness from among you, and all Israel will hear about it and be afraid.

Disposition of a Criminal’s Remains

21:22 If a person commits a sin punishable by death and is executed, and you hang the corpse on a tree, 21:23 his body must not remain all night on the tree; instead you must make certain you bury him that same day, for the one who is left exposed on a tree is cursed by God. You must not defile your land on which the Lord your God is giving you as an inheritance.

Laws Concerning Preservation of Life

22:1 When you see your neighbor’s ox or sheep going astray, do not ignore it; you must return it without fail to your neighbor. 22:2 If the owner does not live near you or you do not know who the owner is, then you must corral the animal at your house and let it stay with you until the owner looks for it; then you must return it to him. 22:3 You shall do the same to his donkey, his clothes, or anything else your neighbor has lost and you have found; you must not refuse to get involved. 22:4 When you see your neighbor’s donkey or ox fallen along the road, do not ignore it; instead, you must be sure to help him get the animal on its feet again.

22:5 A woman must not wear men’s clothing, nor should a man dress up in women’s clothing, for anyone who does this is offensive to the Lord your God.

22:6 If you happen to notice a bird’s nest along the road, whether in a tree or on the ground, and there are chicks or eggs with the mother bird sitting on them, you must not take the mother from the young. 22:7 You must be sure to let the mother go, but you may take the young for yourself. Do this so that it may go well with you and you may have a long life.

22:8 If you build a new house, you must construct a guard rail around your roof to avoid being culpable in the event someone should fall from it.

Illustrations of the Principle of Purity

22:9 You must not plant your vineyard with two kinds of seed; otherwise the entire yield, both of the seed you plant and the produce of the seed planted, will be found to have been affected by each other.

1. ^tn^ Heb “his generative power” (םַיִן, ‘on; cf. HALOT 22 s.v.). Cf. NAB “the first fruits of his manhood”; NRSV “the first issue of his virility.”
2. ^tn^ Heb “and he does not listen to them.”
3. ^tn^ The LXX and Smr read “to the men,” probably to conform to this phrase in v. 21. However, since judicial cases were the responsibility of the elders in such instances (cf. Deut 19:12; 21:3, 6; 25:7-8) the reading of the MT is likely original and correct here.
5. ^tn^ Some LXX traditions read ἀνθρώπις (anthrōpīs, “humanity” or “the people”) for the MT’s הֶן (ḥān, “Israel”), understandable in light of Deut 19:20. However, the more difficult reading found in the MT is more likely original.
6. ^tn^ Heb “him.”
7. ^tn^ The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation indicates by “make certain.”
8. ^tn^ Heb “hung,” but this could convey the wrong image in English (hanging with a rope as a means of execution). Cf. NCV “anyone whose body is displayed on a tree.”
9. ^tn^ The idea behind the phrase cursed by God seems to be not that the person was impaled because he was cursed but that to leave him exposed was to invite the curse of God upon the whole land. Why this would be so is not clear, though the rabbinic idea that even a criminal is created in the image of God may give some clue (thus J. H. Tigay, Deuteronomy [JPSTO], 198). Paul cites this text (see Gal 3:13) to make the point that Christ, suspended from a cross, thereby took upon himself the curse associated with such a display of divine wrath and judgment (T. George, Galatians [NAC], 238-39).
10. ^tn^ Heb “you must not see,” but, if translated literally into English, the statement is misleading.
11. ^tn^ Heb “brother’s” (also later in this verse). In this context it is not limited to one’s siblings, however; cf. NAB “your kinsman’s.”
12. ^tn^ Heb “hide yourself.”
13. ^tn^ The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation indicates with the words “without fail.”
14. ^tn^ Heb “your brother” (also later in this verse).
15. ^tn^ Heb “is not.” The idea of “residing” is implied.
16. ^tn^ Heb “and you do not know him.”
17. ^tn^ Heb “it”; the referent (the ox or sheep mentioned in v. 1) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
18. ^tn^ Heb “your brother” (also in v. 4).
19. ^tn^ Heb “you must not hide yourself.”
20. ^tn^ Heb “you must not see.” See note at 22:1.
21. ^tn^ Heb “and (must not) hide yourself from them.”
22. ^tn^ The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation indicates with “be sure.”
23. ^tn^ Heb “help him to lift them up.” In keeping with English style the singular is used in the translation, and the referent (“the animal”) has been specified for clarity.
24. ^tn^ Heb “a man’s clothing.”
25. ^tn^ The Hebrew term נְאַר (na’ar, “offense”) speaks of anything that runs counter to ritual or moral order, especially (in the OT) to divine standards. Cross-dressing in this context may suggest homosexuality, fertility cult ritual, or some other forbidden practice.
26. ^tn^ Heb “and the mother sitting upon the chicks or the eggs.”
27. ^tn^ Heb “sons,” used here in a generic sense for offspring.
28. ^tn^ The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation seeks to reflect with “be sure.”
29. ^tn^ Or “a parapet” (so NAB, NIV, NRSV); KJV “a battlement”; NLT “a barrier.”
30. ^tn^ Heb “that you not place bloodshed in your house.”
Deuteronomy 22:10

You must not plow with an ox and a donkey harnessed together.

22:11
You must not wear clothing made with wool and linen meshed together.

22:12
You shall make yourselves tassels for the four corners of the clothing you wear.

Purity in the Marriage Relationship

22:13 Suppose a man marries a woman, has sexual relations with her,\(^4\) and then rejects\(^5\) her, 22:14 accusing her of impropriety\(^6\) and defaming her reputation\(^7\) by saying, "I married this woman but when I had sexual relations\(^8\) with her I discovered she was not a virgin!" 22:15 Then the father and mother of the young woman must produce the evidence of virginity\(^9\) for the elders of the city at the gate. 22:16 The young woman’s father must say to the elders, "I gave my daughter to this man and he has rejected\(^10\) her. 22:17 Moreover, he has raised accusations of impropriety by saying, 'I discovered your daughter was not a virgin,' but this is the evidence of my daughter’s virginity!" The cloth must then be spread out\(^11\) before the city’s elders. 22:18 The elders of that city must then seize the man and punish\(^12\) him. 22:19 They will fine him one hundred shekels of silver and give them to the young woman’s father, for the man who made the accusation\(^13\) ruined the reputation\(^14\) of an Israelite virgin. She will then become his wife and he may never divorce her as long as he lives.

22:20 But if the accusation is true and the young woman was not a virgin, 22:21 the men of her city must bring the young woman to the door of her father’s house and stone her to death, for she has done a disgraceful thing;\(^15\) in Israel by behaving like a prostitute while living in her father’s house. In this way you will purge\(^16\) evil from among you.

22:22 If a man is caught having sexual relations with\(^17\) a married woman\(^18\) both the man who had relations with the woman and the woman herself must die; in this way you will purge\(^19\) evil from Israel.

22:23 If a virgin is engaged to a man and another man meets\(^20\) her in the city and has sexual relations with\(^21\) her, you must bring the two of them to the gate of that city and stone them to death, the young woman because she did not cry out though in the city and the man because he violated\(^22\) his neighbor’s fiancée;\(^23\) in this way you will purge\(^24\) evil from among you.

22:25 But if the man came across\(^25\) the engaged woman in the field and overpowered and raped\(^26\) her, then only the rapist\(^27\) must die. 22:26 You must not do anything to the young woman – she has done nothing deserving of death. This case is the same as when someone attacks another person\(^28\) and murders him, 22:27 for the man\(^29\) met her in the field and the engaged woman cried out, but there was no one to rescue her.

22:28 Suppose a man comes across a virgin who is not engaged and overpowers and rapes\(^30\) her and they are discovered. 22:29 The man who has raped her must pay her father fifty shekels of silver for the man who had sexual relations with her, then only the person who raped her must die; in this way you will purge\(^31\) evil from among you.\(^32\)

\(1\) tn Heb "set apart." The verb קדשׁ (qadash) in the Qal verbal stem (as here) has the idea of being holy or being treated with special care. Some take the meaning as "be off-limits, forfeited," i.e., the total produce of the vineyard, both crops and grapes, have to be forfeited to the sanctuary (cf. Exod 29:37; 30:29; Lev 6:18, 27; Num 16:37-38; Hag 2:12).

\(2\) tn The Hebrew term נושה (nûsha) occurs only here and in Lev 19:19. HALOT 1610-11 s.v. takes it to be a contraction of words נשח (nash, "headdress") + נוש (nash, "strong"). BDB 1043 s.v. נושא offers the translation "mixed stuff" (cf. NEB "woven with two kinds of yarn"; NAB, NIV, NRSV, NLT "woven together"). The general meaning is clear even if the etymology is not.

\(3\) tn Heb "twisted threads" (יַצֵּחַ, yatz'eh, g'dilm). This term, found only here and in Num 15:38, occurs in a passage instructing Israel to remember the covenant. Perhaps that is the purpose of the tassels here as well. Cf. KJV, ASV "fringes"; NAB "tangled cords.

\(4\) tn Heb "goes to her," a Hebrew euphemistic idiom for sexual relations.

\(5\) tn Heb "hate." See note on the word "other" in Deut 21:15. Cf. NAB "comes to dislike"; NASB "turns against"; TEV "decides he doesn’t want."

\(6\) tn Heb "deeds of things"; NRSV "makes up charges against her"; NIV "slanders her."

\(7\) tn Heb "brings against her a bad name"; NIV "gives her a bad name."

\(8\) tn Heb "drew near to her." This is another Hebrew euphemism for having sexual relations.

\(9\) sn In light of v. 17 this would evidently be blood-stained sheets indicative of the first instance of intercourse. See E. H. Merrill, Deuteronomy (NAC), 302-3.

\(10\) tn Heb "hated." See note on the word "other" in Deut 21:15.

\(11\) tn Heb "they will spread the garment."

\(12\) tn Heb "discipline."

\(13\) tn Heb "for he"; the referent (the man who made the accusation) has been specified in the translation to avoid confusion with the young woman’s father, the last-mentioned male.

\(14\) tn Heb "brought forth a bad name."

\(15\) tn The Hebrew term דרך נֵעָלָה (n’valah) means more than just something stupid. It refers to a moral lapse so serious as to jeopardize the whole covenant community (cf. Gen 34:7; Judg 19:23; 20:6, 10; Jer 29:23). See C. Pan, NIDOTTE 3:11-13. Cf. NAB “she committed a crime against Israel.”

\(17\) tn Heb "lying with" (so KJV, NASB), a Hebrew idiom for sexual relations.

\(18\) tn Heb "a woman married to a husband."

\(19\) tn Heb "burn." See note on the phrase "purge out" in Deut 21:21.

\(20\) tn Heb "finds."

\(21\) tn Heb "lies with."

\(22\) tn Heb "humbled."

\(23\) tn Heb "wife."

\(25\) tn Heb "found," also in v. 27, 28.

\(26\) tn Heb "lay with" here refers to a forced sexual relationship, as the accompanying verb "seized" (יָשָׁבע, yashav) makes clear.

\(27\) tn Heb "the man who lay with her, only him."

\(28\) tn Heb "his neighbor."

\(29\) tn Heb "he"; the referent (the man who attacked the woman) has been specified in the translation for clarity.

\(30\) tn Heb "lies with."
silver and she must become his wife because he has violated her; he may never divorce her as long as he lives.

22:30 (23:1) A man may not marry his father’s former wife and in this way dishonor his father.

Purity in Public Worship

23:1 A man with crushed or severed genitals may not enter the assembly of the Lord.

23:2 A person of illegitimate birth may not enter the assembly of the Lord; to the tenth generation none related to him may do so.

23:3 An Ammonite or Moabite may not enter the assembly of the Lord; to the tenth generation none of their descendants shall ever do so.

23:4 for they did not meet you with food and water on the way as you came from Egypt, and furthermore, they hired Balaam son of Beor of Pethor in Aram Naharaim to curse you.

23:5 But the Lord your God refused to listen to Balaam and changed the curse to a blessing, for the Lord your God loves you.

23:6 You must not seek peace and prosperity for them through all the ages to come.

23:7 You must not hate an Edomite, for he is your relative; you must not hate an Egyptian, for you lived as a foreigner in his land.

23:8 Children of the third generation born to them may enter the assembly of the Lord.

Purity in Personal Hygiene

23:9 When you go out as an army against your enemies, guard yourselves against anything impure.

23:10 If there is someone among you who is impure because of some nocturnal emission, he must leave the camp; he may not reenter it immediately.

23:11 When evening arrives he must wash himself with water and then at sunset he may re-enter the camp.

23:12 You are to have a place outside the camp to serve as a latrine.

23:13 You must have a spade among your other equipment and when you relieve yourself outside you must dig a hole with the spade and then turn and cover your excrement.

23:14 For the Lord your God walks about in the middle of your camp to deliver you and defeat your enemies for you. Therefore your camp should be holy, so that he does not see anything indecent among you and turn away from you.

1 sn Beginning with 22:30, the verse numbers through 23:25 in the English Bible differ from the verse numbers in the Hebrew text (BHS), with 22:30 ET = 23:1, HT = 23:2 ET = 23:2 HT; 23:2 ET = 23:3 HT, etc., through 23:25 ET = 23:26 HT. With 24:1 the verse numbers in the ET and HT are again the same.

2 tn Heb “take.” In context this refers to marriage, as in the older English translation “take a wife.”

3 tn His presupposes either the death of the father or their divorce since it would be impossible for one to marry his stepmother while his father was still married to her.

4 tn Heb “uncover his father’s skirt” (so ASV, NASB). This appears to be a circumlocution for describing the dishonor that would come to a father by having his own son share his wife’s sexuality (cf. NAB, NIV “dishonor his father’s bed”).

5 tn Heb “bruised by crushing,” which many English versions take to refer to crushed testicles (NAB, NRSV, NLT); TEV “who has been castrated.”

6 sn Beginning with 22:30, the verse numbers through 23:25 in the English Bible differ from the verse numbers in the Hebrew text (BHS), with 22:30 ET = 23:1, HT = 23:2 ET = 23:2 HT; 23:2 ET = 23:3 HT, etc., through 23:25 ET = 23:26 HT. With 24:1 the verse numbers in the ET and HT are again the same.

7 tn The Hebrew term translated “assembly” (עַדְיוֹנָת דָּבָר, qahal) does not refer here to the nation as such but to the formal services of the tabernacle or temple. Since emasculated or otherwise sexually abnormal persons were commonly associated with pagan temple personnel, the thrust here may be primarily polemical in intent. One should not read into this anything having to do with the mentally and physically handicapped as fit to participate in the life and ministry of the church.

8 tn Or “a person born of an illegitimate marriage.”

9 tn Heb “enter the assembly of the Lord.” The phrase “do so” has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.

10 sn An Ammonite or Moabite. These descendants of Lot by his two daughters (cf. Gen 19:30-38) were thereby the products of incest and therefore excluded from the worshiping community. However, these two nations also failed to show proper hospitality to Israel on their way to Canaan (v. 4).

11 tn The Hebrew term translated “ever” (לִבְשַׁנָּה, ad-olam) suggests that “tenth generation” (v. 2, 3) also means “forever.” However, in the OT sense “forever” means not “for eternity” but for an indeterminate future time. See A. Tomaso, NIDOTTE 3:346.

12 tn Heb “enter the assembly of the Lord.” The phrase “do so” has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.

13 tn Heb “hired against you.”

14 sn “to happen” so the phrase here is euphemistic.

16 sn “brother.”

17 sn “sojourner.”

18 sn “what comes from you,” a euphemism.

19 sn The context makes clear that this is a matter of ritual impurity, not moral impurity, so it is “evil” in the sense that it disbars one from certain religious activity.

20 sn The Hebrew term (מַעְרָב, ma’arav) merely means “to happen” so the phrase here is euphemistic (a “night happening”) for some kind of bodily emission such as excrement or semen. Such otherwise normal physical functions rendered one ritually unclean whether accidental or not. See Lev 15:16-18; 22:4.

21 sn “brother.” This expression is euphemistic.

22 sn “love,” a euhemeristic (a “night happening”) for some kind of bodily emission such as excrement or semen. Such otherwise normal physical functions rendered one ritually unclean whether accidental or not. See Lev 15:16-18; 22:4.

23 sn “brother.” This expression is euphemistic.

24 sn “love,” a euhemeristic (a “night happening”) for some kind of bodily emission such as excrement or semen. Such otherwise normal physical functions rendered one ritually unclean whether accidental or not. See Lev 15:16-18; 22:4.

25 sn “what comes from you,” a euphemism.

26 sn “love,” a euhemeristic (a “night happening”) for some kind of bodily emission such as excrement or semen. Such otherwise normal physical functions rendered one ritually unclean whether accidental or not. See Lev 15:16-18; 22:4.

27 sn “love,” a euhemeristic (a “night happening”) for some kind of bodily emission such as excrement or semen. Such otherwise normal physical functions rendered one ritually unclean whether accidental or not. See Lev 15:16-18; 22:4.
Purity in the Treatment of the Nonprivileged

23:15 You must not return an escaped slave to his master when he has run away to you. 23:16 Indeed, he may live among you in any place he chooses, in whichever of your villages he prefers; you must not oppress him.

Purity in Cultic Personnel

23:17 There must never be a sacred prostitute among the young women of Israel nor a sacred male prostitute among the young men of Israel. 23:18 You must never bring the pay of a female prostitute or the wage of a male prostitute into the temple of the Lord your God in fulfillment of any vow, for both of these are abhorrent to the Lord your God.

Respect for Others’ Property

23:19 You must not charge interest on a loan to your fellow Israelite, whether on money, food, or anything else that has been loaned with interest. 23:20 You may lend with interest to a foreigner, but not to your fellow Israelite; if you keep this command the Lord your God will bless you in all you undertake in the land you are about to enter to possess.

23:21 When you make a vow to the Lord your God you must not delay in fulfilling it, for otherwise he will surely hold you accountable as a sinner.

3:15 If you refrain from making a vow, it will not be sinful. 3:23 Whatever you vow, you must be careful to do what you have promised, such as what you have vowed to the Lord your God as a freewill offering. 3:24 When you enter the vineyard of your neighbor you may eat as many grapes as you please, but you must not take away any in a container. 23:25 When you go into the ripe grain fields of your neighbor you may pluck off the kernels with your hand, but you must not use a sickle on your neighbor’s ripe grain.

24:1 If a man marries a woman and she does not please him because he has found something offensive in her, then he may draw up a divorce document, give it to her, and evict her from his house. 24:2 When she has left him she may go and become someone else’s wife. 24:3 If the second husband rejects her and then divorces her, gives her the papers, and evicts her from his house, or if the second husband who married her dies, 24:4 her first husband who divorced her is not permitted to remarry her after she has become ritually impure, for that is offensive to the Lord. 24:5 You must not bring guilt on the land which the Lord your God is giving you as an inheritance.

24:6 One must not take either lower or upper millstones as security on a loan, for that is like taking a life itself as security.

25:1 The issue here is not divorce and its grounds (see note on Deut 24:1-4), but prohibition of remarriage to a mate whom one has previously divorced.

25:2 You must not charge interest on a loan to your fellow Israelite, whether on money, food, or anything else that has been loaned with interest. 25:3 You may lend with interest to a foreigner, but not to your fellow Israelite; if you keep this command the Lord your God will bless you in all you undertake in the land you are about to enter to possess.

25:4 When you make a vow to the Lord your God you must not delay in fulfilling it, for otherwise he will surely hold you accountable as a sinner.

25:5 If you refrain from making a vow, it will not be sinful. 25:6 Whatever you vow, you must be careful to do what you have promised, such as what you have vowed to the Lord your God as a freewill offering. 25:7 When you enter the vineyard of your neighbor you may eat as many grapes as you please, but you must not take away any in a container. 25:8 When you go into the ripe grain fields of your neighbor you may pluck off the kernels with your hand, but you must not use a sickle on your neighbor’s ripe grain.

25:9 If a man marries a woman and she does not please him because he has found something offensive in her, then he may draw up a divorce document, give it to her, and evict her from his house. 25:10 When she has left him she may go and become someone else’s wife. 25:11 If the second husband rejects her and then divorces her, gives her the papers, and evicts her from his house, or if the second husband who married her dies, 25:12 her first husband who divorced her is not permitted to remarry her after she has become ritually impure, for that is offensive to the Lord. 25:13 You must not bring guilt on the land which the Lord your God is giving you as an inheritance.

25:14 One must not take either lower or upper millstones as security on a loan, for that is like taking a life itself as security.
24:7 If a man is found kidnapping a person from among his fellow Israelites, and regards him as mere property and sells him, that kidnapper must die. In this way you will purge evil from among you.

Respect for Human Dignity

24:8 Be careful during an outbreak of leprosy to follow precisely all that the Levitical priests instruct you; as I have commanded them, so you should do. 24:9 Remember what the Lord your God did to Miriam along the way after you left Egypt.

24:10 When you make any kind of loan to your neighbor, you may not go into his house to claim what he is offering as security. 24:11 You must stand outside and the person to whom you are making the loan will bring out to you what he is offering as security. 24:12 If the person is poor you may not use what he gives you as security for a covering. 24:13 You must by all means return to him at sunset the item he gave you as security.

24:14 You must not oppress a lowly and poor servant, whether one from among your fellow Israelites or from the resident foreigners who are living in your land and villages. 24:15 You must pay his wage that very day before the sun sets, for he is poor and his life depends on it. Otherwise he will cry out to the Lord against you, and you will be guilty of sin.

24:16 Fathers must not be put to death for what their children do, nor children for what their fathers do; each must be put to death for his own sin.

24:17 You must not pervert justice due a resident foreigner or an orphan, or take a widow’s garment as security for a loan. 24:18 Remember that you were slaves in Egypt and that the Lord your God redeemed you from there; therefore I am commanding you to do all this. 24:19 Whenever you reap your harvest in your field and leave some unraked grain there, you must not return to get it; it should go to the resident foreigner, orphan, and widow so that the Lord your God may bless all the work you do.

24:20 When you beat your olive tree you must not repeat the procedure; the remaining olives belong to the resident foreigner, orphan, and widow. 24:21 When you gather the grapes of your vineyard you must not do so a second time; they should go to the resident foreigner, orphan, and widow.

24:22 Remember that you were slaves in the land of Egypt; therefore, I am commanding you to do all this.

25:1 If controversy arises between people, they should go to court for judgment. When the judges hear the case, they shall exonerate the innocent but condemn the guilty.

25:2 Then, if the guilty person is sentenced to a beating, the judge shall force him to lie down and be beaten in his presence with the number of blows his wicked behavior deserves.

25:3 The judge may sentence him to forty blows, but no more. If he is struck with more than these, you might view your fellow Israelite with contempt.

25:4 You must not muzzle your ox when it is treading grain.

1 tn Heb “from his brothers, from the sons of Israel.” The terms “brothers” and “sons of Israel” are in apposition; the second defines the first more specifically.
2 tn Or “and enslaves him.”
3 tn Heb “that thief.”
4 tn Heb “burn.” See note on the word “purge” in Deut 19:19.
5 tn Heb “to watch carefully and to do.”
6 sn What the Lord your God did to Miriam. The reference is to Miriam’s having contracted leprosy because of her intemperate challenge to Moses’ leadership (Num 12:1-15). The purpose for the allusion here appears to be the assertion of the theocratic leadership of the priests who, like Moses, should not be despised.
7 tn Heb “his pledge.” This refers to something offered as pledge of repayment, i.e., as security for the debt.
8 tn Heb “his pledge.”
9 tn Heb “may not lie down in his pledge.” What is in view is the use of clothing as guarantee for the repayment of loans, a matter already addressed elsewhere (Deut 23:19-20; 24:6; cf. Exod 22:25-26; Lev 25:35-37). Cf. NAB “you shall not sleep in the mantle he gives as a pledge”; NRSV “in the garment given you as the pledge.”
10 tn The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation seeks to reflect with “by all means.”
11 tn Or “righteous” (so NIV, NLT).
12 tn Heb “your brothers,” but not limited only to actual siblings; cf. NASB “your (+ own NAB) kinsmen.”
13 tn Heb “who are in your land in your gates.” The word “living” is supplied in the translation for stylistic reasons.
14 tn Heb “sons” (so NASB; twice in this verse). Many English versions, including the KJV, read “children” here.
15 tn Heb “in the field.”
16 tn Heb “of your hands.” This law was later applied in the story of Ruth who, as a poor widow, was allowed by generous Boaz to glean in his fields (Ruth 2:1-13).
17 tn Heb “knock down after you.”
18 tn Heb “glean after you.”
19 tn Heb “men.”
20 tn Heb “they”; the referent (the judges) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
21 tn Heb “declare to be just”; KJV, NASB “justify the righteous”; NAB, NIV “acquitting the innocent.”
22 tn Heb “declare to be evil”; NIV “condemning the guilty (+ party NAB).”
23 tn Heb “and it will be.”
24 tn Heb “if the evil one is a son of smiting.”
25 tn Heb “accompanying his wickedness, by number.”
26 tn Heb “he”; the referent (the judge) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
27 tn Heb “Forty blows he may strike him”; however, since the judge is to witness the punishment (v. 2) it is unlikely the judge himself administered it.
28 tn Heb “your brothers” but not limited only to an actual sibling; cf. NAB “your kinsman”; NRSV, NLT “your neighbor.”
29 tn Heb “an.” By implication this is one’s own animal.
Respect for the Sanctity of Others

25:5 If brothers live together and one of them dies without having a son, the dead man’s wife must not remarry someone outside the family. Instead, her late husband’s brother must go to her, marry her, and perform the duty of a brother-in-law. Then the first son she bears will continue the name of the dead brother, thus preventing his name from being blotted out of Israel. But if the man does not want to marry his brother’s widow, then she must go to the elders at the town gate and say, “My husband’s brother refuses to preserve his brother’s name in Israel; he is unwilling to perform the duty of a brother-in-law to me!”

25:8 Then the elders of his city must summon him and speak to him. If he persists, saying, “I don’t want to marry her,” then his sister-in-law must approach him in view of the elders, remove his sandal from his foot, and spit in his face. She will then respond, “Thus may it be done to any man who does not maintain his brother’s family line!”

25:10 His family name will be referred to in Israel as “the family of the unsandaled” when the one whose sandal was removed.

25:11 If two men get into a hand-to-hand fight, and the wife of one of them gets involved to help her husband against his attacker, and she reaches out her hand and grabs his genitals, 25:12 then you must cut off her hand – do not pity her.

25:13 You must not have in your bag different stone weights, a heavy and a light one.

25:14 You must not have in your house different measuring containers, a large and a small one.

25:15 You must have an accurate and correct stone weight and an accurate and correct measuring container, so that your life may be extended in the land the LORD your God is about to give you.

25:16 For anyone who acts dishonestly in these ways is abhorrent to the LORD your God.

Treatment of the Amalekites

25:17 Remember what the Amalekites did to you on your way from Egypt, how they met you along the way and cut off all your stragglers in the rear of the march when you were exhausted and tired; they were unafraid of God. So when the LORD your God gives you relief from all the enemies who surround you in the land he is giving you as an inheritance, you must wipe out the memory of the Amalekites from under heaven – do not forget!

Presentation of the First Fruits

26:1 When you enter the land that the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance, and you occupy it and live in it, you must take the first of all the ground’s produce you harvest from the land the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance, and give it to the Levite who lives in your city, to present the first-fruits of the grain, wine, and oil, in the place the LORD will choose.

26:2 You must not present the first-fruits of your produce from the land that the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance, until after you have brought the offering that the LORD your God will receive in his holy place. This you must do so that you will be healthy and so that the LORD your God will bless you in all the work of your hands and in the fruit of your womb.}

1 tn Heb “take her as wife”; NRSV “taking her in marriage.”
2 sn This is the so-called “levirate” custom (from the Latin term levir, “brother-in-law”), an ancient provision whereby a man who died without male descendants to carry on his name could have a son by proxy, that is, through a surviving brother who would marry his widow and whose firstborn would then be attributed to the brother who had died. This is the only reference to this practice in an OT legal text but it is illustrated in the story of Ruth and Boaz (Ruth 2:8; 3:12; 4:6).
3 tn Heb “and it will be that.”
4 tn Heb “the firstborn.” This refers to the oldest male child.
5 tn Heb “want to take his sister-in-law, then his sister in law.” In the second instance the pronoun (“she”) has been used in the translation to avoid redundancy.
6 sn The removal of the sandal was likely symbolic of the relinquishment by the man of any claim to his dead brother’s estate since the sandal was associated with the soil or land (cf. Ruth 4:7-8). Spitting in the face was a sign of utmost disgust or disdain, an emotion the rejected widow would feel toward her uncooperative brother-in-law (cf. Num 12:14; Lev 15:8), See W. Bailey, NIDOTTE 2:544.
7 tn Heb “build the house of his brother”; TEV “refuses to give his brother a descendant”; NLT “refuses to raise up a son for his brother.”
8 tn Heb “called,” i.e., “known as.”
9 tn Heb “house.”
10 tn Cf. NIV, NCV “The Family of the Unsandaled.”
11 tn Heb “a man and his brother.”
12 tn Heb “shameful parts.” Besides the inherent indecency of what she has done, the woman has also threatened the progenitive capacity of the injured man. The level of specificity given this term in modern translations varies: “private parts” (NAB, NIV, CEV); “genitals” (NASB, NRSV, TEV); “sex organs” (NCV); “testicles” (NLT).
13 tn Heb “a stone and a stone.” The repetition of the singular noun here expresses diversity, as the following phrase indicates. See IBHS §7.2.3c.
14 tn Heb “a large and a small,” but since the issue is the weight, “a heavy and a light one” conveys the idea better in English.
15 sn And perform the duty of a brother-in-law to me!”
16 sn “abhorrent” (תועבה, to’evah) speaks of attitudes and/or behaviors so vile as to be reprehensible to a holy God. See note on the word “abhorrent” in Deut 7:25.
17 tn The Hebrew term translated here “abhorrent” (תועבה, to’evah) speaks of attitudes and/or behaviors so vile as to be reprehensible to a holy God. See note on the word “abhorrent” in Deut 7:25.
18 sn See Exod 17:8-16.
19 tn Heb “the LORD your God.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.
20 tn Or “from beneath the sky.” The Hebrew term יבשא (shamayim) may be translated “heaven(s)” or “sky” depending on the context.
21 sn This command is fulfilled in 1 Sam 15:1-33.
22 tn The Hebrew text includes “to possess it.”
23 sn Exod 17:8-16.
24 tn Heb “and it will come to pass that.”
giving you, place it in a basket, and go to the place where he chooses to locate his name. You must go to the priest in office at that time and say to him, “I declare today to the Lord your God that I have come into the land that the Lord promised to our ancestors to give us.” The priest will then take the basket from you and set it before the altar of the Lord your God. Then you must affirm before the Lord your God, “A wandering Aramean was my ancestor, and he went down to Egypt and lived there as a foreigner with a household few in number, but there he became a great, powerful, and numerous people. But the Egyptians mistreated and oppressed us, forcing us to do burdensome labor. So we cried out to the Lord, the God of our ancestors, and he heard us and saw our humiliation, toil, and oppression. Therefore the Lord brought us out of Egypt with tremendous strength and power, as well as with great awe-inspiring signs and wonders. Then he brought us to this place and gave us this land, a land flowing with milk and honey.

So now, look! I have brought the first of the ground’s produce that you, Lord, have given me.” Then you must set it down before the Lord your God and worship before him. You will celebrate all the good things that the Lord your God has given you and your family, along with the Levites and the resident foreigners among you.

Presentation of the Third-year Tithe

When you finish tithe all your income in the third year (the year of tithing), you must give it to the Levites, the resident foreigners, the orphans, and the widows so that they may eat to their satisfaction in your villages. Then you shall say before the Lord your God, “I have removed the sacred offering from my house and given it to the Levites, the resident foreigners, the orphans, and the widows just as you have commanded me. I have not violated or forgotten your commandments. I have not eaten anything when I was in mourning, or removed any of it while ceremonially unclean, or offered any of it to the dead; I have obeyed you and have done everything you have commanded me. Look down from your holy dwelling place in heaven and bless your people Israel and the land you have given us, just as you promised our ancestors—a land flowing with milk and honey.”

Narrative Interlude

Today the Lord your God is commanding you to keep these statutes and ordinances, something you must do with all your heart and soul. Today you have declared the Lord to be your God, and that you will walk in his ways, keep his statutes, commandments, and ordinances, and obey him. And today the Lord has declared you to be his special people (as he already promised you) so you may keep all his commandments.

6:16 Today the Lord your God is commanding you to keep these statutes and ordinances, something you must do with all your heart and soul. Today you have declared the Lord to be your God, and that you will walk in his ways, keep his statutes, commandments, and ordinances, and obey him. And today the Lord has declared you to be his special people (as he already promised you) so you may keep all his commandments.
elevate you above all the nations he has made and you will receive praise, fame, and honor. You will be a people holy to the Lord your God, as he has said.

The Assembly at Shechem

27:1 Then Moses and the elders of Israel commanded the people: “Pay attention to all the commandments3 I am giving4 you today. 27:2 When you cross the Jordan River5 to the land the Lord your God is giving you, you must erect great stones and cover6 them with plaster. 27:3 Then you must inscribe on them all the words of this law when you cross over, so that you may enter the land the Lord your God is giving you, a land flowing with milk and honey just as the Lord, the God of your ancestors,7 said to you. 27:4 So when you cross the Jordan you must erect on Mount Ebal8 these stones about which I am commanding you today, and you must cover them with plaster.

27:5 Then you must build an altar there to the Lord your God, an altar of stones – do not use an iron tool on them. 27:6 You must build the altar of the Lord your God with whole stones and offer burnt offerings on it to the Lord your God. 27:7 Also you must offer fellowship offerings and eat them there, rejoicing before the Lord your God. 27:8 You must inscribe on the stones all the words of this law, making them clear.”

27:9 Then Moses and the Levitical priests spoke to all Israel: “Be quiet and pay attention, Israel. Today you have become the people of the Lord your God. 27:10 You must obey him9 and keep his commandments and statutes that I am giving you today.” 27:11 Moreover, Moses commanded the people that day: 27:12 “The following tribes10 must stand to bless the people on Mount Gerizim when you cross the Jordan: Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin. 27:13 And these other tribes must stand for the curse on Mount Ebal: Reuben, Gad, Asher, Zebulun, Dan, and Naphtali.

The Covenant Curses

27:14 “The Levites will call out to every Israelite11 with a loud voice: 27:15 ‘Cursed is the one12 who makes a carved or metal image – something abhorrent13 to the Lord, the work of the craftsman14 – and sets it up in a secret place.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:16 ‘Cursed is the one who disrespects15 his father and mother.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:17 ‘Cursed is the one who moves his neighbor’s boundary marker.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:18 ‘Cursed is the one who misleads a blind person on the road.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:19 ‘Cursed is the one who perverts justice for the resident foreigner, the orphan, and the widow.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:20 ‘Cursed is the one who has sexual relations with his father’s former wife,16 for he dishonors his father. 27:21 ‘Cursed is the one who commits bestiality.’ 27:22 ‘Cursed is the one who has sexual relations with his sister, the daughter of either his father or mother.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:23 ‘Cursed is the one who has sexual relations with his mother-in-law.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:24 ‘Cursed is the one who makes a carved or metal image – something abhorrent to a holy God. See note on the word “abhorrent” in Deut 7:25.

27:25 ‘Cursed is the one who lies with his mother-in-law,’ then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:26 ‘Cursed is the one who has sexual relations with the daughter of his father or mother,’ then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:27 ‘Cursed is the one who desecrates his father or mother,’ then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:28 ‘Cursed is the one who perverts justice for the alien, the orphan, and the widow,’ then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:29 ‘Cursed is the one who betrays a trust,’ then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:30 ‘Cursed is the one who makes a carved or metal image – something abhorrent to a holy God. See note on the word “abhorrent” in Deut 7:25.”

10 tn The word “tribes” has been supplied here and in the following verse in the translation for clarity.
11 tn Heb “Israelite man.”
12 tn Heb “man,” but in a generic sense here.
13 tn The Hebrew term translated here “abhorrent” (qalav, to’evah) speaks of attitudes and/or behaviors so vile as to be reprehensible to a holy God. See note on the word “abhorrent” in Deut 7:25.
14 tn Heb “craftsman’s hands.”
15 tn Or “So be it!” The term is an affirmation expressing agreement with the words of the Levites.
16 tn The Levites speak again at this point; throughout this pericope the Levites pronounce the curse and the people respond with “Amen.”
17 tn The Hebrew term nāḥal (qalalah) means to treat with disdain or lack of due respect (cf. NAB, NIV, NRSV “dishonors”; NLT “despises”). It is the opposite of nasah (kaveed, “to be heavy,” that is, to treat with reverence and proper deference). To treat a parent lightly is to dishonor him or her and thus violate the fifth commandment (Deut 5:16; cf. Exod 21:17).
18 tn Heb “who lies with” (so NASB, NRSV); also in vv. 22, 23. This is a Hebrew idiom for having sexual relations (cf. NIV “who sleeps with”; NLT “who has sexual intercourse with”).
19 tn See note at Deut 22:30.
20 tn Heb “he uncovers his father’s skirt” (NASB similar). See note at Deut 22:30.
21 tn Heb “lies with any animal” (so NASB, NRSV). “To lie with” is a Hebrew euphemism for having sexual relations with someone (or in this case, some animal).
kills his neighbor in private.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:25 ‘Cursed is the one who takes a bribe to kill an innocent person.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’ 27:26 ‘Cursed is the one who refuses to keep the words of this law.’ Then all the people will say, ‘Amen!’

The Covenant Blessings

28:1 “If you indeed obey the LORD your God and are careful to observe all his commandments I am giving you today, the LORD your God will elevate you above all the nations of the earth. 28:2 All these blessings will come to you in abundance if you obey the LORD your God: 28:3 You will be blessed in the city and blessed in the field. 28:4 Your children will be blessed, as well as the produce of your soil, the offspring of your livestock, the calves of your herds, and the lambs of your flocks. 28:5 Your basket and your mixing bowl will be blessed. 28:6 You will be blessed when you come in and blessed when you go out. 28:7 The LORD will cause your enemies who attack you to be struck down before you; they will attack you from one direction but flee from you in seven different directions. 28:8 The LORD will decree blessing for you with respect to your barns and in everything you do – yes, he will bless you in the land he is giving you. 28:9 The LORD will designate you as his holy people just as he promised you, if you keep his commandments and obey him. 28:10 Then all the peoples of the earth will see that you belong to the LORD, and they will respect you. 28:11 The LORD will greatly multiply your children, the offspring of your livestock, and the produce of your soil in the land which he promised your ancestors he would give you. 28:12 The LORD will open for you his good treasure house, the heavens, to give you rain for the land in its season and to bless all you do; 28:13 The LORD will make you the head and not the tail, and you will always end up at the top and not at the bottom, if you obey his commandments which I am urging you today to be careful to do. 28:14 But you must not turn away from all the commandments I am giving you today, to either the right or left, nor pursue other gods and worship them.

Curses as Reversal of Blessings

28:15 “But if you ignore the LORD your God and are not careful to keep all his commandments and statutes I am giving you today, then all these curses will come upon you in full force: 28:16 You will be cursed in the city and cursed in the field. 28:17 Your basket and your mixing bowl will be cursed. 28:18 Your children will be cursed, as well as the produce of your soil, the calves of your herds, and the lambs of your flocks. 28:19 You will be cursed when you come in and cursed when you go out.

Curses by Disease and Drought

28:20 “The LORD will send on you a curse, confusing you and opposing you in everything you undertake until you are destroyed and quickly perish because of the evil of your deeds, in that you have forsaken me. 28:21 The LORD will plague you with deadly diseases until he has completely removed you from the land you are about to possess. 28:22 He will afflict you with weakness, fever, inflammation, infection... force you and your king 10 whom you will appoint over you to go away to a people whom you and your ancestors have not known, and you will serve other gods of wood and stone there. 28:37 You will become an occasion of horror, a proverb, and an object of ridicule to all the peoples to whom the Lord will drive you.

The Curse of Reversed Status

28:38 “You will take much seed to the field but gather little harvest, because locusts will consume it.

28:39 You will plant vineyards and cultivate them, but you will not drink wine or gather grapes, because worms will eat them.

28:40 You will have olive trees throughout your territory but you will not anoint yourself with olive oil, because the olives will drop off the trees while still unripe.

28:41 You will bear sons and daughters but not keep them, because they will be taken into captivity.

28:42 Whirling locusts 12 will take over every tree and all the produce of your soil.

28:43 The foreigners 13 who reside among you will become higher and higher over you and you will become lower and lower.

28:44 They will lend to you but you will not lend to them; they will become the lords over you.

28:45 All these curses will fall on you, pursuing and overtaking you until you are destroyed, because you would not obey the Lord your God by keeping his commandments and statutes that he has given you.

28:46 These curses 15 will be a perpetual sign and wonder with reference to you and your descendants.

The Curse of Military Siege

28:47 “Because you have not served the Lord your God joyfully and wholeheartedly with the abundance of everything you have, 28:48 instead in hunger, thirst, nakedness, and poverty you will serve your enemies whom the Lord will send against you. They 18 will place an iron yoke on your neck until they have destroyed

10 tc The LXX reads the plural “kings.”
11 tc Heb “your olives will drop off” (אָשָׁב nashal), referring to the olives dropping off before they ripen.
12 tc The Hebrew term denotes some sort of buzzing or whirring insect; some have understood this to be a type of locust (KJV, NIV, CEV), but other insects have also been suggested: “buzzing insects” (NAB); “the cricket” (NASB); “the cicada” (NRSV).
13 tc Heb “the foreigner.” This is a collective singular and has therefore been translated as plural; this includes the pronouns in the following verse, which are also singular in the Hebrew text.
14 tc Heb “commanded”; NAB, NIV, TEV “he gave you.”
15 tc Heb “they”; the referent (the curses mentioned previously) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
16 tc Heb “指挥”; (so KJV, ASV).
17 tc Heb “lack of everything.”
18 tc Heb “he” (also later in this verse). The pronoun is a collective singular referring to the enemies (cf. CEV, NLT). Many translations understand the singular pronoun to refer to the Lord (cf. NAB, NASB, NIV, NCV, NRSV, TEV).
you. 28:49 The Lord will raise up a distant nation against you, one from the other side of the earth\(^2\) as the eagle flies,\(^2\) a nation whose language you will not understand, 28:50 a nation of stern appearance that will have no regard for the elderly or pity for the young. 28:51 They\(^3\) will devour the offspring of your livestock and the produce of your soil until you are destroyed. They will not leave you with any grain, new wine, olive oil, calves of your herds,\(^8\) or lambs of your flocks\(^8\) until they have destroyed you. 28:52 They will besiege all of your villages\(^6\) until all of your high and fortified walls collapse – those in which you put your confidence throughout the land. They will besiege all your villages throughout the land the Lord your God has given you. 28:53 You will then eat your own offspring,\(^7\) the flesh of the sons and daughters the Lord your God has given you, because of the severity of the siege\(^8\) by which your enemies will constrict you. 28:54 The man among you who is by nature tender and sensitive will turn against his brother, his beloved wife, and his remaining children. 28:55 He will withhold from all of them his children’s flesh that he is eating (since there is nothing else left), because of the severity of the siege by which your enemy will constrict\(^9\) you in your villages. 28:56 Likewise, the most\(^10\) tender and delicate of your women, who would never think of putting even the sole of her foot on the ground because of her daintiness,\(^14\) will turn against her beloved husband, her sons and daughters, 28:57 and will secretly eat her afterbirth,\(^12\) and her newborn children\(^13\) (since she has nothing else),\(^14\) because of the severity of the siege by which your enemy will constrict you in your villages.

The Curse of Covenant Termination

28:58 “If you refuse to obey\(^15\) all the words of this law, the things written in this scroll, and refuse to fear this glorious and awesome name, the Lord your God, 28:59 then the Lord will increase your punishments and those of your descendants – great and long-lasting afflictions and severe, enduring illnesses. 28:60 He will infect you with all the diseases of Egypt\(^16\) that you dreaded, and they will persistently afflict you.\(^17\) 28:61 Moreover, the Lord will bring upon you every kind of sickness and plague not mentioned in this scroll of commandments,\(^18\) until you have perished. 28:62 There will be very few of you left, though at one time you were as numerous as the stars in the sky,\(^19\) because you will have disobeyed\(^20\) the Lord your God. 28:63 This is what will happen: Just as the Lord delighted to do good for you and make you numerous, he\(^24\) will take delight in destroying and decimating you. You will be uprooted from the land you are about to possess. 28:64 The Lord will scatter you among all nations, from one end of the earth to the other. There you will worship other gods that neither you nor your ancestors have known, gods of wood and stone. 28:65 Among those nations you will have no rest nor will there be a place of peaceful rest for the soles of your feet, for there the Lord will give you an anxious heart, failing eyesight, and a spirit of despair. 28:66 Your life will hang in doubt before you; you will be terrified by night and day and will have no certainty of surviving from one day to the next.\(^22\) 28:67 In the morning you will say, ‘If only it were evening!’ And in the evening you will say, ‘I wish it were morning!’ because of the things you will fear and the things you will see. 28:68 Then the Lord will make you return to Egypt by ship, over a route I said to you that you would never see again. There you will sell yourselves to your enemies as male and female slaves, but no one will buy you.”

Narrative Interlude

29:1 (28:69)\(^23\) These are the words of the covenant that the Lord commanded Moses to make with the people of Israel in the land of Moab, in addition to the covenant he had made with them at Horeb.²

The Exodus, Wandering, and Conquest Reviewed

29:2 Moses proclaimed to all Israel as follows: “You have seen all that the Lord did in the land of Egypt to Pharaoh, all his servants, and his land. 29:3 Your eyes have seen the great judgments, those signs and mighty wonders. 29:4 But to this very day the Lord has not given you an understanding mind, perceptive eyes, or discerning ears! ²⁹:⁵ I have led you through the desert for forty years. Your clothing has not worn out nor have your sandals deteriorated. ²⁹:⁶ You have eaten no bread and drunk no wine or beer – all so that you might know that I am the Lord your God! ²⁹:⁷ When you came to this place King Si-hon of Heshbon and King Og of Bashan came out to make war and we defeated them. ²⁹:⁸ Then we took their land and gave it as an inheritance to Reuben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh.

The Present Covenant Setting

²⁹:⁹ “Therefore, keep the terms of this covenant and obey them so that you may be successful in everything you do. ²⁹:¹⁰ You are standing today, all of you, before the Lord your God – the heads of your tribes, your elders, your officials, every Israelite man, ²⁹:¹¹ your infants, your wives, and the foreigners living in your encampment, those who chop wood and those who carry water – ²⁹:¹² so that you may enter by oath into the covenant the Lord your God is making with you today. ²⁹:¹³ Today he will affirm that you are his people and that he is your God, just as he promised you and as he swore by oath to your ancestors, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. ²⁹:¹⁴ It is not with you alone that I am making this covenant by oath, but with whoever stands with us here today before the Lord our God as well as those not with us here today.¹⁴

The Results of Disobedience

²⁹:¹⁶ “(For you know how we lived in the land of Egypt and how we crossed through the nations as we traveled. ²⁹:¹⁷ You have seen their detestable things and idols of wood, stone, silver, and gold. ²⁹:¹⁸ Beware that the heart of no man, woman, clan, or tribe among you turns away from the Lord our God today to pursue and serve the gods of those nations; beware that there is among you no root producing poisonous and bitter fruit. ²⁹:¹⁹ When such a person hears the words of this oath he secretly blesses himself and says, “I will have peace though I continue to walk with a stubborn spirit.” This will destroy the watered ground with the parched. ²⁹:²⁰ The Lord will be unwilling to forgive him, and his intense anger will rage against that man; all the curses written in this ¹² tn Heb “in order to establish you today to him for a people and he will be to you for God.” Verses 10-13 are one long sentence in Hebrew. The translation divides this into two sentences for stylistic reasons.

¹³ tn Heb “fathers” (also in v. 25).

¹⁴ tn This is interpreted by some English versions as a reference to generations not yet born (cf. TEV, CEV, NLT).

¹⁶ tn The Hebrew text includes “which were with them.” Verses 16-17 constitute a parenthetical comment.

¹⁷ tn Heb “yielding fruit poisonous and wormwood.” The Hebrew noun רֲשׁוֹן (‘reshon) literally means “wormwood” (so KJV, ASV, NAB, NASB), but is used figuratively for anything extremely bitter, thus here “fruit poisonous and bitter.”

¹⁸ tn Heb “he”; the referent (the subject of the warning in v. 18) has been specified in the translation for clarity.

¹⁹ tn Heb “in his heart.”

²⁰ tn Or “invokes a blessing on himself.” A formalized word of blessing is in view, the content of which appears later in the verse.

²¹ tn Heb “heart.”

²² tn Heb “thus destroying.” For stylistic reasons the translation begins a new sentence here.

²³ tn Heb “the watered with the parched.” The word “ground” is implied. The exact meaning of the phrase is uncertain although it appears to be figurative. This appears to be a proverbial observation employing a figure of speech (a merism) suggesting totality. That is, the Israelite who violates the letter and even spirit of the covenant will harm not only himself but everything he touches – “the watered and the parched.” Cf. CEV “you will cause the rest of Israel to be punished along with you.”

²⁴ tn Heb “the wrath of the Lord and his zeal.” The expression is a hendiatry, a figure in which the second noun becomes adjectival to the first.

²⁵ tn Heb “smoke,” or “smolder.”

²⁶ tn Heb “the entire oath.”
scroll will fall upon him and the Lord will obliterate his name from memory. The Lord will single him out for judgment from all the tribes of Israel according to all the curses of the covenant written in this scroll of the law. The generation to come—you, your descendants who will rise up after you, as well as the foreigner who will come from distant places—will see the afflictions of that land and the illnesses that the Lord has brought on it. The whole land will be covered with brimstone, salt, and burning debris; it will not be planted nor will it sprout or produce grass. It will resemble the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, Admah and Zeboiim, which the Lord destroyed in his intense anger.

Great anger.

Great rage and has deported them to another land, uprooted them from their land in anger, wrath, and great rage and has deported them to another land, and as is clear today. Then people will say, “Why has the Lord done all this to this land? What is this fierce, heated display of anger all about?” Then people will say, “Because they abandoned the covenant of the Lord, the God of their ancestors, which he made with them when he brought them out of the land of Egypt. They went and served other gods and worshiped them, gods they did not know and that he did not permit them to worship. That is why the Lord’s anger erupted against this land, bringing on it all the curses written in this scroll. So the Lord has uprooted them from their land in anger, wrath, and great rage and has deported them to another land, and as is clear today.” Secret things belong to the Lord our God, but those that are revealed belong to us and our descendants forever, so that we might obey all the words of this law.

The Results of Covenant Reaffirmation

Then the Lord your God will cleanse your heart and the hearts of your descendants so that you may love him with all your mind and being and so that you may live. For the Lord your God will once more rejoice over you to make you prosperous just as he rejoiced over your ancestors, if you obey the Lord your God and keep his commandments and statutes that are written in this scroll of the law. But you must turn to him with your whole mind and being.

Exhortation to Covenant Obedience

Then people will say, “Who will go up to heaven to get it for us and proclaim it to us so we may obey it?”

1 tn Or “will lie in wait against him.”
2 tn Heb “blot out his name from under the sky.”
3 tn Heb “set him apart.”
4 tn Heb “for evil”; NAB “for doom”; NASB “for adversity”; NIV “for disaster”; NRSV “for calamity.”
5 tn Heb “will say and see.” One expects a quotation to appear, but it seems to be omitted. To avoid confusion in the translation, the verb “will say” is omitted.
6 tn Heb “the anger and the wrath.” This construction is a hendiadys intended to intensify the emotion.
7 tn Heb “this great burning of anger”; KJV “the heat of this great anger.”
8 tn Heb “did not assign to them”; NASB, NRSV “had not allotted to them.”
9 tn Heb “the entire curse.”
10 tn Heb “sons” (so NASB); KJV, ASV, NIV, NRSV “children.”
11 tn Heb “the blessing and the curse.”
12 tn Heb “and you bring (them) back to your heart.”
13 tn Heb “sons” (so NASB); KJV, ASV, NAB, NIV, NRSV, NLT “children.”
14 tn Or “heart and soul” (also in vv. 6, 10).
15 tn Heb “according to all.”
16 tn Heb “the Lord your God.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons to avoid redundancy.
17 tn Heb “are at the farthest edge of the heavens.” The Hebrew term יָם (yām) may be translated “heaven(s)” or “sky” depending on the context.
18 tn Heb “the Lord your God.” See note on the second occurrence of the word “he” in v. 3.
19 tn Heb “fathers” (also later in this verse and in vv. 9, 20).
20 tn Heb “circumcise” (so KJV, NAB, NIV, NRSV); TEV “will give you and your descendants obedient hearts.” See note on the word “circumcise” in Deut 10:16.
21 tn Heb “seed” (so KJV, ASV).
22 tn Heb “commanding”; NAB “which I now enjoin on you.”
23 tn The MT reads “hand” (singular). Most versions read the plural.
24 tn Heb “the fruit of your womb” (so NAB, NIV); NRSV “of your body.”
25 tn Heb “return and.” The Hebrew verb is used idiomatically here to indicate the repetition of the following action.
26 tn The Hebrew text includes “for good.”
27 tn Heb “to the Lord your God.” See note on the second occurrence of the word “he” in v. 3.
28 tn Heb “commanding”; NAB “which I now enjoin on you.”
30:13 And it is not across the sea, as though one must say, “Who will cross over to the other side of the sea and get it for us and proclaim it to us so we may obey it?” 30:14 For the thing is very near you – it is in your mouth and in your mind so that you can do it.

30:15 “Look! I have set before you today life and prosperity on the one hand, and death and disaster on the other. 30:16 What! I am commanding you today is to love the Lord your God, to walk in his ways, and to obey his commandments, his statutes, and his ordinances. Then you will live and become numerous and the Lord your God will bless you in the land which you are about to possess. 30:17 However, if you turn aside and do not obey, but are lured away to worship and serve other gods, 30:18 I declare to you this very day that you will certainly perish! You will not extend your time in the land you are crossing the Jordan to possess. 30:19 Today I invoke heaven and earth as a witness against you that I have set life and death, blessing and curse, before you. Therefore choose life so that you and your descendants may live!

30:20 I also call on you to love the Lord your God, to obey him and be loyal to him, for he gives you life and enables you to live continually in the land the Lord promised to give to your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Succession of Moses by Joshua

31:1 Then Moses went and spoke these words to all Israel. 31:2 He said to them, “Today I am a hundred and twenty years old. I am no longer able to lead you. 31:3 As for the Lord your God, he is about to cross over before you; he will destroy these nations before you; he will destroy these nations before you and dispossess them. As for Joshua, he is about to cross before you just as the Lord has said. 31:4 The Lord will do to them just what he did to Sihon and Og, the Amorite kings, and to their land, which he destroyed. 31:5 The Lord will deliver them over to you and you will do to them according to the whole commandment I have given you. 31:6 Be strong and courageous! Do not fear or tremble before them, for the Lord your God is the one who is going with you. He will not fail you or abandon you!” 31:7 Then Moses called out to Joshua in the presence of all Israel, “Be strong and courageous, for you will accompany these people to the land that the Lord promised to give their ancestors; and you will enable them to inherit it. 31:8 The Lord is indeed going before you – he will be with you; he will not fail you or abandon you. Do not be afraid or discouraged!”

The Deposit of the Covenant Text

31:9 Then Moses wrote down this law and gave it to the Levitical priests, who carry the ark of the Lord’s covenant, and to all Israel’s elders.

31:10 He commanded them: “At the end of seven years, at the appointed time of the cancellation of debts, at the Feast of Temporary Shelters, when all Israel comes to appear before the Lord your God in the place he chooses, you must read this law before them within their hearing. Gather the people – men, women, and children, as well as the resident foreigners in your villages – so they may hear and thus learn about and fear the Lord your God and carefully obey all the words of this law. 31:13 Then their children, who have not known this law, will also hear about and learn to fear the Lord your God for as long as you live in the land you are crossing the Jordan to possess.”

1 tn Heb “heart.”
2 tc A number of LXX mss insert before this verse, “if you obey the commandments of the Lord your God,” thus translating י attainment (‘asher) as “which” and the rest as “I am commanding you today, to love, etc., “then you will live,” etc.
3 tn Heb “which you are going there to possess.” This has been simplified in the translation for stylistic reasons.
4 tn Heb “your heart,” as a metonymy for the person.
5 tn The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation indicates with “certainly.”
6 tn Heb “to go there to possess it.”
7 tn The words “I also call on you” are supplied in the translation for stylistic reasons. In the Hebrew text vv. 19-20 are one long sentence, which the translation divides into two.
8 tn Heb “he is your life and the length of your days to live.”
9 tc For the MT reading יassyel yeh (‘assyel yeh”), the LXX and Qumran have יassyel yeh (“assyel yeh”), “he finished”; So Moses finished speaking,” etc. The difficult reading of the MT favors its authenticity.
10 tc In the MT this refers to the words that follow (cf. NIV, NCV).
11 tc Or “am no longer able to lead you” (NIV, NLT); Heb “am no longer able to go out and come in.”
12 tn The Hebrew text includes “and said to him,” This has not been included in the translation for stylistic reasons.
13 tn Heb “fathers” (also in v. 20).
14 tn Heb “Moses.” The pronoun has been used in the translation for stylistic reasons.
15 tn The Hebrew term יsamp (sh•mitah), a derivative of the verb י赶赴 (shamut, “to release; to relinquish”), refers to the procedure whereby debts of all fellow Israelites were to be canceled. Since the Feast of Tabernacles celebrated God’s own deliverance of and provision for his people, this was an appropriate time for Israelites to release one another. See note on this word at Deut 15:1.
16 tn The Hebrew phrase יקוק (khag hassukot, “[festival of] huts” or “shelters”) is traditionally known as the Feast of Tabernacles. See note on the name of the festival in Deut 16:13.
17 sn For the regulations on this annual festival see Deut 16:13-15.
18 tn Heb “before all Israel.”
19 tn The phrase “this law” is not in the Hebrew text, but English style requires an object for the verb here. Other translations also supply the object which is otherwise implicit (cf. NIV “who do not know this law”; TEV “who have never heard the Law of the Lord your God”).
31:14 Then the Lord said to Moses, “The day of your death is near. Summon Joshua and present yourselves in the tent of meeting so that I can commission him.” So Moses and Joshua presented themselves in the tent of meeting.

31:15 The Lord appeared in the tent in a pillar of cloud that stood above the door of the tent. Then the Lord said to Moses, “You are about to die, and then these people will begin to prostitute themselves with the foreign gods of the land into which they are going. They will reject me and break my covenant that I have made with them. At that time my anger will erupt against them and I will abandon them and hide my face from them until they are devoted. Many disasters and distresses will overcome them so that they will say at that time, ‘Have not these disasters overcome us because our God is not among us?’”

Note: The text contains numerous references to the Lord (Yahweh) and uses the plural “they” to emphasize the collective nature of Israel's sin and disobedience. The translation may reflect the Lord's desire to preserve the covenant even after the people's departure from Sinai, indicating a promise of continual presence in their new land.

Anticipation of Disobedience

31:24 When Moses finished writing on a scroll the words of this law in their entirety, the Lord knew that the Israelites would test him, that they would sin and would pay for their sins, and that they would abandon the Lord after what he had done for them. The Lord gave Moses these words of the song that he was to teach the Israelites:

Footnotes:
1 The LXX reads “by the door of the tent” in line with v. 10 but also, perhaps, as a reflection of its tendency to avoid over-familiarity with Yahweh and his transcendence.
2 Heb “tent of assembly,” ‘ Shader, ochel mo’ed; this is not always the same as the tabernacle, which is usually called ש‹דך, mishkan, “dwelling-place”); a reference to its being invested with God’s presence. The “tent of meeting” was erected earlier than the tabernacle and was the place where Yahweh occasionally appeared, especially to Moses (cf. Exod 18:7-16; 33:7-11; Num 11:16, 24, 26; 12:4).
3 Heb “I will command him.”
4 Heb “and the pillar of cloud.” This phrase was not repeated in the translation; a relative clause was used instead.
5 In line with you fathers” (so NASB); NRSV “ancestors.”
6 Heb “he.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “they,” which is necessary in any case in the translation because of contemporary English style. The third person singular also occurs in the Hebrew text twice more in this verse, three times in v. 17, once in v. 18, five times in v. 20, and four times in v. 21. Each time it is translated as third person plural for stylistic reasons.
7 Heb “he.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “they,” which is necessary in any case in the translation because of contemporary English style.
8 Or “abandon” (TEV, NLT).
9 In line with “him.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “them.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.
10 Heb “on that day.” This same expression also appears later in the verse and in v. 18.
11 Heb “him.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “them.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.
12 Heb “find.”
13 Heb “him.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “them.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.

15 Heb “evils.”
16 Heb “me.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “us,” which is necessary in any case in the translation because of contemporary English style.
17 Heb “my.”
18 Heb “me.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “us,” which is necessary in any case in the translation because of contemporary English style.
19 The Hebrew text uses the infinitive absolute for emphasis, which the translation indicates with “certainly.”

21 Heb “him.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “them.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.
22 Heb “his.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “their.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.
23 Heb “he.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “they.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.
24 Heb “and are satisfied.”
25 Heb “he.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “they.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.
26 Heb “Then it will come to pass that.”
27 Heb “him.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “them.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.
28 Heb “this.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “their.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.
29 Heb “and are satisfied.”
30 Heb “he.” Smr, LXX, and the Targums read the plural “they.” See note on the first occurrence of “they” in v. 16.

The Commissioning of Joshua

31:18 But I will certainly hide myself at that time because of all the wickedness they will have done by turning to other gods. 31:19 Now write down for yourselves the following song and teach it to the Israelites. Put it into their very mouths so that this song may serve as my witness against the Israelites! 31:20 For after I have brought them to the land I promised to their ancestors – one flowing with milk and honey – and they have eaten their fill and become fat, then they will turn to other gods and worship them; they will reject me and break my covenant. 31:21 Then when many disasters and distresses overcome them, this song will testify against them, for their descendants will not forget it. I know the intentions they have in mind today, even before I bring them to the land I have promised. 31:22 So on that day Moses wrote down this song and taught it to the Israelites, and the Lord commissioned Joshua son of Nun, “Be strong and courageous, for you will take the Israelites to the land I have promised them, and I will be with you.”
DEUTERONOMY 31:25

31:25 he commanded the Levites who carried the ark of the LORD’s covenant, 31:26 “Take this scroll of the law and place it beside the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God. It will remain there as a witness against you, 31:27 for I know about your rebellion and stubbornness. Indeed, even while I have been living among you to this very day, you have rebelled against the LORD; you will be even more rebellious after my death!

31:28 Gather to me all your tribal elders and officials so I can speak to them directly about these things and call the heavens and the earth to witness against them.

31:29 For I know that after I die you will totally corrupt yourselves and turn away from the path I have commanded you to walk. Disaster will come upon Israel, which the translation indicates with “totally.”

31:30 Then Moses recited the words of this song from start to finish in the hearing of the whole assembly of Israel.

Invocation of Witnesses

32:1 Listen, O heavens, and I will speak; hear, O earth, the words of my mouth, 32:2 My teaching will drop like the rain, as rain drops upon the grass, and showers upon new growth.

32:3 For I will proclaim the name of the LORD; you must acknowledge the greatness of our God.

32:4 As for the Rock, his work is perfect, for all his ways are just. He is a reliable God who is never unjust, he is fair and upright.

32:5 His people have been unfaithful to him;

they have not acted like his children—this is their sin.

They are a perverse and deceitful generation.

32:6 Is this how you repay the Lord, you foolish, unwise people? Is he not your father, your Creator? He has made you and established you.

32:7 Remember the ancient days; bear in mind the years of past generations.

32:8 When the Most High gave the nations their inheritance, when he divided up humankind, he set the boundaries of the peoples, according to the number of the heathen assembly.

12 tn Heb “(they are) not his sons.”
13 tn Heb “defect” (so NASB). This highly elliptical line suggests that Israel’s major fault was its failure to act like God’s people; in fact, they acted quite the contrary.
15 tn Or “treat” (TEV).
16 tc The Syriac, Targum, and Vulgate read 2nd person masculine singular whereas the MT has 2nd person masculine plural. The former is preferred, the latter perhaps being a misreading (בִּינוּ for בֶּן־בֵּית [binit], “sons of Israel”). Both the preceding (“remember”) and following (“ask”) imperatives are singular forms in the Hebrew text.
17 tn Heb “generation and generation.” The repetition of the singular noun here singles out each of the successive past generations. See BHS 116 §7.2.3b.
18 tn The Hebrew term אֱלֹיָם (’elōyām) is an abbreviated form of the divine name El Elyon, frequently translated “God Most High” (so here NCV, CEV) or something similar. This full name (or epithet) occurs only in Gen 14, though the two elements are parallel in Ps 73:11; 107:11; etc. Here it is clear that Elyon has to do with the nations in general whereas in v. 9, by contrast, Yahweh relates specifically to Israel. See T. Fretheim, NIDOTTE 1:400-401. The title depicts God as the sovereign ruler of the world, who is enthroned high above his dominion.
19 tn Heb “the sons of man” (so NASB); or “the sons of Adam” (so KJV).
20 tc Heb “the sons of Israel.” The idea, perhaps, is that Israel was central to Yahweh’s purposes and all other nations were arranged and distributed according to how they related to Israel. See S. R. Driver, Deuteronomy (ICC), 355-56. For the MT see S. Heiser, “Deuteronomy 32:8 and the Sons of God,” BSac 158 (2001): 52-74.
For the Lord’s allotment is his people, Jacob is his special possession.

The Lord found him in a desolate land, in an empty wasteland where animals howl. He continually guarded him and taught him; he continually protected him like the pupil of his eye.

Like an eagle that stirs up its nest, that hovers over its young, so the Lord spread out his wings and took him, he lifted him up on his pinions.

The Lord alone was guiding him, no foreign god was with him.

He enabled him to travel over the high terrain of the land, and he ate of the produce of the fields. He provided honey for him from the cliffs, and olive oil from the hardest of rocks, butter from the herd and milk from the flock, along with the fat of lambs, rams and goats of Bashan, along with the best of the kernels of wheat; and from the juice of grapes you drank wine.

Israel’s Rebellion

But Jeshurun became fat and kicked, you got fat, thick, and stuffed! Then he deserted the God who made him, and treated the Rock who saved him with contempt.

They made him jealous with other gods, they enraged him with abhorrent idols.

They sacrificed to demons, not God, to gods they had not known; to new gods who had recently come along, gods your ancestors had not known about.

You have forgotten the Rock who fathered you, and put out of mind the God who gave you birth.

He spread out his wings and protective covering, like the mother bird over her little birds. The reference is to “his people/Jacob” (cf. v. 9), that is, Israel (using a collective singular). The singular pronouns are replaced by plural ones throughout vv. 10-14 by some English versions as an aid to the modern reader (cf. NAB, NCV, TEV, NLT). The distinctive form of the suffix on this verb form indicates that the verb is an imperfect, not a preterite. As such it simply states the action factually. See A. F. Rainey, “The Ancient Hebrew Prefix Conjugation in the Light of Amarnah Canaanite,” Hebrew Studies 27 (1986): 15-16.

The word “howling” is derived from a verbal root that typically refers to the wailing of mourners. Here it likely refers to the howling of desert animals, or perhaps to the howling wind, in which case one may translate, “in an empty, windy wasteland.”

2 The form of the suffix on this verbal form indicates that the verb is a preterite, not an imperfect. As such it simply states the action factually. Note as well the preterites with vav (i) consecutive that follow in the verse.

3 The reference is to “his people/Jacob” (cf. v. 9), that is, Israel (using a collective singular). The singular pronouns are replaced by plural ones throughout vv. 10-14 by some English versions as an aid to the modern reader (cf. NAB, NCV, TEV, NLT). The distinctive form of the suffix on this verb form indicates that the verb is an imperfect, not a preterite. As such it simply states the action factually. See A. F. Rainey, “The Ancient Hebrew Prefix Conjugation in the Light of Amarnah Canaanite,” Hebrew Studies 27 (1986): 15-16.

4 The form of the suffix on this verbal form indicates that the verb is a preterite, not an imperfect. As such it simply states the action factually. Note as well the preterites with vav (i) consecutive that follow in the verse.

5 The distinctive form of the suffix on this verb form indicates that the verb is an imperfect, not a preterite. As such it draws attention to God’s continuing guidance during the period in view.

6 “The Lord” (cf. v. 18) has been specified in the translation for clarity.

7 The distinctive form of the suffix on this verb form indicates that the verb is an imperfect, not a preterite. As such it draws attention to God’s continuing protection during the period in view. See A. F. Rainey, “The Ancient Hebrew Prefix Conjugation in the Light of Amarnah Canaanite,” Hebrew Studies 27 (1986): 15-16.

8 “He gave him understanding.” The form of the suffix on this verb form indicates that the verb is a preterite, not an imperfect. As such it simply states the action factually. See A. F. Rainey, “The Ancient Hebrew Prefix Conjugation in the Light of Amarnah Canaanite,” Hebrew Studies 27 (1986): 15-16.

9 “The little man,” The term יישור (ishon) means literally “little man,” perhaps because when one looks into another’s eyes he sees himself reflected there in miniature. See A. Harman, NIDOTTE 1:391.

10 The prefixed verbal form is an imperfect, indicating habitual or typical behavior. The parallel verb (cf. “hovers” in the next line) is used in the same manner.

11 “He,” the referent (the Lord) has been specified in the translation for clarity.

12 The form of the suffix on this and the following verb forms (cf. “lifted him up”) indicates that the verbs are preterites, not imperfetcts. As such they simply state the action factually. The use of the preterite here suggests that the preceding verb (cf. “spread out”) is preterite as well.

13 The form of the suffix on this verb form indicates that the verb is an imperfect, not a preterite. As such it draws attention to God’s continuing guidance during the period in view.

14 The reference is to “his portion of his inheritance.” The LXX and Smr add “Israel” and BHS suggests the reconstruction: “The Lord’s allotment is Jacob, the portion of his inheritance is Israel” (cf. NAB). While providing good parallelism, it destroys a fine chiasitic structure: “allotment” (a), “his people” (b), “Jacob” (b’), and “inheritance” (a’).

15 The form of the suffix on this verbal form indicates that the verb is an imperfect, not a preterite. As such it simply states the action factually. See A. F. Rainey, “The Ancient Hebrew Prefix Conjugation in the Light of Amarnah Canaanite,” Hebrew Studies 27 (1986): 15-16.

16 “He made him suck honey from the rock.”

18 “Merrill, Deuteronomy (NAC), 415; cf. TEV “their olive trees flourished in stony ground.”

19 To make the continuity of the referent clear, some English versions substitute “Jacob” here (NAB, NRSV) while others replace “Jeshurun” with “Israel” (NAB, NCV, CEV, NLT) or “the Lord’s people” (TEV).

20 The LXX reads the third person masculine singular (“he”) for the MT second person masculine singular (“you”), but such alterations are unnecessary in Hebrew poetic texts where subjects fluctuate frequently and without warning.

21 “Abhorrent (things)” (cf. NRSV). A number of English versions understand this as referring to “idols” (NAB, NIV, NCV, CEV), while NLT supplies “acts.”
But the LORD took note and despised them because his sons and daughters enraged him.
He said, ‘I will reject them,²
I will see what will happen to them;
for they are a perverse generation, children³ who show no loyalty.
They have made me jealous³ with false gods,⁴ enraging me with their worthless gods,⁵ so I will make them jealous with a people they do not recognize,⁶ with a nation slow to learn⁷ I will enrage them.
For a fire has been kindled by my anger, and it burns to lowest Sheol;⁸
it consumes the earth and its produce, and ignites the foundations of the mountains.
I will increase their disasters,
I will use up my arrows on them.
They will be starved by famine, eaten by plague, and bitterly stung;¹⁰
I will send the teeth of wild animals against them, along with the poison of creatures that crawl in the dust.
The sword will make people childless outside,
and terror will do so inside;
they will destroy¹¹ both the young man and the virgin, the infant and the gray-haired man.

The Weakness of Other Gods

I said, ‘I want to cut them in pieces,¹²
I want to make people forget they ever existed.
But I fear the reaction¹³ of their enemies, for¹⁴ their adversaries would misunderstand and say, “Our power is great,¹⁵ and the LORD has not done all this!”¹⁶
They are a nation devoid of wisdom, and there is no understanding among them.
I wish that they were wise and could understand this, and that they could comprehend what will happen to them.”

How can one man chase a thousand and two pursue ten thousand; unless their Rock had delivered them up,¹⁷ and the LORD had handed them over?
For our enemies¹⁸ rock is not like our Rock, as even our enemies concede.
For their vine is from the stock¹⁹ of Sodom, and from the fields of Gomorrah.²⁰
Their grapes contain venom, their clusters of grapes are bitter.
Their wine is snakes’ poison,
the deadly venom of cobras.
“Is this not stored up with me?” says the LORD,²¹
“Is it not sealed up in my storehouses?

1 Heb “I will hide my face from them.”
2 Heb “sons” (so NAB, NASB); TEV “unfaithful people.”
3 sn They have made me jealous. The “jealousy” of God is not a spirit of pettiness prompted by his insecurity, but righteous indignation caused by the disloyalty of his people to his covenant grace (see note on the word “God” in Deut 4:24).
The jealousy of Israel, however (see next line), will be envy because of God’s lavish attention to another nation. This is an ironic wordplay. See H. Peels, HALOT 1091-92.
4 tn Heb “what is not a god,” or a “nondentity.” The Hebrew term used here to refer pejoratively to the false gods is בַּעַל, “futile” or “futility”), used frequently in Ecclesiastes (e.g., Eccl 1:1, “Futile! Futile!” laments the Teacher, “Absolutely futile! Everything is futile!”).
5 tn Heb “what is not a people,” or a “nonpeople.” The “non-people” (אָדָם לֹא־עָם, לֹא־עָם) referred to here are Gentiles who someday would become God’s people in the fullest sense (cf.
Hos 1:9; 2:23).
6 tn Heb “a foolish nation” (so KJV, NAB, NRSV); NIV “a nation that has no understanding”; NLT “I will provoke their fury
by blessing the foolish Gentiles.”
7 tn Heb “a foolish nation” (so KJV, NAB, NRSV); NIV “a nation that has no understanding”; NLT “I will provoke their fury
by blessing the foolish Gentiles.”
8 tn Or “to the lowest depths of the earth”; cf. NAB “to the depths of the nether world,” NLT “to the depths of the earth.”
9 sn Sheol refers here not to hell and hellfire – a much later concept – but to the innermost parts of the earth, as low down as one could get. The parallel with “the foundations of the mountains” makes this clear (cf. Ps 119:17; 16:10; 139:8; Isa 14:9, 15; Amos 9:2).
10 tn Heb “upon them.”
11 sn The Hebrew term כֹּסְם (qets) is probably metaphorical here for the sting of a disease (HALOT 1091-92 s.v.).
12 tn The LXX reads “I said I would scatter them.” This reading is followed by a number of English versions (e.g., KJV, ASV, NIV, NCV, NRSV, NLT, CEV).
13 tn Heb “anger.”
14 tn Heb “lest.”
15 tn Heb “Our hand is high.” Cf. NAB “Our own hand won the victory.”
16 tn The words “man” and “of them” are not in the Hebrew text, but are supplied in the translation for clarity.
17 tn Heb “sold them” (so NAB, NIV, NRSV, NLT).
18 tn Heb “their,” but the referent (enemies) is specified in the translation for the sake of clarity.
19 tn Heb “vine.”
20 sn Sodom...Gomorrah. The term “vine” is a reference to the pagan deities which, the passage says, find their ultimate source in Sodom and Gomorrah, that is, in the soil of perversion exemplified by these places (cf. Gen 18:20; 19:4-28; Isa
1:10; 3:9; Jer 23:14; Lam 4:6; Ezek 16:44-52; Matt 10:15; 21 tn Verses 34-35 appear to be a quotation of the LORD and so the introductory phrase “says the LORD” is supplied in the translation.
32:35 I will get revenge and pay them back at the time their foot slips; for the day of their disaster is near, and the impending judgment is rushing upon them!

32:36 The LORD will judge his people, and will change his plans concerning his servants; when he sees that their power has disappeared, and that no one is left, whether confined or set free.

32:37 He will say, “Where are their gods, the rock in whom they sought security, who ate the best of their sacrifices, and drank the wine of their drink offerings? Let them rise and help you; let them be your refuge!

The Vindication of the LORD

32:39 “See now that I, indeed I, am he!” says the LORD, “and there is no other god besides me. I kill and give life, I smash and I heal, and none can resist my power.

32:40 For I raise up my hand to heaven, and say, ‘As surely as I live forever, I will sharpen my lightning-like sword, and my hand will grasp hold of the weapon of judgment; I will execute vengeance on my foes, and repay those who hate me!

32:41 I will make my arrows drunk with blood, and my sword will devour flesh — the blood of the slaughtered and captured, the chief of the enemy’s leaders!’

32:42 I will cry out, O nations, with my people, and none can withstand me!

32:43 Cry out, O nations, with my people; for he will avenge his servants’ blood; he will take vengeance against his enemies, and make atonement for his land and people.

Narrative Interlude

32:44 Then Moses went with Joshua son of Nun and recited all the words of this song to the people. 32:45 When Moses finished reciting all these words to all Israel 32:46 he said to them, “Keep in mind all the words I am solemnly proclaiming to you today; you must command your children to observe carefully all the words of this law. 32:47 For this is no idle word for you — it is your life! By this word you will live a long time in the land you are about to cross the Jordan to possess.”

Instructions about Moses’ Death

32:48 Then the LORD said to Moses that same day, 32:49 “Go up to this Abarim hill country, to Mount Nebo (which is in the land of Moab opposite Jericho) and look at the land of Canaan that I am giving to the Israelites as a possession. 32:50 You will die on the mountain that you ascend and join your deceased ancestors, just as Aaron your brother died on Mount Hor and joined his deceased ancestors, 32:51 for both of you rebelled against me among the Israelites at the waters of Meribah Kadesh in the desert of Zin when you did not show me proper respect among the Israelites. 32:52 You will see the land before you, but you will not enter the land that I am giving to the Israelites.”

Introduction to the Blessing of Moses

33:1 This is the blessing Moses the man of God pronounced upon the Israelites before his death. 33:2 He said:

\( ^1 \text{tn} \) Heb “prepared things,” “impending things.” See BDB 800 s.v. יָכַב.

\( ^2 \text{tn} \) The translation understands the verb in the sense of “be grieved, relent” (cf. HALOT 689 s.v.כָּב; hitp). cf. KJV, ASV “repent himself”; NLT “will change his mind.” Another option is to translate “will show compassion to” (see BDB 637 s.v. כָּב; cf. NASB, NIV, NRSV.

\( ^3 \text{tn} \) Verses 39-42 appear to be a quotation of the LORD and so the introductory phrase “says the LORD” is supplied in the translation for clarity.

\( ^4 \text{tn} \) Heb “deliver from” (so NRSV, NLT).

\( ^5 \text{tn} \) Heb “judgment.” This is a metonymy, a figure of speech in which the effect (judgment) is employed as an instrument (sword, spear, or the like), the means, by which it is brought about.

\( ^6 \text{tn} \) The Hebrew term חָוָה (same, “hate”) in this covenant context speaks of those who reject Yahweh’s covenant outures, that is, who disobey its stipulations (see note on the word “rejecting” in Deut 5:9; also see Deut 7:10; 2 Chr 19:2; Ps 81:15; 139:20-21).

\( ^7 \text{tn} \) Or “head” (the same Hebrew word can mean “head” in the sense of “leader, chieffiant” or “head” in the sense of body part).

\( ^8 \text{tn} \) Heb “Hoshea” (so KJV, ASV), another name for the same individual (cf. Num 13:8, 16).

\( ^9 \text{sn} \) Abarim. This refers to the high plateau region of the Transjordan, the highest elevation of which is Mount Pisgah (or Nebo; cf. Deut 34:1). See also the note on the name “Pisgah” in Deut 3:27.

\( ^10 \text{sn} \) Map for the location of Jericho see Map5-B2; Map6-E1; Map7-E1; Map8-E3; Map10-A2; Map11-A1.

\( ^11 \text{tn} \) In the Hebrew text the forms translated “you will die... and join” are imperatives, but the actions in view cannot really be commanded. The imperative is used here in a rhetorical, emphatic manner to indicate the certainty of Moses’ death on the mountain. On the rhetorical usage of the imperative see IBHS 572 §34.4c.

\( ^12 \text{tn} \) Heb “be gathered to your people.” The same phrase occurs again later in this verse.

\( ^13 \text{sn} \) Mount Hor. See note on the name “Moses” in Deut 10:6.

\( ^14 \text{tn} \) The use of the plural (“you”) in the Hebrew text suggests that Moses and Aaron are both in view here, since both had rebelled at some time or other, if not at Meribah Kadesh then elsewhere (cf. Num 20:24; 27-14).

\( ^15 \text{tn} \) Heb “did not esteem me holy.” Cf. NIV “did not uphold my holiness”; NLT “failed to demonstrate my holiness.”
Blessing on Reuben

33:6 May Reuben live and not die, and may his people multiply.

Blessing on Judah

33:7 And this is the blessing 16 to Judah. He said, Listen, O LORD, to Judah’s voice, and bring him to his people. May his power be great, and may you help him against his foes.

Blessing on Levi

33:8 Of Levi he said: Your Thummim and Urim 17 belong to your godly one, whose authority you challenged at Massah, 19 and with whom you argued at the waters of Meribah. 20

33:9 He said to his father and mother, “I have not seen him,” 21 and he did not acknowledge his own brothers or know his own children, for they kept your word, and guarded your covenant.

33:10 They will teach Jacob your ordinances and Israel your law; they will offer incense as a pleasant odor, and a whole offering on your altar.

33:11 Bless, O LORD, his goods, and be pleased with his efforts; undercut the legs 22 of any who attack him, and of those who hate him, so that they cannot stand.

though the tribe of Simeon is curiously missing from the list.

15 tn Heb “and [not] may his men be few” (cf. KJV, NASB, NIV).

16 tn The words “the blessing” are supplied in the translation for clarity and stylistic reasons.

17 sn Thummim and Urim. These terms, whose meaning is uncertain, refer to sacred stones carried in a pouch on the breastplate of the high priest and examined on occasion as a means of ascertaining God’s will or direction. See Exod 28:30; Lev 8:8; Num 27:21; 1 Sam 28:6. See also C. Van Dam, NIDOTTE 1:329-31.

18 tn Heb “godly man.” The reference is probably to Moses as representative of the whole tribe of Levi.

19 sn Massah means “testing” in Hebrew; the name is a wordplay on what took place there. Cf. Exod 17:7; Deut 6:16; 9:22; Ps 95:8-9.

20 sn Meribah means “contention, argument” in Hebrew; this is another wordplay on the incident that took place there. Cf. Num 20:13, 24; Ps 106:32.

21 sn This statement no doubt alludes to the Levites’ destruction of their own fellow tribesmen following the golden calf incident (Exod 32:25-29).

22 sn Heb “smash the sinews [or “loins,” so many English versions].” This part of the body was considered to be center of one’s strength (cf. Job 40:16; Ps 69:24; Prov 31:17; Nah 2:2, 11). See J. H. Tigay, Deuteronomy (JPSTC), 325.
Blessing on Benjamin

33:12 Of Benjamin he said:
The beloved of the Lord will live safely by him;
he protects him all the time, and the Lord places him on his chest.

Blessing on Joseph

33:13 Of Joseph he said:
May the Lord bless his land with the harvest produced by the sky, by the dew,
and by the depths crouching beneath;
33:14 with the harvest produced by the daylight and by the moonlight;
33:15 with the best of the ancient mountains and the harvest produced by the age-old hills; 33:16 with the harvest of the earth and its fullness and the pleasure of him who resided in the burning bush.
May blessing rest on Joseph’s head, and on the top of the head of the one set apart from his brothers.
33:17 May the firstborn of his bull bring him honor, and may his horns be those of a wild ox;
with them may he gore all peoples, all the far reaches of the earth.
They are the ten thousands of Ephraim, and they are the thousands of Manasseh.

Blessing on Zebulun and Issachar

33:18 Of Zebulun he said:
Rejoice, Zebulun, when you go outside,
and Issachar, when you are in your tents.

33:19 They will summon peoples to the mountain, there they will sacrifice proper sacrifices;
for they will enjoy the abundance of the seas, and the hidden treasures of the shores.

Blessing on Gad

33:20 Of Gad he said:
Blessed be the one who enlarges Gad.
Like a lioness he will dwell;
he will tear at an arm – indeed, a scalp.
33:21 He has selected the best part for himself, for the portion of the ruler is set aside there;
he came with the leaders of the people, he obeyed the righteous laws of the Lord and his ordinances with Israel.

Blessing on Dan

33:22 Of Dan he said:
Dan is a lion’s cub;
he will leap forth from Bashan.

Blessing on Naphtali

33:23 Of Naphtali he said:
O Naphtali, overflowing with favor, and full of the beauty of the earth.

Blessing on Asher

33:24 Of Asher he said:
Asher is blessed with children, may he be favored by his brothers and may he dip his foot in olive oil.
33:25 The bars of your gates will be made of iron and bronze, and may you have lifelong strength.

1 tn Heb “he”; the referent (the Lord) has been specified in the translation for clarity.
2 tn Heb “between his shoulders.” This suggests the scene in John 13:23 with the Beloved Disciple.
3 tn Heb “from the harvest of the heavens.” The referent appears to be good crops produced by the rain that falls from the sky.
4 tn Heb “going forth of the sun.”
5 tn Heb “and from the harvest of the yield of.” This has been simplified in the translation to avoid redundancy.
6 tn Heb “the moon.” Many English versions regard this as a reference to “months” (“moons”) rather than the moon itself (cf. NAB, NASB, NRSV, NLT).
7 tn Heb “head” or “top.”
8 tn The expression “him who resided in the bush” is frequently understood as a reference to the appearance of the Lord to Moses at Sinai from a burning bush (so NIV, NOV, TEV, CEV, NLT; cf. Exod 2:2-6; 3:2, 4). To make this reference clear the word “burning” is supplied in the translation.
9 sn This apparently refers to Joseph’s Joseph’s special status among his brothers as a result of his being chosen by God to save the family from the famine and to lead Egypt.
10 sn Ephraim and Manasseh were the sons of Joseph who became founders of the two tribes into which Joseph’s descendants were split (Gen 48:19-20). Jacob’s blessing granted favored status to Ephraim; this is probably why Ephraim is viewed here as more numerous than Manasseh.
General Praise and Blessing
33:26 There is no one like God, O Jeshurun, who rides through the sky to help you, on the clouds in majesty. 33:27 The everlasting God is a refuge, and underneath you are his eternal arms; he has driven out enemies before you, and has said, “Destroy!” 33:28 Israel lives in safety, the fountain of Jacob is quite secure, in a land of grain and new wine; indeed, its heavens rain down dew. 33:29 You have joy, Israel! Who is like you? You are a people delivered by the LORD, your protective shield and your exalted sword. May your enemies cringe before you; may you trample on their backs.

The Death of Moses
34:1 Then Moses ascended from the deserts of Moab to Mount Nebo, to the summit of Pisgah, which is opposite Jericho. The LORD showed him the whole land – Gilead to Dan, 34:2 and all of Naphtali, the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, all the land of Judah as far as the distant sea, 34:3 the Negev, and the plain of Jericho, the city of the date palm trees, as far as Zoar. 34:4 Then the LORD said to him, “This is the land I promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob when I said, ‘I will give it to your descendants.’ I have let you see it, but you will not cross over there.”

34:5 So Moses, the servant of the LORD, died there in the land of Moab as the LORD had said. 34:6 He buried him in the land of Moab near Beth Peor, but no one knows his exact burial place to this very day. 34:7 Moses was 120 years old when he died, but his eye was not dull nor had his vitality departed. 34:8 The Israelites mourned for Moses in the deserts of Moab for thirty days; then the days of mourning for Moses ended.

The Epitaph of Moses
34:9 Now Joshua son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom, for Moses had placed his hands on him; and the Israelites listened to him and did just what the LORD had commanded Moses.

34:10 No prophet ever again arose in Israel like Moses, who knew the LORD face to face. 34:11 He did all the signs and wonders the LORD had sent him to do in the land of Egypt, to Pharaoh, all his servants, and the whole land, 34:12 and he displayed great power and awesome might in view of all Israel.

1 sn Jeshurun is a term of affection referring to Israel, derived from the Hebrew verb ישר (yashar, “be upright”). See note on the term in Deut 32:15.
2 tn Or “(who) rides (on) the heavens” (cf. NIV, NRSV, NLT). This title depicts Israel’s God as sovereign over the elements of the storm (cf. Ps 68:33). The use of the phrase here may be polemical; Moses may be asserting that Israel’s God, not Baal (called the “rider of the clouds” in the Ugaritic myths), is the true divine king (cf. v. 5) who controls the elements of the storm, grants agricultural prosperity, and delivers his people from their enemies. See R. B. Chisholm, Jr., “The Polemic against Baalism in Israel’s Early History and Literature,” BSac 151 (1994): 275.
3 tn Heb “and from under, arms of perpetuity.” The words “you” and “his” are supplied in the translation for clarification. Some has perceived this line to be problematic and have offered alternative translations that differ significantly from the present translation: “He spread out the primal tent; he extended the ancient canopy” (NAB); “He subdues the ancient gods, shatters the forces of old” (NRSV). These are based on alternate meanings or conjectural emendations rather than textual variants in the MSS and versions.
4 tn Heb “all alone.” The idea is that such vital resources as water will some day no longer need protection because God will provide security.
5 tn Or “skies.” The Hebrew term השמים (shamayim) may be translated “heaven(s)” or “sky” depending on the context.
6 tn Or perhaps “drizzle, showers.” See note at Deut 32:2.
7 sn For the geography involved, see note on the term “Pisgah” in Deut 3:17.
8 sn For the location of Jericho see Map 5:B2; Map 6:E1; Map 7:E1; Map 8:E3; Map 10:A2; Map 11:A1.
9 tn Heb “seed” (so KJV, ASV).
10 tn The Hebrew text includes “with your eyes,” but this is redundant in English and is left untranslated.
11 tc Smr and some LXX MSS read “they buried him,” that is, the Israelites. The MT reads “he buried him,” meaning in the context that “the LORD buried him.” This understanding, combined with the statement at the end of the verse that Moses’ burial place is unknown, gave rise to traditions during the intertestamental period that are reflected in the NT in Jude 9 and in OT pseudopigraphic works like the Assumption of Moses.
12 tn Or “dimmed.” The term could refer to dull appearance or to dimness caused by some loss of visual acuity.
13 tn Heb “sap.” That is, he was still in possession of his faculties or liveliness.
14 sn See Num 27:18.
15 sn See Num 12:8; Deut 18:15-18.
16 tn Heb “to,” “with respect to.” In the Hebrew text vv. 10-12 are one long sentence. For stylistic reasons the translation divides this into two, using the verb “he did” at the beginning of v. 11 and “he displayed” at the beginning of v. 12.
17 tn Heb “strong hand.”
18 tn The Hebrew text of v. 12 reads literally, “with respect to all the strong hand and with respect to all the awesome greatness which Moses did before the eyes of all Israel.”
